President Eisenhower Tells Nation:

Peace 'Our Policy'

Western Power 'A Deterrent' To War

By M. ARROWSMITH

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower — in the face of Democratic criticism of the Republican regime's foreign policy—declared Wednesday night his administration has "come far" in thwarting Communist aggression and toward winning lasting world peace.

The chief executive told a nationwide television and radio audience "the persistently aggressive design" of Russia and Red China "shows no evidence of genuine change."

But the "awesome" military might of America and the other free nations is "a deterrent to war," Eisenhower said at a dinner marking the 300th anniversary of Jewish life in America.

That might, the President told an applauding 1,800 diners at the Sheraton-Astor Hotel, will be kept ready "at all times, in today's uncertain world . . . to deal effectively and flexibly" with any new Communist threat to the free world.

Eisenhower pledged, however, that "our forces will never be used to initiate war against any nation; they will be used only for the defense of the free world." He said:

"The pursuit of peace is at once our religious obligation and our national policy. Peace in freedom—where all men dwell in security—is the ideal toward which our foreign policy is directed."

No Evidence

The President told his audience that standing in the way of enduring peace, "the principle and continuing factor is the persistently aggressive design of Moscow and Peiping which shows no evidence of genuine change despite their professed desire to relax tensions and to preserve peace."

He added:

"Continuing, also, is the breadth and scope of the Communist attack; no weapon is absent from their arsenal, whether intended for destruction of cities and people or for the destruction of truth, integrity, loyalty."

The President said that in the effort to achieve a durable peace, "we must help to harmonize the divergent views of the many free, self-governing nations, and without encroaching upon rights which all people cherish."

Then he declared:

"For in the diversities of freedom are a tremendous might—a might which the imposed system of communism can never match."

The President called the free world's growing strength "a trust on which rests the hope of free men."

He said "this awesome power we must and shall maintain for we are determined that at all times in today's uncertain world, we shall be able to deal effectively and flexibly with whatever situations may arise."

The president's address as billed as non-political by the White House, but it recalled former President Truman's attack last Saturday night on the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy.

Truman, in a Kansas City speech then, urged the American people to elect a Democratic-controlled Congress on Nov. 2 and end what he termed a Republican spectacle of "blunder after blunder" in foreign affairs.

Free Germany Progress Made

. . . Sovereignty Nears For Bonn

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP)—The Big Three Western powers made progress Wednesday night toward giving sovereignty back to West Germany, but faced a menacing deadlock between Germany and France over the Saar. Optimism expressed Tuesday was tempered sharply.

The old French-German dispute over the future of the Saar was only one of two major problems facing the Western nations gathering here in increasing numbers to work out progressively the accords which they hope will make the West a solid bloc against Communist aggression.

Besides the Saar, there arose again the problem of how to control the amount of arms which West Germany will have, or will be able to make, once she becomes a nation allied in friendship with her former enemies of the West and free in almost every sense of the word.

Ministers of the four powers met for two hours in the late afternoon to act on more than 100 pages of intricate text designed to make West Germany free, only not quite. The meeting was held at the Paris headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Solutions were proposed for the few remaining issues," said a brief communique. "The experts were asked to modify the texts accordingly for resubmission to the four ministers Oct. 21." That's Thursday.

The sight of four Western powers—West Germany, France, Britain and the United States—sitting together was something new in the NATO conference halls.

Even before the conference began, two of the principal figures, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, had an eight-hour session on the coal-bearing Saar, now linked economically to France. That was Tuesday. Wednesday U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, who was newly knighted by Queen Elizabeth II, flew into Paris to enlarge the talks.

Thursday the four become nine, to discuss conversion of the five-nation Brussels Alliance into a seven-nation treaty including—and slightly harnessing — West Germany.

Party Is Detained

Senator Escapes Tussle With Reds

BERLIN (AP) — A tour of Soviet-run East Berlin by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith ran afoul of Communist police Wednesday and four members of her party were held for an hour.

Sen. Smith

The Maine Republican senator was not detained. She was hurried away from the scene as soon as East German police approached and stopped television cameramen with her from filming her visit.

In an ensuing argument, four members of her group were taken to East Berlin police headquarters and released after identifying themselves.

Mrs. Smith said she was unaware of the fuss until she returned to allied West Berlin to catch a plane for Zurich, Switzerland, and Prague, Czechoslovakia, on her way to Moscow.

Censor Danger Cited In Delinquency Curb

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission took the position Wednesday it would be "dangerous" and undemocratic for the government to censor television shows.

FCC member Rosel H. Hyde submitted that view, on behalf of the commission, to a Senate subcommittee seeking to determine whether TV crime shows increase juvenile delinquency. Earlier, the subcommittee heard:

1. A witness protest that TV was pouring "mental poison" into the minds of children.

2. Two television executives contend adventure and crime programs have nothing to do with juvenile delinquency.

'Mental Poison'

Mrs. Clara Logan of Los Angeles, president of the National Assn. for Better Radio and Television, said "mental poison" came from TV crime programs and that nothing but television "could accomplish such a saturation of violence."

She saw no need for government censorship, but said parents who feel some programs are hurting their children can withhold their support from broadcasters and sponsors of the programs.

Robert H. Hinckley, a vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., said:

"I would like to state with great conviction that I do not believe television is anything remotely approaching factor in our problem."

Westerns

He said Russia, with limited television facilities, and New Zealand, which has none, both have major juvenile delinquency problems.

Miss Grace Johnson, in charge of judging and editing ABC program scripts, said she believes the western and adventure stories on TV may even help to prevent some delinquency among children.

Such shows, she said, "serve as a release for their hostility and aggressiveness which without an escape might manifest itself in physical violence."

H. F. Bauman Accident Victim

. . . Airman, Wife Injured In Collision Near College View

College View businessman Herman F. Bauman, 75, 4801 Pioneers, was killed instantly in a two-car crash about three miles southeast of Lincoln on a gravel road early Wednesday evening.

In serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital as a result of the accident are A3/c and Mrs. James A. Shelton of 1839 M. Shelton is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Safety Patrolmen James Kontos and Capt. Dan Casey said Bauman apparently died instantly when the two cars collided. Bauman's car, which had been heading north, was plunged into a 15-foot ditch at the northwest corner of the intersection.

Shelton's car, which was headed west at the intersection, was flipped over on its top. The accident occurred two miles south of the Waltz Service Station on Hwy. 2 southeast of College View.

Shelton was reported to have suffered a broken left leg below the knee and chest injuries along with possible internal injuries. His wife, Margaret G. Sheldon, 16, suffered chest and internal injuries. Shelton, 20, and his formerly lived at Baton Rouge, La.

Bauman, owner and manager of the South Side Coal Co., was reported to have been out south of town collecting bills and was returning home when the accident occurred.

The impact of the two cars was heard at the farm home of Frank Voller about a quarter mile south of the intersection. Voller was the first person at the scene of the accident. He immediately called an ambulance. Voller said that at the time he was certain Bauman had died in the accident.

Bauman's death brought to 254 the traffic fatalities in Nebraska thus far in 1954. This compares to 270 at the same time in 1953.

A member of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Bauman is survived by his wife, Edna Allen Bauman, at home. He was born at Allen, Neb., and has lived in College View since 1919. He has lived in the state all his life.

Other survivors include six sons. Vern and Roland of Lincoln; Guy and Robert of Anahiem, Calif., and Lawrence and Clifford of Arlington, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Pumphrey of Elizabethtown, N. C.; five sisters, Mrs. Bertha Rhoda and Mrs. Tresa Miller of Omaha, Mrs. Minnie Stark and Miss Jessie Bauman of Martensberg, Neb., and Hattie Becker of Wakefield, Neb.; 17 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending arrangements with the family.

Only two more days remain in which to register for the Nov. 2 general election.

The office of election commissioner will remain open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. Friday is the registration deadline.

Suburban registrations during the past two weeks brought out a total of 850 persons, 320 new and 530 changes in address. The drive for registrations is prompted by 7,000 challenge letters sent out to people who have moved since their last registration.

Omahan Slays Wife; Wounds Self 3 Times

NEWTON, Kan. (AP)—An Omaha man shot his estranged wife to death then wounded himself critically as police moved in with blazing guns Wednesday night, Police Chief C. E. Patterson said.

The shooting occurred at a filling station where the couple had stopped in a car.

Chief Patterson said the man was James Walker, 44, of Omaha and the woman was Mrs. Beverly Walker, 22, of Wichita.

Patterson quoted Walker as saying he tried to get a court order in Wichita Wednesday to force Mrs. Walker to let him see their two children, ages 2 and 5. The court denied the application for the order and Walker persuaded his wife to go for a ride with him.

They stopped here and an argument and the shooting followed.

McClelland 'Confessed' Pen Slaying Says Deputy

Deputy Warden Greenholtz Testifies Money From Victim's Wallet Found

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Deputy Warden John Greenholtz testified Wednesday before a Lancaster District Court jury to hearing Charles E. McClelland orally confess during the early morning of May 26 to the slaying of Prison Guard John Claussen.

The penitentiary official said money taken from Claussen's billfold was found in a vapor rub jar in inmate Harvey Durbin's cell after McClelland said he gave the money to Durbin.

McClelland told about to money "to prove his confession," Greenholtz said.

(Durbin, 32, committed suicide early Tuesday morning at the prison by slashing his throat with a razor blade.)

'Couldn't Sleep'

McClelland had been brought to Greenholtz's office about 10 p.m. (several hours earlier) because McClelland said "he killed John Claussen. . .his conscious was bothering him. . .couldn't sleep."

Greenholtz said he did not talk to McClelland at the time, but summoned Sgt. Robert Nichols of the State Safety Patrol to the prison.

After Nichol's arrival, Greenholz said he left the prison to attend a meeting at the Cornhusker hotel, but was summoned back to the prison about 11:30 p.m.

Under cross-examination by Defense Attorney Lyle Holland, Greenholtz denied that he dismissed McClelland's "wanting to confess as a usual thing" and had therefore gone off to town.

Confession A 'Repeat'

"No, that wasn't it," Greenholtz said, repeating an earlier statement that McClelland had wanted to talk "to an investigating officer."

Greenholtz said McClelland's confession to him was largely a repeat of the confession he had given to Sgt. Nichols.

Greenholtz testified that, according to McClelland:

"They went to the print shop to rob Claussen . . . Claussen was sitting at a table eating lunch . . . they struck him with a chair leg."

"When he hit McClelland on the head with a chair leg, Claussen fell across the table, and not off the chair to the floor."

"He described the chair leg as a club or sapp . . . 18 to 24 inches long . . . with two holes and two dole pins sticking out."

"He got the leg from the furniture repair shop the day before."

"They dragged Claussen by the arms behind some type cases."

"He wiped the chair leg off with his gloves before laying it against a concrete post."

"He took the billfold out of Claussen's pockets, extracted $18 in bills."

"He grabbed Claussen over the forehead and made several slashes across Claussen's throat."

Greenholtz said the interrogation of McClelland continued until 7 or 8 a.m. "It was quite a tale," he said.

Under cross examination, Greenholtz stated McClelland did not change or refute his story, except as to the other inmate involved with him. (Name of this inmate was not disclosed in testimony.)

Hotel Rooms, Garage Links In Holdup

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — Two hotel rooms and a rented garage have appeared as links in the chain of circumstances leading up to the bizarre daylight robbery of the First State Bank of Scottsbluff.

Both hotel rooms and the garage were rented by 19-year-old Joe Derl Gore, who was arrested Tuesday night after he parked a suitcase full of money in a Bayard, Neb., movie theater and went in to see the show.
the show.

Gore was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Ted R. Feidler of Gering Wednesday on a federal bank robbery charge and bound over to the grand jury under $25,000 bond when he waived preliminary hearing.

Scotts Bluff County Sheriff Steve Warrick said Gore has given officers a fairly clear picture of what happened before and after the robbery but has sullenly refused to admit he was the person who slipped into the bank behind a bookkeeper before business hours Tuesday and menaced six bank employees with a sawed-off shotgun for 45 minutes until the time lock on the bank vault operated.

The bandit skipped with $58,250 in cash and an employee's car.

Bank employees said the money in Gore's suitcase tallied exactly with the amount missing and they even identified some of the money wrappers. Cashier Ivan Troy who saw the bandit without his mask, identified Gore as the bandit.

Warrick said at one point in the questioning of Gore he was asked "why pick that bank" (the First State) and Gore replied, ""That's the easiest one. It has a back door."

The sheriff also said when Mrs. Warrick asked Gore about the bank robbery he told her "it's one way of getting rich quick."

Events Listed

From information provided by Gore and others, Warrick said this apparently is what happened before and after the robbery:

Gore came to Scottsbluff Oct. 9 and rented rooms in both the La Ray and Emery Hotels. He lived in the La Ray Hotel but spent considerable time in the Emery Hotel where his room looked out over the street fronting the First State Bank.

Last Friday he rented a garage from Quinn Lotspeich, although he had no car to put in it. The family said he told them he would be driving a 1949 Ford or a 1952 Cadillac. (The getaway car used in Tuesday's bank robbery was a 1949 green Ford. Harlan Wells, vice president of the bank, owns a 1952 Cadillac.)

Won't Admit Robbery

Warrick said Gore refused to answer any questions concerning the bank robbery, but told them that he went to the rented garage, changed his clothes, counted the money and put on glasses. About dusk he went to a filling station and called a cab, which took him to Bayard.

It was in Bayard that his suspicious actions led to Gore's arrest.

Officers also learned Wednesday that a 16-gauge shotgun, sawed-off to a total length of 20 inches, which Gore had in his possession when arrested, had been purchased in Torrington, Wyo.

Officers also are checking into the possibility that Gore may have been implicated in a burglary at the Forrest Motor Co., here Sunday night, in which $10,250 in diamonds and $400 in cash were taken. They said Gore shipped some luggage out of town subsequent to that and they are attempting to trace the luggage.

In Omaha U.S. District Attorney Donald Ross said prior to the arraignment if Gore waived, he would be taken to Lincoln to await grand jury action. He may waive indictment if he chooses and consent to the filing of an information, in which event he may call for a trial before Federal Judge John Delehant, or enter a plea and ask for a trial in North Platte.

Hotel Rooms, Garage Links In Holdup

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Two hotel rooms and a rented garage have appeared as links in the chain of circumstances leading up to the bizarre daylight robbery of the First State Bank of Scottsbluff.

Both hotel rooms and the garage were rented by 19-year-old Joe Derl Gore, who was arrested Tuesday night after he parked a suitcase full of money in a Bayard, Neb., movie theater and went in to see the show.
the show.

Gore was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Ted R. Feidler of Gering Wednesday on a federal bank robbery charge and bound over to the grand jury under $25,000 bond when he waived preliminary hearing.

Scotts Bluff County Sheriff Steve Warrick said Gore has given officers a fairly clear picture of what happened before and after the robbery but has sullenly refused to admit he was the person who slipped into the bank behind a bookkeeper before business hours Tuesday and menaced six bank employees with a sawed-off shotgun for 45 minutes until the time lock on the bank vault operated.

The bandit skipped with $58,250 in cash and an employee's car.

Bank employees said the money in Gore's suitcase tallied exactly with the amount missing and they even identified some of the money wrappers. Cashier Ivan Troy who saw the bandit without his mask, identified Gore as the bandit.

Warrick said at one point in the questioning of Gore he was asked "why pick that bank" (the First State) and Gore replied, ""That's the easiest one. It has a back door."

The sheriff also said when Mrs. Warrick asked Gore about the bank robbery he told her "it's one way of getting rich quick."

Events Listed

From information provided by Gore and others, Warrick said this apparently is what happened before and after the robbery:

Gore came to Scottsbluff Oct. 9 and rented rooms in both the La Ray and Emery Hotels. He lived in the La Ray Hotel but spent considerable time in the Emery Hotel where his room looked out over the street fronting the First State Bank.

Last Friday he rented a garage from Quinn Lotspeich, although he had no car to put in it. The family said he told them he would be driving a 1949 Ford or a 1952 Cadillac. (The getaway car used in Tuesday's bank robbery was a 1949 green Ford. Harlan Wells, vice president of the bank, owns a 1952 Cadillac.)

Won't Admit Robbery

Warrick said Gore refused to answer any questions concerning the bank robbery, but told them that he went to the rented garage, changed his clothes, counted the money and put on glasses. About dusk he went to a filling station and called a cab, which took him to Bayard.

It was in Bayard that his suspicious actions led to Gore's arrest.

Officers also learned Wednesday that a 16-gauge shotgun, sawed-off to a total length of 20 inches, which Gore had in his possession when arrested, had been purchased in Torrington, Wyo.

Officers also are checking into the possibility that Gore may have been implicated in a burglary at the Forrest Motor Co., here Sunday night, in which $10,250 in diamonds and $400 in cash were taken. They said Gore shipped some luggage out of town subsequent to that and they are attempting to trace the luggage.

In Omaha U.S. District Attorney Donald Ross said prior to the arraignment if Gore waived, he would be taken to Lincoln to await grand jury action. He may waive indictment if he chooses and consent to the filing of an information, in which event he may call for a trial before Federal Judge John Delehant, or enter a plea and ask for a trial in North Platte.

Free Germany Progress Made

. . . Sovereignty Nears For Bonn

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP)—The Big Three Western powers made progress Wednesday night toward giving sovereignty back to West Germany, but faced a menacing deadlock between Germany and France over the Saar. Optimism expressed Tuesday was tempered sharply.

The old French-German dispute over the future of the Saar was only one of two major problems facing the Western nations gathering here in increasing numbers to work out progressively the accords which they hope will make the West a solid bloc against Communist aggression.

Besides the Saar, there arose again the problem of how to control the amount of arms which West Germany will have, or will be able to make, once she becomes a nation allied in friendship with her former enemies of the West and free in almost every sense of the word.

Ministers of the four powers met for two hours in the late afternoon to act on more than 100 pages of intricate text designed to make West Germany free, only not quite. The meeting was held at the Paris headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Solutions were proposed for the few remaining issues," said a brief communique. "The experts were asked to modify the texts accordingly for resubmission to the four ministers Oct. 21." That's Thursday.

The sight of four Western powers—West Germany, France, Britain and the United States—sitting together was something new in the NATO conference halls.

Even before the conference began, two of the principal figures, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, had an eight-hour session on the coal-bearing Saar, now linked economically to France. That was Tuesday. Wednesday U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, who was newly knighted by Queen Elizabeth II, flew into Paris to enlarge the talks.

Thursday the four become nine, to discuss conversion of the five-nation Brussels Alliance into a seven-nation treaty including—and slightly harnessing — West Germany.

Party Is Detained

Senator Escapes Tussle With Reds

BERLIN (AP) — A tour of Soviet-run East Berlin by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith ran afoul of Communist police Wednesday and four members of her party were held for an hour.

The Maine Republican senator was not detained. She was hurried away from the scene as soon as East German police approached and stopped television cameramen with her from filming her visit.

In an ensuing argument, four members of her group were taken to East Berlin police headquarters and released after identifying themselves.

Mrs. Smith said she was unaware of the fuss until she returned to allied West Berlin to catch a plane for Zurich, Switzerland, and Prague. Czechoslovakia, on her way to Moscow.

Only two more days remain in which to register for the Nov. 2 general election.

The office of election commissioner will remain open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. Friday is the registration deadline.

Suburban registrations during the past two weeks brought out a total of 850 persons, 320 new and 530 changes in address. The drive for registrations is prompted by 7,000 challenge letters sent out to people who have moved since their last registration.

Omahan Slays Wife; Wounds Self 3 Times

NEWTON, Kan. (AP)—An Omaha man shot his estranged wife to death then wounded himself critically as police moved in with blazing guns Wednesday night, Police Chief C. E. Patterson said.

The shooting occurred at a filling station where the couple had stopped in a car.

Chief Patterson said the man was James Walker, 44, of Omaha and the woman was Mrs. Beverly Walker, 22, of Wichita.

Patterson quoted Walker as saying he tried to get a court order in Wichita Wednesday to force Mrs. Walker to let him see their two children, ages 2 and 5. The court denied the application for the order and Walker persuaded his wife to go for a ride with him.

They stopped here and an argument and the shooting followed.

Sheppard's Counsel Riled

Susan Hayes Much In Trial's Spotlight

By ARTHUR EVERETT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan blew up in court Wednesday at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard. He roared at the top of his voice: "I know they're going to bring Susan Hayes into this courtroom.

"I know what evidence they have," shouted Corrigan as he waved toward the state's side of the counsel table. "I know how Susan Hayes has been blasted in the papers."

Then Corrigan angrily refused to question a prospective juror any further and allowed him to be seated as the sixth juror.

Mrs. Anna W. Foote, housewife and mother of five children, was accepted as the seventh juror just before the trial ended for the day. She was the third woman accepted.

Full Panel In Sight

Seating of the seventh juror before the overnight recess raised the possibility a full panel might be obtained before the end of the week. One was chosen Monday, two Tuesday and four Wednesday.

Sheppard, 30-year-old osteopath, is on trial for his life. The state accuses him of beating his wife Marilyn, 31, to death last July 4. He denies the slaying. He said his wife was the victim of a bushy haired intruder, who knocked him out when he came to her aid. Mrs. Sheppard was four months pregnant. They had a son, 6.

The state claims the slaying followed by four months a love affair between the handsome Sheppard and Miss Hayes, 24, a onetime aid in the same hospital with him.

Miss Hayes, the state claims, has admitted she was intimate with Sheppard when he visited Los Angeles last March while he was taking a postgraduate course there. She was living in Los Angeles, but has returned to Cleveland to be a witness in the trial.

John Bickert Dies In South Dakota

John Bickert, 88, a Lincoln resident since 1929, died Wednesday in Sioux Falls, S.D.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Cathedral. The rosary will be said at 8:15 p.m. Friday at Hodgman-Splain. Burial will be in Calvary.

Mr. Bickert

Mr. Bickert had been a full-time employee at Lincoln General Hospital for 10 years, retiring last September.

He spent a few months at Algona, Ia., with his son Robert and then moved to Sioux Falls where his daughter, Mrs. Frank F. Fischer, lives.

Born at Nebraska City

Mr. Bickert was born at Nebraska City and three years later his parents homesteaded southwest of Elmwood.

Taking out a tree claim and homestead in Colorado in 1888, he returned to Nebraska two years later and farmed near Elwood until he came to Lincoln in 1929.

Surviving are his daughters, Mrs. Fischer of Sioux Falls and Ella T. and Rosa C. Bickert, both of Omaha; a son, Robert N. of Algona, Ia.; three grandchildren and his sisters, Mrs. Mary Stander of Ashland and Mrs. Theresa Brown of Exeter.

No Action On Equalization Recommended

A Legislative Council committee, after studying equalization of taxes between counties, recommended that no action be taken until after the fate of the constitutional amendments to be voted upon at the November election is decided.

The committee reported that 31 states practice some form of intercounty equalizatoin and that 20 of these use the same method as Nebraska. The other states use a variable ratio method whereby valuations for local tax purposes are not disturbed.

The report pointed out that the general property tax for the past 40 years has been declining as a source of state revenue. In 1915, property taxes were responsible for 50 per cent of state revenue and by 1952 this had dropped to 3.8 per cent of state revenue.

Principal types of inequalities listed were:

1. Failure to assess some property.
2. A general tendency toward undervaluation.
3. A tendency toward a competitive undervaluation by different assessors of types of properties located in different taxing districts.
4. A tendency for assessors to value different properties of the same type and value at widely varying ratios to true or exchange value.
5. A tendency for a given assessor to assess low-valued properties at a higher ratio to true value that properties of relatively high value.

Major Aspect Of Industrial Development Said Information

A major aspect of industrial development is the amassing of all kinds of technical information, a research consultant of the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board of Kentucky said here Wednesday.

He was William R. Davlin of Frankfort, Ky., who spoke at the Cornhusker Hotel at a meeting which closed a conference on economic research and industrial development in the Missouri Basin states.

"It will pay any state, as it has Kentucky," Davlin said, to have research information available for firms and organizations interested in advancing industrial development.

Joint Meeting

A banquet and Davlin's speech comprised a joint meeting of the Missouri Basin development group and of another research group which opened a three-day conference Wednesday night.

The second group includes representatives of 36 bureaus which belong to the Associated Bureaus of Business and Economic Research.

Clifford Hicks, chairman of the department of business organization and management at the University of Nebraska, welcomed those attending the second conference.

At an earlier session of the Missouri Basin states conference, Henry E. Wessle, head of the economic engineering section of the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, stressed the importance of research in industrial growth.

Leads To Diversity

Research not only brings forth the industrial potential of a community, he said, but leads to diversity of industry. This diversity, he said, is accomplished through research which finds new ways of doing things and new things to manufacture through varied uses of raw materials.

Within the next 10 years, Wessel said, the level of research must rise from $3.5 billion to $10 billion if the needs of industry are to be met.

The role of universities in research development was explained by Guy S. Freutel, St. Louis, Mo., research associate, department of economics, Washington University.

'May Be Robbed'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Party chairman Stephen A. Mitchell bluntly told fellow Democrats that unless they get on the ball they may be robbed of victory on Nov. 2 by "over-confidence and complacency."

In a special campaign bulletin to Democratic candidates and party officials throughout the country, Mitchell declared that too many of them seem to think "the election is in the bag."

Challenge Set

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —Russia's Andrei Vishinsky served notice of his intent to challenge in the U. N. Assembly Thursday a committee recommendation that Soviet charges of U. S. aggression against Red China be shelved two weeks.

Vishinsky, evidently fuming over the committee's 12 to 2 vote on a British motion to "think it over" for 14 days, also intends to challenge the recommendation that his second charge be shelved for the same period. It accused the U. S. of encouraging Formosa warcraft to attack Chinese Communist ships.

Pen Officials Testify At Trial

Judge Harry Spencer to question Greenholtz about the "interrogation of inmate Joe Beades on June 5 in the warden's office."

Greenholtz, answering defense questions, said he personally did not hear the questioning or know whether or not a confession from Beades was obtained. "There was some talk about one, but I don't know if there is one," Greenholtz said.

Greenholtz said McClelland was brought to the warden's office while Beades was there at Beades' request.

Last Witness

Last witness Wednesday was Guard Captain Albert V. Nance, who testified that McClelland had worked in the print shop until "several weeks" before Claussen's death.

He said McClelland had been transferred from the shop to the laundry check room and that Claussen had turned in reports on McClelland. (Report contents were not disclosed in testimony.)

Nance's earlier testimony was largely a collaboration of Greenholtz and Guard Frank Loukota's testimony about the finding of Claussen's body.

In earlier testimony, Greenholtz said Loukota was directed at 11:05 a.m. to check the print shop by Capt. Nance and that he himself tried to call Claussen by phone on other business, but got no answer.

'Where's John?'

"I called a minute or so later (after 11:05 a.m.) and Officer Loukota answered the phone," Greenholz said. He said the guard's reply was negative to his question, "Where's John?"

While Capt. Nance was attempting to call the laundry to see if Claussen was there, Loukota called back and said, "Come on, there's trouble in the print shop," Greenholz said.

Greenholz said that he, Capt. Nance and Lt. William Akin immediately went to the print shop.

The deputy warden said Claussen was lying face down between two type cases and was "bleeding profusely from the head and throat," was unconscious, but "still alive." He described the wounds as "several knife wounds across the throat" and a "deep wound on top of the head."

While the prison doctor and warden were being called, "I went back to my office to order a dead lock-up of both east and west cell blocks," Greenholz said. Print shop inmates were ordered held in the "visiting cage cells" for questioning, he said, putting the time sequence at 11:20 a.m.

Greenholz said he was later notified that Claussen "had passed away at the hospital."

Introduced exhibits of glasses, coin purse, billfold, an open knife, and pair of bloody gloves were identified as found near Claussen's body.

Greenholz also identified a chair leg, allegedly used as a murder weapon, as the one that was brought to his office during the immediate investigation.

Prior to Greenholz' testimony, Lt. Vernon Byler of the State Safety Patrol produced and identified a series of 18 pictures taken of the print shop, its interior, the trail of blood and Claussen's wounds.

Lt. Byler also produced a scaled diagram of the print shop's interior.

'Blueprint' Found

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Nixon said when the Eisenhower administration took office in January, 1953 it found the Democrats had left "a virtual blueprint for socializing America."

The blueprint, he said, including "spending plans for adding 40 billion dollars to the national debt between 1952 and 1956."

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Twelve hundred persons by late Wednesday had attended the 97th session of Nebraska IOOF Grand Lodge and associate bodies at Norfolk.

Mrs. Jewett was elected president of District Deputy Presidents Assn. Grace Throckmorton, Madison, vice president and Lillian Neiswanger, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Lois Nichols, Grand Island is retiring president.

'May Be Robbed'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Party chairman Stephen A. Mitchell bluntly told fellow Democrats that unless they get on the ball they may be robbed of victory on Nov. 2 by "over-confidence and complacency."

In a special campaign bulletin to Democratic candidates and party officials throughout the country, Mitchell declared that too many of them seem to think "the election is in the bag."

Challenge Set

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —Russia's Andrei Vishinsky served notice of his intent to challenge in the U. N. Assembly Thursday a committee recommendation that Soviet charges of U. S. aggression against Red China be shelved two weeks.

Vishinsky, evidently fuming over the committee's 12 to 2 vote on a British motion to "think it over" for 14 days, also intends to challenge the recommendation that his second charge be shelved for the same period. It accused the U. S. of encouraging Formosa warcraft to attack Chinese Communist ships.

Judge Harry Spencer to question Greenholtz about the "interrogation of inmate Joe Beades on June 5 in the warden's office."

Greenholtz, answering defense questions, said he personally did not hear the questioning or know whether or not a confession from Beades was obtained. "There was some talk about one, but I don't know if there is one," Greenholtz said.

Greenholtz said McClelland was brought to the warden's office while Beades was there at Beades' request.

Last Witness

Last witness Wednesday was Guard Captain Albert V. Nance, who testified that McClelland had worked in the print shop until "several weeks" before Claussen's death.

He said McClelland had been transferred from the shop to the laundry check room and that Claussen had turned in reports on McClelland. (Report contents were not disclosed in testimony.)

Nance's earlier testimony was largely a collaboration of Greenholtz and Guard Frank Loukota's testimony about the finding of Claussen's body.

In earlier testimony, Greenholtz said Loukota was directed at 11:05 a.m. to check the print shop by Capt. Nance and that he himself tried to call Claussen by phone on other business, but got no answer.

'Where's John?'

"I called a minute or so later (after 11:05 a.m.) and Officer Loukota answered the phone," Greenholz said. He said the guard's reply was negative to his question, "Where's John?"

While Capt. Nance was attempting to call the laundry to see if Claussen was there, Loukota called back and said, "Come on, there's trouble in the print shop," Greenholz said.

Greenholz said that he, Capt. Nance and Lt. William Akin immediately went to the print shop.

The deputy warden said Claussen was lying face down between two type cases and was "bleeding profusely from the head and throat," was unconscious, but "still alive." He described the wounds as "several knife wounds across the throat" and a "deep wound on top of the head."

While the prison doctor and warden were being called, "I went back to my office to order a dead lock-up of both east and west cell blocks," Greenholz said. Print shop inmates were ordered held in the "visiting cage cells" for questioning, he said, putting the time sequence at 11:20 a.m.

Greenholz said he was later notified that Claussen "had passed away at the hospital."

Introduced exhibits of glasses, coin purse, billfold, an open knife, and pair of bloody gloves were identified as found near Claussen's body.

Greenholz also identified a chair leg, allegedly used as a murder weapon, as the one that was brought to his office during the immediate investigation.

Prior to Greenholz' testimony, Lt. Vernon Byler of the State Safety Patrol produced and identified a series of 18 pictures taken of the print shop, its interior, the trail of blood and Claussen's wounds.

Lt. Byler also produced a scaled diagram of the print shop's interior.

Cancer Society Plans Mass Chest X-Rays

. . . Study Aimed At Men Over 45

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Cancer Society told Wednesday of plans for mass chest X-rays across the country, and gravely advised all men over 45 to have one twice a year.

Dr. Charles S. Cameron, the society's medical and scientific director, said meanwhile that the occurrence of lung cancer among smokers has reached an alarming rate—and is increasing rapidly.

Mefford R. Runyon, executive vice president, said the X-ray program is being studied by committees of the American medical Assn.

"In view of the urgency of this problem, we expect that they will act promptly and sympathetically," he said.

Over 45

Runyon said the cancer death rate for women is declining, largely because of greater public and professional [illegible] that for me it still is going up.

"Most of the [illegible] due to lung cancer.

"Because of this, the society is strongly advocating a semi-annual chest X-ray, read for lung cancer, for all men over 45."

Cancer, Runyon said in his annual report, strikes one in four. He said it was one in five in 1949.

The new figure means, he said, that "more than 40 million Americans now living will at some time develop cancer," and about 24 million of these will die of it.

A third of the 24 million can survive if current medical knowledge is properly applied, he added.

Cameron also released some new statistics.

He appealed to scientists to stop feuding and to cooperate in trying to conquer the problem.

He said the latest statistics show that one man out of every 15 to 20 who smoke as much as a pack of cigarettes per day regularly develops lung cancer—an almost 10 times bigger proportion than among non-smokers.

Rates Rising

"Alarming as the figures are," Dr. Cameron said, "they are based on present rates, but those rates are rising rapidly."

The report said the light or moderate cigarette smoker has a one in 40 to 45 chance of getting lung cancer, while the non-smoker chances of being stricken are only one in 170 to 190.

The cigar or pipe smoker, however, is almost as unlikely to get lung cancer as the non-smoker, the figures indicated. Only one out of 150 to 190 in this group developed the disease.

'Montie' Is Dead—Owners Hoping To Find 'Driver With A Conscience'

A six-year-old Cocker Spaniel lies dead today, victim of a hit-and-run driver.

A near-golden colored Cocker, Montie had been the household pet of William Cowden of 1336 Chautauqua. He was buried at the dog hospital near the County Humane Society.

Mouring the death of the dog, Mrs. Cowden said Montie was returning from his morning stroll when struck in front of a drug store at 33rd and A. He died almost instantly, she said.

Burial was held last Friday, and in about two weeks a tombstone dedicated to "Man's Best Friend" will be erected over Montie's grave.

Mrs. Cowden, who said the dog has been her only companion while her husband has been working, said she usually kept Montie chained and that he had been a stay-at-home dog most of his life.

MONTIE . . . as he delivered The Lincoln Star for his owners before his death in a hit-run accident.

He had, she said, brought in the morning paper, The Star, ever since he learned the trick as a young pup.

Mrs. Cowden says she has refused offers of other dogs, because they "couldn't be a replacement of our Montie." She hopes, she said, that the driver who killed Montie, is a person with a conscience, and that he will make himself known.

Mr. Cowden is a cement foreman with the Roberts Construction Co.. and often had taken Montie with him to work. He said Montie was a long-time travelling companion.

Meet Ends In Brawl

TOKYO (INS)—A meeting called to organize a new Japanese conservative political party in an attempt to unseat Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida ended in a brawl at a Tokyo hotel. The fight broke out when foes of Yoshida tried to rush through election of a five-man "representative committee" including Ichiro Hatoyama, arch-rival of Yoshida, to control the new party.

Nerve Strain Is The Same

Yes, she was welcome to attend!

Workers connected with an expectant mother's course being given at the YWCA had a phone call from a woman who asked if she could attend.

"Are you an expectant mother?" was the natural question.

"Well, no . . . you see, I'm an expectant grandmother," she said.

Mrs. Harriet Domas, young adult activities director at the YW, assured her that she was welcome, and she attended the session.

The next session Tuesday will involve a maternity fashion show. Any expectant grandmothers interested in maternity fashions?

Meet Ends In Brawl

TOKYO (INS)—A meeting called to organize a new Japanese conservative political party in an attempt to unseat Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida ended in a brawl at a Tokyo hotel. The fight broke out when foes of Yoshida tried to rush through election of a five-man "representative committee" including Ichiro Hatoyama, archrival of Yoshida, to control the new party.

Decline Of The Empire

It started in the early 'twenties unheralded and unsung. But when Canada, Australia, New Zealand and British South Africa demanded and obtained virtual independence in the handling of their own affairs through the recognition of home rule, the first step of disintegration of an empire upon which "the sun never set" was taken.

The words, "disintegration" or "decline," as applied to the British Empire are not accurate in describing the new relationships between the mother country and her colonies. Actually Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, at least, have been closer to Britain in mutual objectives since gaining home rule than when policy was determined in Downing Street.

Now it is announced that Britain voluntarily has severed another link of her empire in the signing of a treaty with Egypt providing for the withdrawal of British garrisons from the Suez Canal zone within the next 20 months. The Egyptians march back to 1882, a stretch of nearly three-quarters of a century, to recall a freedom in their daily life from supervision by the British, for much of this time supervision calling for strong garrison support.

Chances are that by the close of the present century, the last vistige of imperialism or the colonial system will have disappeared from the face of the globe. Its disappearance will present new problems to the world, particularly to the peoples who gain liberation, but in the long-run the world will be better off.

McKay's Warning

The news columns record that Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay gave warning last week that a drought of major proportions comparable to that of the 'thirties is building up in the southern and central states.

There is abundant evidence to support him.

Underground water tables are a dependable and reasonably accurate indicator of approaching drought conditions. Due to enormous demands made upon the underground water table from the east to the west coasts in this country, these central and southern states have not been the only areas affected. There has been a drop in the water table from Maine to California, from the northern border to the Mexican Gulf. Great sprawling cities, huge centers of population, and all cities and towns today require more water in this modern age of electricity contributing so many conveniences and comforts and particularly air-conditioning.

But here in the Midwest, stream flow is down and a fall in stream flow tells the story rather eloquently. The underground water table is lower and once again, there is evidence of the approach of a dry cycle.

What to do about it—or is it one of those things where nothing can be done to avert it? Secretary McKay has in his hands one of the best weapons to encourage rebuilding of the underground water table. Nothing contributes more to restoring that underground water table than the great dams on the rivers with vast amounts of water stored behind them. That storage contributes more effectively to the rebuilding of underground water tables than any other device we have at our command. The greatest weakness of the widely-heralded Hope-Aiken bill, now law, it is reputed contribution to flood control is that it makes no contribution of worthwhile character to underground water supplies. Unlike the big dam and the huge lake back of it, the shallow depth of the water in small dam storage, coupled in the Great Plains area with a large percentage of water loss through surface evaporation, defeats the very purposes for which the structure is consrtucted

Just about the most important job in sections of the United States involves rebuilding the underground water table.

It is not an impossible undertaking, if understood, and carried out intelligently.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Now and then something new comes to view. Colorado's Young Democrats have been beating the mountain paths the past week in a hunt for the prettiest donkey they can find, said donkey to be a guest of honor at a dinner next Saturday night. Now, there is a laudable if somewhat futile enterprise.

When it came to party symbols, we always have felt that both major parties short-changed themselves. We have no idea what factors are to be considered in judging the prettiest donkey. It, by all accounts, is an animal with long ears, droopy eyes, hang-dog-and-don't-give-a damn posture Nor is the elephant, despite its massiveness, a thing of beauty. It has piggish little eyes, possibly the better to let the world go by unnoticed, a ponderous, ungainly stride and a tail which is a caricature considering the size. We can think of scores of animals and birds to serve as party symbols if it is beauty that is sought. Why not consider the case of the deer, the antelope, or in the bird world the unforgettable mourning dove or the meadowlark? Any one of the four in terms of beauty, we suggest, would be an improvement upon either the donkey or the elephant. We are always exploring ways and means of improving American political life. Now, here is a way to do something about party symbols.

Short-Changed On Symbols

The reflection is inspired by the noise and fury of the present congressional campaign. We hear much about men, especially about those men who are candidates for re-election for Congress—what they said or how they voted in the 83rd Congress. It is a good idea when every man in public life is compelled to furnish an accounting. It is an excellent idea if some attention be directed to this 84th Congress whose members are to be chosen next month. What will be the job of its members? What issues will they be called upon to meet?

For one thing, this 84th Congress cannot escape coming to grips with an elderly gentleman known to most Americans. There has been building up in the Republican party a formidable bloc to scrap the reciprocal trading agreement program (which is Ike's program lifted bodily from previous administrations) and to substitute the old high protective tariff principle which would cost America a huge volume of foreign trade. The strength of that group in the ranks of the party in power was such at the last session of Congress as to enable it to defeat the President while voting a one-year extension, thanks to Democratic support. Then farm legislation will occupy a top spot in the agenda for the 84th Congress. Secretary Benson's new program has yet to be felt in full force by America's farmers. Add to this the battle over the conservation of natural resources, gaining in bitterness daily as a result of the giveaway program exemplified by Tidelands, the Dixon-Yates contract, with more to come. In the briefest outline, that is some of the work which will face the 84th Congress.

If an informed vote is to be cast, the individual voter will have to come to some decision as to sound policy in these matters of such high importance. We may live with the decisions reached by this 84th Congress for years to come.

Proper Burglars

A couple of robbers, notes the St. Louis Post Dispatch in a local item, were occupied relieving a variety store of its cash problems when a custome entered. One of the robbers politely retreated into the background while the other stepped forward and attended to the customers wants, wrapping up the desired item and handing it over with the proper change and the customer went away satisfied. It was a mighty thoughtful touch, this little act of preserving the store's reputation for service and honesty and will help the store quickly to recover its cash losses—a sort of a burglar's soil conservation program.

Nehru's Request

Prime Minister Nehru, speaking for India, is going to Peiping where he intends to ask the Chinese Red government to renounce the citizenship of some 10 million Chinese living outside China, elsewhere in Southeast Asia

To one not following the Asiatic mind nor the details of affairs in Southeast Asia this request sounds unusual. But expatriate Chinese are living in many of the Southeast Asia countries which presently are in the center of social upheaval If those Chinese are still claimed by Red China their position necessarily becomes officially pro-Communist and in the anti-Communist states they are becoming a suspect minority.

In the Philippines recent laws are giving resident Chinese 10 years to get out of business. Thailand has passed similar laws prejudicial to the even interests of its Chinese residents.

One must reflect upon the unwisdom of such actions for in the end no nation can prosper by encapsulating a part of its population and by law making it a hostile group. Better it would be to accept and win over, if necessary, on terms of friendship and equality such people.

Nehru has a right idea. If he succeeds he will have created an environment conducive to peace and progress in his whole area.

Editorial Of The Day

Cloudy Sovereignty

(From The St. Louis Post Dispatch)

Discovery of oil, coal and iron in Japan's continental shelf—perhaps in vast quantities—gives new significance to the whole question of offshore mineral deposits. Russia had already announced, last year, a big oil strike in the Caspian Sea. These mineral deposits off the shores of various nations seems increasingly certain to become the subject of international diplomacy, particularly with regard to freedom of the seas.

The United States, as it confronts this probability, is in an unfavorable and ambiguous position. It surrendered some of its sovereignty to a few coastal states in the Submerged Lands Act of 1953. Can it, therefore, speak on a basis of equality with nations which are entirely sovereign over the submerged shelf abutting their shores?

It would be well if the United States would act to remove this cloud on its sovereignty before the delicate area of diplomacy involved becomes more active. Otherwise the nation, its authority divided between the Federal Government and the governments of several coastal states, may find itself reduced to opposing strength with weakness in matters where strength is indispensable.

McKay Resents Talk Of Huge Giveaways

WASHINGTON—Generous Doug McKay, the likable secretary of the interior, let loose a blast at me the other day for describing him as generous in selling part of the Rogue River National Forest to a private mining company and for considering the releasing of the Navy's and Interior Department's oil reserve in Alaska to private oil company exploitation.

This is the first time I have been called a liar by a member of the Eisenhower cabinet—an "honor" frequently bestowed upon me during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. The fact that the Eisenhower administration has been so mild-mannered has caused my wife to insinuate that perhaps the old man was slipping.

Of course, generous Doug McKay was a little more adroit with his language than some of his Democratic predecessors. They fired blunderbuss broadsides of earthy words not to be found in the dictionary. Secretary McKay, on the other hand, reached into Webster's and pulled out such choice, highfalutin terms as "calumnies of this columnist" and "sinister innuendo."

Now the fact is—all kidding aside—that I have enjoyed the respite from name-calling under Eisenhower Tough-skinned as I am supposed to be, actually I don't relish having this type of bouquet hurled in my direction. And though I am convinced that Secretary McKay has been far too generous with the public domain and will illustrate this point further and more conclusively later, I still don't relish being called names by such a nice guy as Doug McKay.

I suppose, however, that this is inevitable. For any newspaperman worth his salt in Washington necessarily must step on people's toes. He must offend people. And when he does, naturally they get mad and hurl epithets.

Clinton McKinnon, publisher of the Los Angeles News, asked me the other day what the score was on the name-calling business, and here is part of the "you're-a-liar" tabulation.

Congressman Parnell Thomas of New Jersey denied kickbacks and called me a liar, but went to jail because of those kickbacks.

John Maragon, the influence peddler, also called me a liar for exposing his operations, but ended in jail as a result of that expose.

Tanforan Racetrack officials called me a liar and threatened a libel suit when their violation of housing regulations (in connivance with Maragon and Gen. Harry Vaughan) was exposed They went to jail.

A Daughter Solves Her Own Problem

There must have been a better way!

The project was to teach our daughter to assume responsibility for her own decisions. The problem arose when Alma, who lives around the corner, telephoned to ask Merrilee to come over to her house Merrilee said, "Just a minute—I'll ask mother if I can." Then she buried the receiver under a scarf and two rugs and turned to Mrs F

"Alma has a lot of girls at her house and they want me to come over and play, but I've got an awfully good book and I don't want to I can't go, can I, mother?"

It was exactly the kind of thing Mrs. F and I had been talking about the night before Mrs. F. grinned at me and told Merrilee, "Why, I don't know why not. If you don't want to go, that's up to you, but make your own excuses. I will not furnish an alibi."

"Aw, gosh!" said Merrilee, and uncovered the telephone. She stammered into it a minute and then said, "All right, I'll be right over." She went out the door looking displeased with her parents.

Fifteen minutes later our telephone rang again I answered

"Daddy," said Merrilee, "don't you want me to come home for something?"

"Nope," I said "There's not a single thing you have to do here."

"Aw, daddy!"

"Look, Gadget—if you want to duck the party, make up your own reasons! You can't always depend on somebody else to get you out of a tight spot."

"But, daddy, I'd hurt somebody's feelings—"

"No use arguing! You think up your own alibis!"

Five minutes later the telephone buzzed again. It was Merrilee. She said, "Can I speak to mother?" I called Mrs. F. She was as stern as I had been. She reported, after hanging up, that our daughter was evidently finally convinced that she would have to solve her problem without parental intervention

"A good thing, too," I remarked. "She'd have us getting the reputation of slave drivers or jailers, if we let her Now we'll see how it works out."

We saw, and all too soon. There was a trampling on the front porch, as of a herd of stampeding elephants, and a baker's dozen of 12 and 13-year-old girls came whooping into the house, Merrilee in the van. They spread rapidly throughout the entire domestic estblishment.

"I suggested we all come over here and play, because there is more room," Merrilee reported joyfully.

Within a very few minutes I was ready to swear that little girls were popping out of the woodwork. In self defense, I gathered up my immediate possessions and climbed to the attic, intending to live the life of a hermit until the atmosphere cleared of shrieks and giggles. Merrilee was in the attic ahead of me. She was deep in her book.

"Isn't it nice?" she said. "They don't even miss me, now that they're at our house. How's that for solving my problem?"

I was ashamed to tell her my real opinion

DORIS FLEESON

GOP Prospering On Democratic Quarrel

BOSTON — Massachusetts is so basically Democratic that nobody will be surprised if Democrats capture two House seats in districts a Republican legislature thought it had carved into a permanently Republican shape.

Yet nobody will be surprised, either, if the two proper Bostonians at the head of the Republican ticket. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall and Gov. Christian Herter, are re-elected.

The paradox is the result of local conditions and habits of voting peculiar to Massachusetts. They show why a President never controls and rarely influences the outcome of the midterm elections

After being governor, Saltonstall entered the Senate 12 years ago with excellent advance billing, but Washington is apparently not his dish and vice versa. He is GOP whip and seniority has made him chairman of the Armed Services Committee but he is not a mover and shaker, either in the Senate or in the party.

This year, Saltonstall, for the first time, has a formidable opponent in State Treasurer Foster Furcolo, an alumnus of the vigorous young House group now so widely represented in the Senate. It includes Monroney of Oklahoma, Fulbright of Arkansas, Mansfield of Montana, Jackson of Washington, Gore and Kefauver of Tennessee and Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Johnson is already Senate minority leader; before too long, the group will be the Democratic party in the Senate

In trying to join them, Furcolo did some pioneering. He is not from Boston, core of Democratic strength, but from Springfield. He is Yale, not Harvard His would be the first Italian name in the Senate spot, though he is part Irish, too.

Another hazard was of his own making Having enjoyed the support of the liberal Americans for Democratic Action, he stunned them recently by suggesting to their faces that they disband. They already thought him less than forthright on the McCarthy issue.

Last week, a lot of Democratic family beans were spilled.

The popular junior senator, John Kennedy, and Furcolo quarreled prior to a telecast over Furcolo's insistence that Kennedy endorse the whole state ticket by name. Kennedy, running a fever and en route to the hospital for treatment of old war injuries, was stubborn.

He called only for support of the candidate for governor, Bob Murphy, and the rest of the ticket. Then he limped off to the hospital from whence have come thunders of silence.

It seems well established that a Kennedy aide spilled the story. It gave new impetus to a whispering campaign which said Furcolo's Catholicism had occasionally faltered and that he called himself "Furcolowe" at Yale Furcolo has attacked the whisperers and referred questioners to his parish priest who bears an unimpeachably Irish name.

Senator Kennedy was probably in no mood for being pushed and Furcolo always takes his own part vigorously. Just possibly Kennedy also thinks that the Saltonstall yardstick in the Senate is easier for purposes of comparison than a Furcolo one would be

Senator Saltonstall has only to stand aside and profit greatly.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Corgis, Favorite Of Royalty

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Queen Elizabeth, Ava Gardner and Lt. and Mrs. Bill Baker of 4218 J have a common bond. Each has a dog that is related to the other.

The connecting link is a small Pembrokeshire Welsh Corgi.

The Corgis are one of Great Britain's most popular dogs. One of the reasons is because the Queen has several as pets. Royalty's "best friend" is a pint-sized cattle dog that claims ancestry back to 900 A.D.

The dog comes in several varieties—long-haired, short-haired, red and red and white.

The Bakers picked up "Red Holly" and "Rudy," a pair of 2-year-old Corgis, while stationed in greater London.

Holly came from Esher, a suburb of London, and Rudy was born in Southampton, England.

The two British dogs were like two innocents abroad, coming to the "wilds" of the Midwest. While in South Dakota, the dogs met their first porcupine. Porcupines grow big in South Dakota and the two the Corgis met were 50 and 40 pounds of solid flesh and quills.

Rudy discovered what the quills were for, but smart little Holly managed to elude the stickily defensive weapon. The two bewildered dogs raised such a fuss over their newly found enemy that the porcupines, destroyer of pine trees, rose bushes, and scavengers, were found and killed.

The dogs are natural retrievers. But the little dogs may risk life and limb to hunt, for the Corgis resemble a fox. There has been more than one fox hunt that has turned out to be a Corgi hunt.

The Bakers like the dogs because they are a "friendly dog, like a house dog, and are not like everyone else's dog."

. . . a pointed lesson from porcupines . . .

Another excellent feature, the Bakers feel, is the fact that they are quick to housebreak The pair are also good watch dogs.

To watch the two play is like seeing two cub bears romp They roll over and fight with their front paws. But their favorite pastime is chasing balls. Rudy and Holly each play with their own ball and jealously guard it.

The Corgis have one peculiar human trait. The males are henpecked. The lady boss, Holly, just about tells Rudy when he can eat and when he can leave her for a while

Lt Baker will not admit that the dogs are imitators.

The red and white dogs are tough, hardy dogs. The Bakers claim that the dog is supposed to be able to walk with a horse all day.

Holly and Rudy have made no pals with horses in Lincoln but the two think a lot of young Johnny Baker, a not-so-old addition to the family.

School Land Funds

Grand Island, Neb

To the editor of The Lincoln Star. Only in the last few days has the press published the new proposed amendment to change the present constitutional amendment whose provisions safeguard and protect the school land funds of the 1,635,000 acres of school lands. This sacred fund becomes the political football of the Legislature every two years. The constitutional provisions as written and adopted by the people of Nebraska positively protect and safeguard the school funds by a non-political unbiased board and is distributed to all taxpayers and children alike over the entire state It is not subjected to political juggling and wire-pulling There has been no mismanagement nor misappropriation of funds recorded against the present board, so why make a political football out of the fund for the politicians to horn in on?

Let us keep the "constitutional gates" locked to keep the politicians out. Not only the land lease rentals are at stake, but the oil production in the state has increased by leaps and bounds and must look good to the politician. Let us play it safe and defeat the proposed new amendment.

Appointive Officials

York, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to your editorial, "Appointive Officials" (Oct 18), I just can't agree that it would be in the right direction. Any efficiency gained would be at the expense of democratic processes and building up of political power.

Let us elect our tax commissioner or tax commission and our assessors—thus we and they can know to whom they are responsible.

Parade Of Progress

Lincoln, Neb.

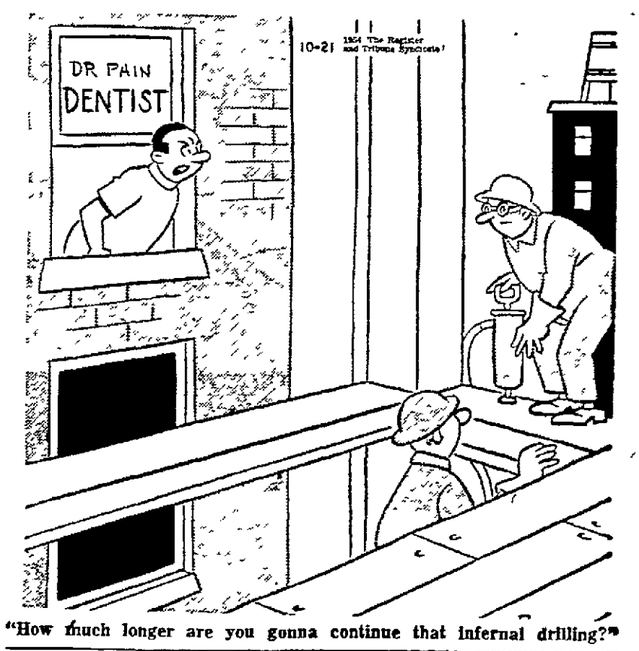
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Nebraska voters have the opportunity on Nov. 2 to retrieve in part the tragic loss the state sustained in the untimely death of Dwight Griswold. Not since the days of George W. Norris had Nebraska been represented in the Senate by any individual with even slight liberal tendencies until Dwight Griswold was appointed. His death left a void certainly inadequately filled by a successor whose only possible claim to a liberal point of view was a favorable attitude toward foreign aid.

The substitute for the late Sen. Butler made no change for the better to those who might have hoped for a more liberally-minded senator. Should the Democratic candidates be unsuccessful in the coming election, there will probably not be another opportunity to lift Nebraska out of the "old-guard" rut until 1960 Taking the voting records of the senators-to-be, if the Republicans prevail, we would find our delegation lining up without deviation with the following senators whose records are established and recognized as being at the opposite pole from that of liberal-mindedness: Jenner and Capehart, Indiana; Schoeppel, Kansas; Malone, Nevada; Bricker, Ohio, Dworshak and Welker, Idaho. Such is the company Nebraska would be keeping. Nebraska with such a potential, with so much yet to be accomplished, seems to prefer Republicans.

What a pity it is, then, that from among those who make up that party there cannot be selected for the Senate a progressive Republican or at least a middle of-the-road Republican. What has it profited Nebraska to go to the extreme right? George Norris and the Democrats gave Nebraska the development of public power and because of that there came the Mead, Grand Island, Sidney and Hastings military establishments which in turn brought much additional industrial development and the only diversification of the state's livestock and farming economy. Nebraska delivers six "old-guard" votes and stands on the sidelines as the parade of progress passes.

I. M PERPLEXED

OFF THE RECORD — Ed Reed



"How much longer are you gonna continue that infernal drilling?"

Decline Of The Empire

It started in the early 'twenties unheralded and unsung. But when Canada, Australia, New Zealand and British South Africa demanded and obtained virtual independence in the handling of their own affairs through the recognition of home rule, the first step of disintegration of an empire upon which "the sun never set" was taken.

The words, "disintegration" or "decline," as applied to the British Empire are not accurate in describing the new relationships between the mother country and her colonies. Actually Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, at least, have been closer to Britain in mutual objectives since gaining home rule than when policy was determined in Downing Street.

Now it is announced that Britain voluntarily has severed another link of her empire in the signing of a treaty with Egypt providing for the withdrawal of British garrisons from the Suez Canal zone within the next 20 months. The Egyptians march back to 1882, a stretch of nearly three-quarters of a century, to recall a freedom in their daily life from supervision by the British, for much of this time supervision calling for strong garrison support.

Chances are that by the close of the present century, the last vistige of imperialism or the colonial system will have disappeared from the face of the globe. Its disappearance will present new problems to the world, particularly to the peoples who gain liberation, but in the long-run the world will be better off.

McKay's Warning

The news columns record that Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay gave warning last week that a drought of major proportions comparable to that of the 'thirties is building up in the southern and central states.

There is abundant evidence to support him.

Underground water tables are a dependable and reasonably accurate indicator of approaching drought conditions. Due to enormous demands made upon the underground water table from the east to the west coasts in this country, these central and southern states have not been the only areas affected. There has been a drop in the water table from Maine to California, from the northern border to the Mexican Gulf. Great sprawling cities, huge centers of population, and all cities and towns today require more water in this modern age of electricity contributing so many conveniences and comforts and particularly air-conditioning.

But here in the Midwest, stream flow is down and a fall in stream flow tells the story rather eloquently. The underground water table is lower and once again, there is evidence of the approach of a dry cycle.

What to do about it—or is it one of those things where nothing can be done to avert it? Secretary McKay has in his hands one of the best weapons to encourage rebuilding of the underground water table. Nothing contributes more to restoring that underground water table than the great dams on the rivers with vast amounts of water stored behind them. That storage contributes more effectively to the rebuilding of underground water tables than any other device we have at our command. The greatest weakness of the widely-heralded Hope-Aiken bill, now law, it is reputed contribution to flood control is that it makes no contribution of worthwhile character to underground water supplies. Unlike the big dam and the huge lake back of it, the shallow depth of the water in small dam storage, coupled in the Great Plains area with a large percentage of water loss through surface evaporation, defeats the very purposes for which the structure is consrtucted.

Just about the most important job in sections of the United States involves rebuilding the underground water table.

It is not an impossible undertaking, if understood, and carried out intelligently.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Now and then something new comes to view. Colorado's Young Democrats have been beating the mounatin paths the past week in a hunt for the prettiest donkey they can find, said donkey to be a guest of honor at a dinner next Saturday night. Now, there is a laudable if somewhat futile enterprise.

When it came to party symbols, we always have felt that both major parties short-changed themselves. We have no idea what factors are to be considered in judging the prettiest donkey. It, by all accounts, is an animal with long ears, droopy eyes, hang-dog-and-don't-give-a-damn posture. Nor is the elephant, despite its massiveness, a thing of beauty. It has piggish little eyes, possibly the better to let the world go by unnoticed, a ponderous, ungainly stride and a tail which is a caricature considering the size. We can think of scores of animals and birds to serve as party symbols if it is beauty that is sought. Why not consider the case of the deer, the antelope, or in the bird world the unforgettable mourning dove or the meadowlark? Any one of the four in terms of beauty, we suggest, would be an improvement upon either the donkey or the elephant. We are always exploring ways and means of improving American political life. Now, here is a way to do something about party symbols.

The reflection is inspired by the noise and fury of the present congressional campaign. We hear much about men, especially about those men who are candidates for re-election for Congress—what they said or how they voted in the 83rd Congress. It is a good idea when every man in public life is compelled to furnish an accounting. It is an excellent idea if some attention be directed to this 84th Congress whose members are to be chosen next month. What will be the job of its members? What issues will they be called upon to meet?

For one thing, this 84th Congress cannot escape coming to grips with an elderly gentleman known to most Americans. There has been building up in the Republican party a formidable bloc to scrap the reciprocal trading agreement program (which is Ike's program lifted bodily from previous administrations) and to substitute the old high protective tariff principle which would cost America a huge volume of foreign trade. The strength of that group in the ranks of the party in power was such at the last session of Congress as to enable it to defeat the President while voting a one-year extension, thanks to Democratic support. Then farm legislation will occupy a top spot in the agenda for the 84th Congress. Secretary Benson's new program has yet to be felt in full force by America's farmers. Add to this the battle over the conservation of natural resources, gaining in bitterness daily as a result of the giveaway program exemplified by Tidelands, the Dixon-Yates contract, with more to come. In the briefest outline, that is some of the work which will face the 84th Congress.

If an informed vote is to be cast, the individual voter will have to come to some decision as to sound policy in these matters of such high importance. We may live with the decisions reached by this 84th Congress for years to come.

Nehru's Request

Prime Minister Nehru, speaking for India, is going to Peiping where he intends to ask the Chinese Red government to renounce the citizenship of some 10 million Chinese living outside China, elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

To one not following the Asiatic mind nor the details of affairs in Southeast Asia this request sounds unusual. But expatriate Chinese are living in many of the Southeast Asia countries which presently are in the center of social upheaval. If those Chinese are still claimed by Red China their position necessarily becomes officially pro-Communist and in the anti-Communist states they are becoming a suspect minority.

In the Philippines recent laws are giving resident Chinese 10 years to get out of business. Thailand has passed similar laws prejudicial to the even interests of its Chinese residents.

One must reflect upon the unwisdom of such actions for in the end no nation can prosper by encapsulating a part of its population and by law making it a hostile group. Better it would be to accept and win over, if necessary, on terms of friendship and equality such people.

Nehru has a right idea. If he succeeds he will have created an environment conducive to peace and progress in his whole area.

Editorial Of The Day

(From The St. Louis Post Dispatch)

Discovery of oil, coal and iron in Japan's continental shelf—perhaps in vast quantities—gives new significance to the whole question of offshore mineral deposits. Russia had already announced, last year, a big oil strike in the Caspian Sea. These mineral deposits off the shores of various nations seems increasingly certain to become the subject of international diplomacy, particularly with regard to freedom of the seas.

The United States, as it confronts this probability, is in an unfavorable and ambiguous position. It surrendered some of its sovereignty to a few coastal states in the Submerged Lands Act of 1953. Can it, therefore, speak on a basis of equality with nations which are entirely sovereign over the submerged shelf abutting their shores?

It would be well if the United States would act to remove this cloud on its sovereignty before the delicate area of diplomacy involved becomes more active. Otherwise the nation, its authority divided between the Federal Government and the governments of several coastal states, may find itself reduced to opposing strength with weakness in matters where strength is indispensable.

Proper Burglars

A couple of robbers, notes the St. Louis Post Dispatch in a local item, were occupied relieving a variety store of its cash problems when a custome entered. One of the robbers politely retreated into the background while the other stepped forward and attended to the customers wants, wrapping up the desired item and handing it over with the proper change and the customer went away satisfied. It was a mighty thoughtful touch, this little act of preserving the store's reputation for service and honesty and will help the store quickly to recover its cash losses—a sort of a burglar's soil conservation program.

McKay Resents Talk Of Huge Giveaways

WASHINGTON—Generous Doug McKay, the likable secretary of the interior, let loose a blast at me the other day for describing him as generous in selling part of the Rogue River National Forest to a private mining company and for considering the releasing of the Navy's and Interior Department's oil reserve in Alaska to private oil company exploitation.

This is the first time I have been called a liar by a member of the Eisenhower cabinet—an "honor" frequently bestowed upon me during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. The fact that the Eisenhower administration has been so mild-mannered has caused my wife to insinuate that perhaps the old man was slipping.

Of course, generous Doug McKay was a little more adroit with his language than some of his Democratic predecessors. They fired blunderbuss broadsides of earthy words not to be found in the dictionary. Secretary McKay, on the other hand, reached into Webster's and pulled out such choice, highfalutin terms as "calumnies of this columnist" and "sinister innuendo."

Now the fact is—all kidding aside—that I have enjoyed the respite from name-calling under Eisenhower. Tough-skinned as I am supposed to be, actually I don't relish having this type of bouquet hurled in my direction. And though I am convinced that Secretary McKay has been far too generous with the public domain and will illustrate this point further and more conclusively later, I still don't relish being called names by such a nice guy as Doug McKay.

I suppose, however, that this is inevitable. For any newspaperman worth his salt in Washington necessarily must step on people's toes. He must offend people. And when he does, naturally they get mad and hurl epithets.

Clinton McKinnon, publisher of the Los Angeles News, asked me the other day what the score was on the name-calling business, and here is part of the "you're-a-liar" tabulation.

Congressman Parnell Thomas of New Jersey denied kickbacks and called me a liar, but went to jail because of those kickbacks.

John Maragon, the influence peddler, also called me a liar for exposing his operations, but ended in jail as a result of that expose.

Tanforan Racetrack officials called me a liar and threatened a libel suit when their violation of housing regulations (in connivance with Maragon and Gen. Harry Vaughan) was exposed. They went to jail.

ED FITZHUGH

A Daughter Solves Her Own Problem

There must have been a better way!

The project was to teach our daughter to assume responsibility for her own decisions. The problem arose when Alma, who lives around the corner, telephoned to ask Merrilee to come over to her house. Merrilee said, "Just a minute—I'll ask mother if I can." Then she buried the receiver under a scarf and two rugs and turned to Mrs. F.

"Alma has a lot of girls at her house and they want me to come over and play, but I've got an awfully good book and I don't want to. I can't go, can I, mother?"

It was exactly the kind of thing Mrs. F. and I had been talking about the night before. Mrs. F. grinned at me and told Merrilee, "Why, I don't know why not. If you don't want to go, that's up to you, but make your own excuses. I will not furnish an alibi."

"Aw, gosh!" said Merrilee, and uncovered the telephone. She stammered into it a minute and then said, "All right, I'll be right over." She went out the door looking displeased with her parents.

Fifteen minutes later our telephone rang again. I answered.

"Daddy," said Merrilee, "don't you want me to come home for something?"

"Nope," I said. "There's not a single thing you have to do here."

"Aw, daddy!"

"Look, Gadget—if you want to duck the party, make up your own reasons! You can't always depend on somebody else to get you out of a tight spot."

"But, daddy, I'd hurt somebody's feelings—"

"No use arguing! You think up your own alibis!"

Five minutes later the telephone buzzed again. It was Merrilee. She said, "Can I speak to mother?" I called Mrs. F. She was as stern as I had been. She reported, after hanging up, that our daughter was evidently finally convinced that she would have to solve her problem without parental intervention.

"A good thing, too," I remarked. "She'd have us getting the reputation of slave drivers or jailers, if we let her. Now we'll see how it works out."

We saw, and all too soon. There was a trampling on the front porch, as of a herd of stampeding elephants, and a baker's dozen of 12 and 13-year-old girls came whooping into the house, Merrilee in the van. They spread rapidly throughout the entire domestic estblishment.

"I suggested we all come over here and play, because there is more room," Merrilee reported joyfully.

Within a very few minutes I was ready to swear that little girls were popping out of the woodwork. In self defense, I gathered up my immediate possessions and climbed to the attic, intending to live the life of a hermit until the atmosphere cleared of shrieks and giggles. Merrilee was in the attic ahead of me. She was deep in her book.

"Isn't it nice?" she said. "They don't even miss me, now that they're at our house. How's that for solving my problem?"

I was ashamed to tell her my real opinion.

DORIS FLEESON

GOP Prospering On Democratic Quarrel

BOSTON — Massachusetts is so basically Democratic that nobody will be surprised if Democrats capture two House seats in districts a Republican legislature thought it had carved into a permanently Republican shape.

Yet nobody will be surprised, either, if the two proper Bostonians at the head of the Republican ticket, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall and Gov. Christian Herter, are re-elected.

The paradox is the result of local conditions and habits of voting peculiar to Massachusetts. They show why a President never controls and rarely influences the outcome of the midterm elections.

After being governor, Saltonstall entered the Senate 12 years ago with excellent advance billing, but Washington is apparently not his dish and vice versa. He is GOP whip and seniority has made him chairman of the Armed Services Committee but he is not a mover and shaker, either in the Senate or in the party.

This year, Saltonstall, for the first time, has a formidable opponent in State Treasurer Foster Furcolo, an alumnus of the vigorous young House group now so widely represented in the Senate. It includes Monroney of Oklahoma, Fulbright of Arkansas, Mansfield of Montana, Jackson of Washington, Gore and Kefauver of Tennessee and Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Johnson is already Senate minority leader; before too long, the group will be the Democratic party in the Senate.

In trying to join them, Furcolo did some pioneering. He is not from Boston, core of Democratic strength, but from Springfield. He is Yale, not Harvard. His would be the first Italian name in the Senate spot, though he is part Irish, too.

Another hazard was of his own making. Having enjoyed the support of the liberal Americans for Democratic Action, he stunned them recently by suggesting to their faces that they disband. They already thought him less than forthright on the McCarthy issue.

Last week, a lot of Democratic family beans were spilled.

The popular junior senator, John Kennedy, and Furcolo quarreled prior to a telecast over Furcolo's insistence that Kennedy endorse the whole state ticket by name. Kennedy, running a fever and en route to the hospital for treatment of old war injuries, was stubborn.

He called only for support of the candidate for governor, Bob Murphy, and the rest of the ticket. Then he limped off to the hospital from whence have come thunders of silence.

It seems well established that a Kennedy aide spilled the story. It gave new impetus to a whispering campaign which said Furcolo's Catholicism had occasionally faltered and that he called himself "Furcolowe" at Yale. Furcolo has attacked the whisperers and referred questioners to his parish priest who bears an unimpeachably Irish name.

Senator Kennedy was probably in no mood for being pushed and Furcolo always takes his own part vigorously. Just possibly Kennedy also thinks that the Saltonstall yardstick in the Senate is easier for purposes of comparison than a Furcolo one would be.

Senator Saltonstall has only to stand aside and profit greatly.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Corgis, Favorite Of Royalty

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Queen Elizabeth, Ava Gardner and Lt. and Mrs. Bill Baker of 4218 J have a common bond. Each has a dog that is related to the other.

The connecting link is a small Pembrokeshire Welsh Corgi.

The Corgis are one of Great Britain's most popular dogs. One of the reasons is because the Queen has several as pets. Royalty's "best friend" is a pint-sized cattle dog that claims ancestry back to 900 A.D.

The dog comes in several varieties—long-haired, short-haired, red and red and white.

The Bakers picked up "Red Holly" and "Rudy," a pair of 2-year-old Corgis, while stationed in greater London.

Holly came from Esher, a suburb of London, and Rudy was born in Southampton, England.

The two British dogs were like two innocents abroad, coming to the "wilds" of the Midwest. While in South Dakota, the dogs met their first porcupine. Porcupines grow big in South Dakota and the two the Corgis met were 50 and 40 pounds of solid flesh and quills.

Rudy discovered what the quills were for, but smart little Holly managed to elude the stickily defensive weapon. The two bewildered dogs raised such a fuss over their newly found enemy that the porcupines, destroyer of pine trees, rose bushes, and scavengers, were found and killed.

The dogs are natural retrievers. But the little dogs may risk life and limb to hunt, for the Corgis resemble a fox. There has been more than one fox hunt that has turned out to be a Corgi hunt.

The Bakers like the dogs because they are a "friendly dog, like a house dog, and are not like everyone else's dog."

. . . a pointed lesson from porcupines . . .

Another excellent feature, the Bakers feel, is the fact that they are quick to housebreak. The pair are also good watch dogs.

To watch the two play is like seeing two cub bears romp. They roll over and fight with their front paws. But their favorite pastime is chasing balls. Rudy and Holly each play with their own ball and jealously guard it.

The Corgis have one peculiar human trait. The males are henpecked. The lady boss, Holly, just about tells Rudy when he can eat and when he can leave her for a while.

Lt. Baker will not admit that the dogs are imitators.

The red and white dogs are tough, hardy dogs. The Bakers claim that the dog is supposed to be able to walk with a horse all day.

Holly and Rudy have made no pals with horses in Lincoln but the two think a lot of young Johnny Baker, a not-so-old addition to the family.

School Land Funds

Grand Island, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Only in the last few days has the press published the new proposed amendment to change the present constitutional amendment whose provisions safeguard and protect the school land funds of the 1,635,000 acres of school lands. This sacred fund becomes the political football of the Legislature every two years. The constitutional provisions as written and adopted by the people of Nebraska positively protect and safeguard the school funds by a non-political unbiased board and is distributed to all taxpayers and children alike over the entire state. It is not subjected to political juggling and wire-pulling. There has been no mismanagement nor misappropriation of funds recorded against the present board, so why make a political football out of the fund for the politicians to horn in on?

Let us keep the "constitutional gates" locked to keep the politicians out. Not only the land lease rentals are at stake, but the oil production in the state has increased by leaps and bounds and must look good to the politician. Let us play it safe and defeat the proposed new amendment.

Appointive Officials

York, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to your editorial, "Appointive Officials" (Oct. 18), I just can't agree that it would be in the right direction. Any efficiency gained would be at the expense of democratic processes and building up of political power.

Let us elect our tax commissioner or tax commission and our assessors—thus we and they can know to whom they are responsible.

Parade Of Progress

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Nebraska voters have the opportunity on Nov. 2 to retrieve in part the tragic loss the state sustained in the untimely death of Dwight Griswold. Not since the days of George W. Norris had Nebraska been represented in the Senate by any individual with even slight liberal tendencies until Dwight Griswold was appointed. His death left a void certainly inadequately filled by a successor whose only possible claim to a liberal point of view was a favorable attitude toward foreign aid.

The substitute for the late Sen. Butler made no change for the better to those who might have hoped for a more liberally-minded senator. Should the Democratic candidates be unsuccessful in the coming election, there will probably not be another opportunity to lift Nebraska out of the "old-guard" rut until 1960. Taking the voting records of the senators-to-be, if the Republicans prevail, we would find our delegation lining up without deviation with the following senators whose records are established and recognized as being at the opposite pole from that of liberal-mindedness: Jenner and Capehart, Indiana; Schoeppel, Kansas; Malone, Nevada; Bricker, Ohio; Dworshak and Welker, Idaho. Such is the company Nebraska would be keeping. Nebraska with such a potential, with so much yet to be accomplished, seems to prefer Republicans.

Next Hurricane Will Be A Girl Despite Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some people, it seems, don't like the Weather Bureau's practice of calling hurricanes by the names of girls. So a change will be considered.

E. M. Vernon, chief forecaster, said this will be one item for discussion at the bureau's annual conference on the reporting of hurricanes. It is to be held in January or February, probably at the bureau's hurricane reporting headquarters at Miami, Fla.

At the annual conferences, plans are laid for improved methods of finding hurricanes and following their movements to determine if they threaten land areas.

Vernon said "some people are indignant" about using the names of girls for hurricanes of great violence which cause death and destruction.

Good Idea

But, Vernon said, the Weather Bureau also has received letters indicating others felt it was a good idea. One letter suggested naming the next hurricane after the writer's girl friend.

Another letter suggested that in view of the violence, death and destruction of hurricanes the bureau should use names of despots to identify them.

This would reflect the nature of the storms, but it would not fit the Weather Bureau's needs which are for good communications. Names of girls, in alphabetical order, are used to identify hurricanes because they can be clearly understood over radio and other communications are often indistinct in the storm areas.

"If everyone could agree on a phonetic alphabet, that would probably be the answer," Vernon said. In this system a generally recognized list of words would be used for letters of the alphabet, such as Alpha for A. Beta for B, and so forth.

Meanwhile, if there are any more hurricanes this year the next one will be called Irene, and not Ivan the Terrible.

State May Take Viaduct Bids On Dec. 9

The state may receive bids Dec. 9 on the new $1.5 million West O Street viaduct.

State Engineer L. N. Ress made the statement at a meeting of city, state and federal officials at the City Hall. Dec. 9, Ress said, is the next scheduled letting date and it is hoped the viaduct can be included at that time.

The City Hall conference was called by Mayor Clark Jeary to push ahead the settlement of possible damage claims from property owners along the new viaduct right-of-way. The damage claims have to be settled before a contract can be let on the structure.

It is possible, Jeary said, that minor changes in the viaduct plans can be made to mitigate some damages.

The group was advised by Gerald C. Strobel, state bridge engineer, that pile tests made for the preparation of footing plans have now been completed.

Jeary reported that estimates on completion of the viaduct run from eight months up to one year. The traffic detour route has not yet been determined, he said.

Members of the advanced party for the 307th Bombardment Wing, which is the second wing to be based at the Lincoln Air Force Base, arrived in Lincoln and are at work preparing for the arrival of the wing personnel due in November and December.

Maj. William T. Minor, in charge of the advanced party, was commander of the 371st Bomb Squadron during the recent tour of duty with the wing in Okinawa. He will now occupy the position of wing inspector.

Next Hurricane Will Be A Girl Despite Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some people, it seems, don't like the Weather Bureau's practice of calling hurricanes by the names of girls. So a change will be considered.

E. M. Vernon, chief forecaster, said this will be one item for discussion at the bureau's annual conference on the reporting of hurricanes. It is to be held in January or February, probably at the bureau's hurricane reporting headquarters at Miami, Fla.

At the annual conferences, plans are laid for improved methods of finding hurricanes and following their movements to determine if they threaten land areas.

Vernon said "some people are indignant" about using the names of girls for hurricanes of great violence which cause death and destruction.

Good Idea

But, Vernon said, the Weather Bureau also has received letters indicating others felt it was a good idea. One letter suggested naming the next hurricane after the writer's girl friend.

Another letter suggested that in view of the violence, death and destruction of hurricanes the bureau should use names of despots to identify them.

This would reflect the nature of the storms, but it would not fit the Weather Bureau's needs which are for good communications. Names of girls, in alphabetical order, are used to identify hurricanes because they can be clearly understood over radio and other communications are often indistinct in the storm areas.

"If everyone could agree on a phonetic alphabet, that would probably be the answer," Vernon said. In this system a generally recognized list of words would be used for letters of the alphabet, such as Alpha for A. Beta for B, and so forth.

Meanwhile, if there are any more hurricanes this year the next one will be called Irene, and not Ivan the Terrible.

State May Take Viaduct Bids On Dec. 9

The state may receive bids Dec. 9 on the new $1.5 million West O Street viaduct.

State Engineer L. N. Ress made the statement at a meeting of city, state and federal officials at the City Hall. Dec. 9, Ress said, is the next scheduled letting date and it is hoped the viaduct can be included at that time.

The City Hall conference was called by Mayor Clark Jeary to push ahead the settlement of possible damage claims from property owners along the new viaduct right-of-way. The damage claims have to be settled before a contract can be let on the structure.

It is possible, Jeary said, that minor changes in the viaduct plans can be made to mitigate some damages.

The group was advised by Gerald C. Strobel, state bridge engineer, that pile tests made for the preparation of footing plans have now been completed.

Jeary reported that estimates on completion of the viaduct run from eight months up to one year. The traffic detour route has not yet been determined, he said.

Phone Hearing Reset

The Railway Commission announced Wednesday the hearing on proposed transfer of the Wellfleet Telephone Exchange from Rose and Fred Dybdahl to Mildred J. Welsh has been re-set for Oct. 29. The hearing will be held at the commission's headquarters here.

'Victory Or Defeat' Not The Question—

Hope Of Abolishing War Lies In World Understanding—Ike

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—President Eisenhower, asserting that war no longer is a question of "victory or defeat," said Wednesday that the hope of abolishing "this terrible scourge" lies in world understanding.

What is needed above all, he said in a brief informal speech, is to understand why nations "react to certain actions, certain considerations and circumstances in this world in a different way from which we do."

Knowing that, he said, it will be possible then to go ahead "in devising and composing those arrangements in the world that will gradually abolish this terrible scourge."

Eisenhower spoke to a police-estimated crowd of 7,500 on the campus of Trinity Cllege after receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Although he came to Connecticut less than two weeks before the state elects a governor and six representatives to Congress, his appearance here en route to New York was billed as non-political by the White House.

Immediately after quitting the elm-lined Trinity campus, Eisenhower stopped briefly at a big outdoor birthday party for Gov. John Lodge, Republican, who is campaigning for his second four-year term.

There again, speaking to a crowd estimated by state police at between 50,000 and 60,000, Eisenhower made no direct reference to the campaign.

"Here, without regard to any spurious criterion of party, or any other influence in our own country," he said, in referring to Lodge's 51st birthday anniversary, "people gather to say to him happy birthday.

"It means that in the estimation of all of these people that he, as the first citizen of your state, does a worthy job in your service."

Lodge's Democratic rival, former Rep. Abraham Ribicoff, sat several rows behind Lodge on the Trinity College campus.

Eisenhower gravely said that science has provided weapons that mean that "not only is the whole nation in arms, but the whole nation is constantly exposed to the threat of destruction."

Yank Family Disappears From Red Zone Hotel

VIENNA (INS)—U. S. embassy officials said Wednesday they were trying to locate an American family which disappeared from a hotel in the Soviet sector of Vienna.

The Americans were identified as Herbert Ward, 33, a violinist of New York, his wife, Jaqueline, and sons, Lawrence, 5, and Norman 2.

Ward had been studying music in Vienna since 1952 and lived in the Western sector until last January when he moved to the Soviet sector against the wishes of American authorities.

Austrian police said they were alerted to watch for the family whose passport had been impounded.

Ward applied to the embassy for a passport renewal last June but was told a new one would be valid only for return home. An official said a new one was not issued.

Ward at the same time applied to the State Department for a loan to finance the journey home. The department approved a loan of $750 but Ward rejected this and said he did no yet wish to return to the United States.

'Victory Or Defeat' Not The Question—

Hope Of Abolishing War Lies In World Understanding—Ike

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—President Eisenhower, asserting that war no longer is a question of "victory or defeat," said Wednesday that the hope of abolishing "this terrible scourge" lies in world understanding.

What is needed above all, he said in a brief informal speech, is to understand why nations "react to certain actions, certain considerations and circumstances in this world in a different way from which we do."

Knowing that, he said, it will be possible then to go ahead "in devising and composing those arrangements in the world that will gradually abolish this terrible scourge."

Eisenhower spoke to a police-estimated crowd of 7,500 on the campus of Trinity Cllege after receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Although he came to Connecticut less than two weeks before the state elects a governor and six representatives to Congress, his appearance here en route to New York was billed as non-political by the White House.

Immediately after quitting the elm-lined Trinity campus, Eisenhower stopped briefly at a big outdoor birthday party for Gov. John Lodge, Republican, who is campaigning for his second four-year term.

There again, speaking to a crowd estimated by state police at between 50,000 and 60,000, Eisenhower made no direct reference to the campaign.

"Here, without regard to any spurious criterion of party, or any other influence in our own country," he said, in referring to Lodge's 51st birthday anniversary, "people gather to say to him happy birthday.

"It means that in the estimation of all of these people that he, as the first citizen of your state, does a worthy job in your service."

Lodge's Democratic rival, former Rep. Abraham Ribicoff, sat several rows behind Lodge on the Trinity College campus.

Eisenhower gravely said that science has provided weapons that mean that "not only is the whole nation in arms, but the whole nation is constantly exposed to the threat of destruction."

Yank Family Disappears From Red Zone Hotel

VIENNA (INS)—U. S. embassy officials said Wednesday they were trying to locate an American family which disappeared from a hotel in the Soviet sector of Vienna.

The Americans were identified as Herbert Ward, 33, a violinist of New York, his wife, Jaqueline, and sons, Lawrence, 5, and Norman 2.

Ward had been studying music in Vienna since 1952 and lived in the Western sector until last January when he moved to the Soviet sector against the wishes of American authorities.

Austrian police said they were alerted to watch for the family whose passport had been impounded.

Ward applied to the embassy for a passport renewal last June but was told a new one would be valid only for return home. An official said a new one was not issued.

Ward at the same time applied to the State Department for a loan to finance the journey home. The department approved a loan of $750 but Ward rejected this and said he did no yet wish to return to the United States.

Quality Improvement Seen As Higher Egg Price Aid

Consumption Promotion Urged

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

The time came Wednesday afternoon for members of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association to get off their chests the one item that is uppermost in their minds.

Those attending the annual NPIA convention in Lincoln packed the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel to hash over the problem of what can be done to improve egg prices. The prices are presently at their lowest level in many years, and Nebraska's egg prices are the lowest in the nation.

Heading the discussion was a panel of poultry experts which was in agreement on the means to improve egg prices. These include, basically, a means of improving the quality of eggs at the farm, getting them handled in such a way that their quality will not be hurt, and finally promoting the consumption of more eggs.

Carl Dossin, poultry extension specialist at Pennsylvania State College, warned that poultrymen in states like Nebraska will have to take steps to improve egg quality or have government legislation "shoved down their throats" which will see to it that quality is taken care of.

The old slogan, "let the buyer beware," was given a new twist by panel member Bob Russell of an Omaha poultry processing firm. "Today it's 'let the seller beware'." Russell said. "We have got to do what the consumer says. The consumers in many parts of the country are getting a taste of quality, and they will continue to get what they want."

Mahon C. Sweet, editor of Poultry Processing and Marketing magazine, said, "The poultry industry deserves to live and grow only as it is efficient. The farm flock must get larger. What happened to the old farm orchards? What happnened to the one-can milk producer?"

Some objections were voiced as to the structure of the Nebraska egg law which permits the sale of ungraded eggs, provided they are so marked. As one man pointed out, this allows the grocer to sell only ungraded eggs and makes it possible for the housewife to buy "a lot of junk."

"We have the perfect food in the egg," declared Fred Buzen of the Poultry and Egg National Board in Chicago, "and we've got to let the consumer know it." The quality of the egg must be assured, and then the product must be sold, he said.

Pointing to the promotion being carried on by other food industries, such as meat, Buzen said, "There is just so much room in the human stomach and we have got to see to it that eggs get their share of that room."

In answer to a question about whether Nebraska's location away from large centers of population is a handicap, Dossin pointed out that many consuming states are supplied by states as far as halfway across the continent.

Recommendations for Nebraska producers included the setting up of an organization which would manage the program of boosting egg quality and good marketing.

Garbage Contract Break Ruled Out

OMAHA (AP) — After an hour's conference with representatives of the City Sanitation Co. Wednesday city officials said they were convinced the refuse collection contract with the firm could not be broken legally.

Any plan to prevent high profits, which the recent Douglas County grand jury said were the result of the contract, would have to be by mutual consent, a spokesman said.

Two More Gas Wells

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP) — The S. D. Johnson Drilling Co., drilling for the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., will return here to drill two more wells after completing a job in the Ft. Morgan, Colo., area.

Cooler Weather Headed This Way

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are expected Thursday over the central and upper Mississippi Valley. Occasional rain is slated for the western sections of the north Pacific states. The rest of the country will have fair weather. Temperatures will rise in the eastern half of the country. The Plains area will have cooler weather. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Southeast Soil Efforts Lauded

Southeast Nebraska is one of the "bright spots in the country" when it comes to pushing soil conservation on a watershed basis, according to D. A. Williams, National Soil Conservation Service (SCS) administrator.

Williams stopped in Lincoln en route to Beatrice to take part in dedication activities for the Indian Creek watershed, one of 60 areas in the nation being developed under the "pilot" watershed program.

"Indian Creek and the Blue River Basin offer a fertile opportunity for an outstanding demonstration of what can be accomplished in watershed protection and flood prevention through understanding, teamwork and plain hard work by all hands," he said in an interview.

He described the small watershed program as "the second most important thing that ever happened in the conservation field—next to the formation of soil conservation districts."

Red Clover Seed Crop Decreases

The red clover seed crop in Nebraska this year will be 32 per cent below last year, the state-federal division of agricultural statistics predicted Wednesday.

Production this year is estimated at 1,040,000 pounds of clean seed, compared with 1,540,000 pounds last year. The current figure is 35 per cent below average.

This year's crop was harvested from 26,000 acres as compared with 44,000 acres last year and a 10-year average of 35,300 acres.

For the country as a whole, the 1954 production of red clover seed is indicated to be the smallest in 12 years.

Scout Fund Drive Takes In $60,251

OMAHA (AP) — Preliminary reports from the one-day annual Boy Scout fund raising campaign in Nebraska showed $60,251 collected in the five council areas.

The campaign was held Thursday, but Harry B. Coffee, president of the wide campaign, said solicitations will continue in some areas.

Some drives will be held later due to a conflict with local fund raising projects.

The Boy Scout funds will be used to promote an operational budget for Scout Work in Nebraska in 1955.

Here is the council breakdown:

Eastern Nebraska Stream Flow 88 Per Cent Of Normal

Extreme Southeast Said Deficient

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Geological Survey's water resources review map for September shows taht stream flow in eastern Nebraska was 88 per cent of normal for the month.

The map shows that in the extreme southeast corner of the state stream flow was dificient.

A survey spokesman said no data is available on stream flow in western Nebraska.

Three of the four key wells shown on the map, ranging from the northwest corner across to the southeast, were depicted as having ground water levels close to the lowest of record. The fourth, in the northeastern quarter of the state, had ground water level slightly above average.

Academy Exams Slated At Offutt

OMAHA (AP) — Twenty-one young men from four mid-western states are due at Offutt Air Force base next Monday to complete mental and physical examinations for the first class of the new Air Force academy.

The 21 candidates, all of whom have been nominated by their senators or representatives, will spent three to four days at Offutt. They come from Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Final selection and approval of nominees will be announced by Air Force headquarters in Washington.

Spoeneman Ruled Sheriff Nominee

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — District Judge I. J. Nisley of North Platte, ruled that former sheriff S. A. Spoeneman is the Keith County Republican nominee for sheriff.

Spoeneman led by four votes in the canvassing board count. Then incumbent Sheriff Boyd Harris challenged 11 disabled voters ballots cast for Spoeneman and County Judge W. I. Tillinghast held the 11 votes should not have been counted.

His decision gave Harris the lead.

Spoeneman appealed and later asked a writ of error. Judge Nisley held that two of the 11 ballots cast for Spoeneman were illegal, leaving nine legal, and that Spoeneman was the legal nominee.

Spoeneman had acted as agent for the disabled voters.

The Northwestern has now dropped passenger service west and north from Chadron into Wyoming and South Dakota.

Build-Up Of Lake Starts

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — After a constant lowering of its water level since April 20, the annual build-up of Lake McConaughy is in progress.

The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District, which owns and operates the big storage lake on the North Platte River, said it reached its lowest 1954 point of 1,038,700 acre feet on Oct. 2. It is the lowest the lake has beeen since 1946.

What's more, said officials, it will take a lot of rainfall and heavy snow pack in the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming this winter to bring McConaughy's storage back to the 1,592,700 acre feet level reached last April.

Wednesday it stood at 1,050,000 acre feet.

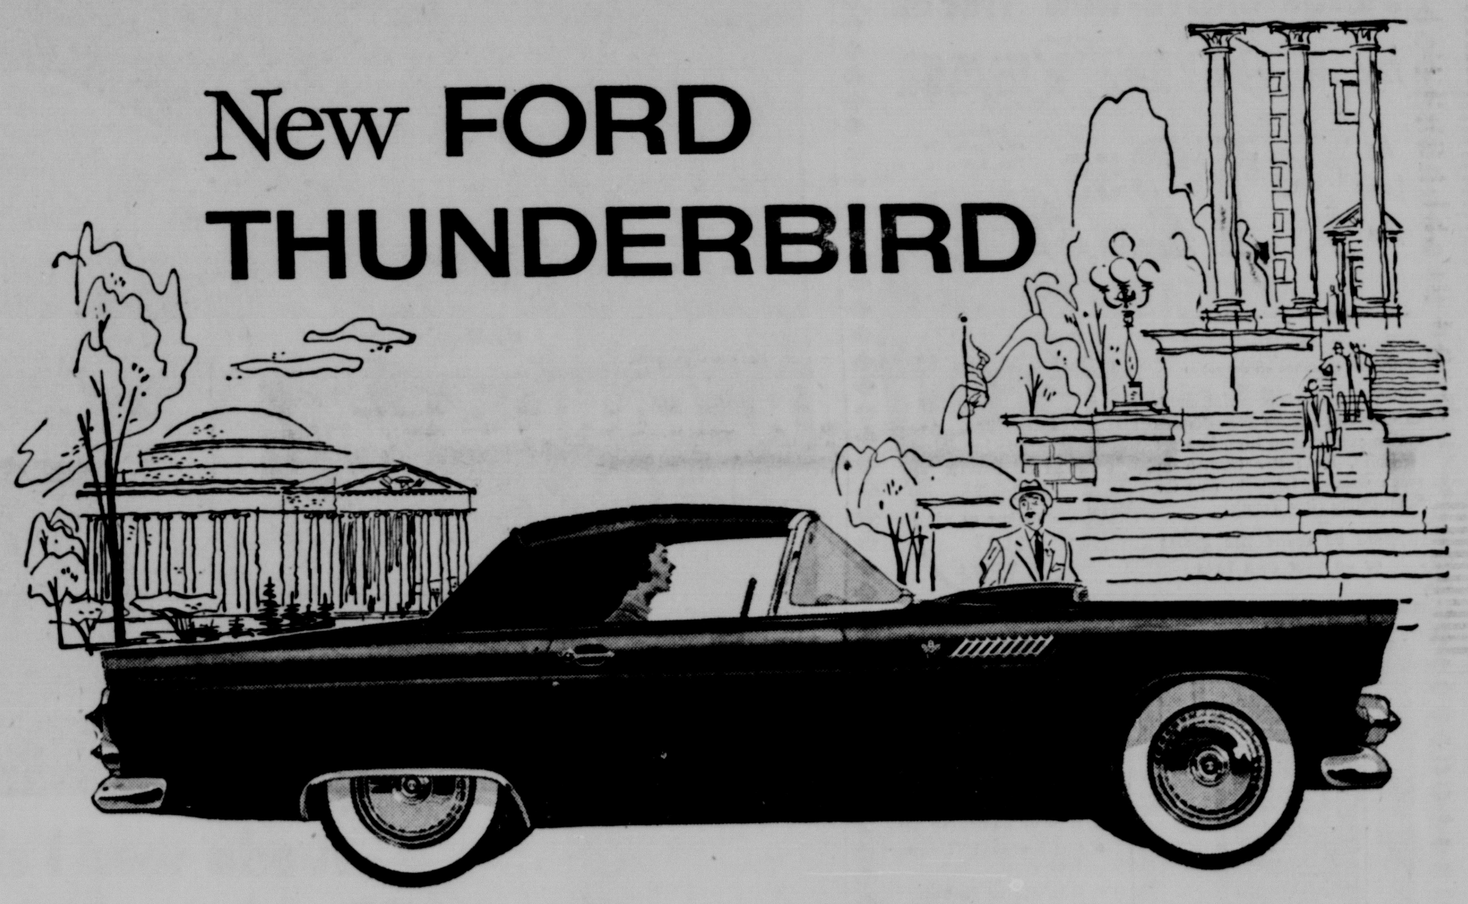
New FORD THUNDERBIRD



A personal car of distinction ...with Trigger-Torque performance

No matter what you have come to expect in a car, you'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. The baggage compartment is ample. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here – a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. For here is a car you can drive with assurance and pleasure . . . for business or for recreation.

In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand.

Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8 – a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And to enhance the performance characteristics of this brilliant V-8 engine, the Thunderbird provides special rear axle ratios to match the transmission of your choice – Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Then, in the ride department, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really works wonders. It not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease – to corner with greatest stability. And when it comes to stopping, brakes are big and powerful.

But, more important is the way the Thunderbird is engineered, designed . . . and built! For it is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Quality Improvement Seen As Higher Egg Price Aid

Consumption Promotion Urged

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

The time came Wednesday afternoon for members of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association to get off their chests the one item that is uppermost in their minds.

Those attending the annual NPIA convention in Lincoln packed the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel to hash over the problem of what can be done to improve egg prices. The prices are presently at their lowest level in many years, and Nebraska's egg prices are the lowest in the nation.

Heading the discussion was a panel of poultry experts which was in agreement on the means to improve egg prices. These include, basically, a means of improving the quality of eggs at the farm, getting them handled in such a way that their quality will not be hurt, and finally promoting the consumption of more eggs.

Carl Dossin, poultry extension specialist at Pennsylvania State College, warned that poultrymen in states like Nebraska will have to take steps to improve egg quality or have government legislation "shoved down their throats" which will see to it that quality is taken care of.

The old slogan, "let the buyer beware," was given a new twist by panel member Bob Russell of an Omaha poultry processing firm. "Today it's 'let the seller beware'." Russell said. "We have got to do what the consumer says. The consumers in many parts of the country are getting a taste of quality, and they will continue to get what they want."

Mahon C. Sweet, editor of Poultry Processing and Marketing magazine, said, "The poultry industry deserves to live and grow only as it is efficient. The farm flock must get larger. What happened to the old farm orchards? What happnened to the one-can milk producer?"

Some objections were voiced as to the structure of the Nebraska egg law which permits the sale of ungraded eggs, provided they are so marked. As one man pointed out, this allows the grocer to sell only ungraded eggs and makes it possible for the housewife to buy "a lot of junk."

"We have the perfect food in the egg," declared Fred Buzen of the Poultry and Egg National Board in Chicago, "and we've got to let the consumer know it." The quality of the egg must be assured, and then the product must be sold, he said.

Pointing to the promotion being carried on by other food industries, such as meat, Buzen said, "There is just so much room in the human stomach and we have got to see to it that eggs get their share of that room."

In answer to a question about whether Nebraska's location away from large centers of population is a handicap, Dossin pointed out that many consuming states are supplied by states as far as halfway across the continent.

Recommendations for Nebraska producers included the setting up of an organization which would manage the program of boosting egg quality and good marketing.

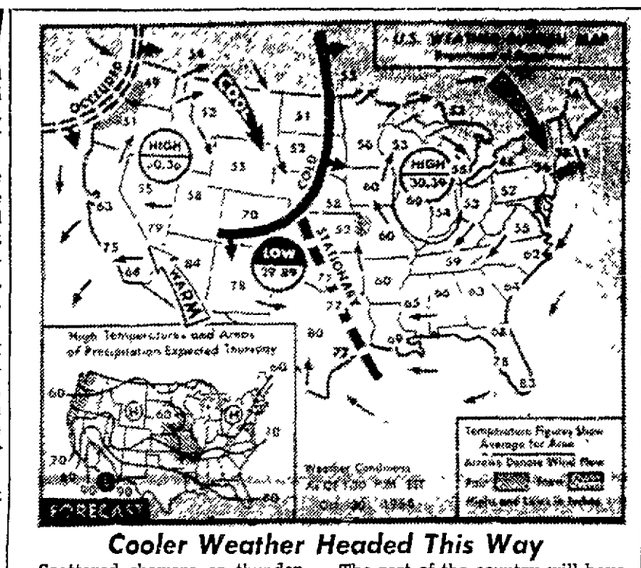
Garbage Contract Break Ruled Out

OMAHA (AP) — After an hour's conference with representatives of the City Sanitation Co. Wednesday city officials said they were convinced the refuse collection contract with the firm could not be broken legally.

Any plan to prevent high profits, which the recent Douglas County grand jury said were the result of the contract, would have to be by mutual consent, a spokesman said.

Two More Gas Wells

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP) — The S. D. Johnson Drilling Co, drilling for the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., will return here to drill two more wells after completing a job in the Ft. Morgan, Colo., area.



Cooler Weather Headed This Way

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are expected Thursday over the central and upper Mississippi Valley. Occasional rain is slated for the western sections of the north Pacific states. The rest of the country will have fair weather. Temperatures will rise in the eastern half of the country. The Plains area will have cooler weather. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Southeast Soil Efforts Lauded

Southeast Nebraska is one of the "bright spots in the country" when it comes to pushing soil conservation on a watershed basis, according to D. A. Williams, National Soil Conservation Service (SCS) administrator.

Williams stopped in Lincoln en route to Beatrice to take part in dedication activities for the Indian Creek watershed, one of 60 areas in the nation being developed under the "pilot" watershed program.

"Indian Creek and the Blue River Basin offer a fertile opportunity for an outstanding demonstration of what can be accomplished in watershed protection and flood prevention through understanding, teamwork and plain hard work by all hands," he said in an interview.

He described the small watershed program as "the second most important thing that ever happened in the conservation field—next to the formation of soil conservation districts."

Red Clover Seed Crop Decreases

The red clover seed crop in Nebraska this year will be 32 per cent below last year, the state-federal division of agricultural statistics predicted Wednesday.

Production this year is estimated at 1,040,000 pounds of clean seed, compared with 1,540,000 pounds last year. The current figure is 35 per cent below average.

This year's crop was harvested from 26,000 acres as compared with 44,000 acres last year and a 10-year average of 35,300 acres.

For the country as a whole, the 1954 production of red clover seed is indicated to be the smallest in 12 years.

New Gymnasium Proposed For Milligan

MILLIGAN, Neb.—A special election will be held here Nov. 16 to decide for or against the issuance of $85,000 in school bonds to finance construction of a new gymnasium and two classrooms east of the present school building.

The new gymnasium, Supt. Alfred Jensen said, would replace the present small basketball court in the basement of the school. The old gym has no spectator room, he added.

Milligaan has played no home basketball games since about 1944, the superintendent said. However, despite this handicap, he added, Milligan basketball teams have had unusual success, winning their district championships for the past three years.

Plans for the proposed new building call for a basketball court 42 by 72 feet and bleacher seating capacity of about 800 persons. Locker rooms for both boys and girls would be built under the long east side bleacher section.

No stage is planned since Milligan has a downtown auditorium of ample size.

The two classrooms which are planned as part of the new building would be put up between the new gymnasium and the present building. They would be used for home economics and science classes. At the prseent time, the Milligan school has no home economics department.

Redistricting has increased the enrollment in the Milligan schools in the past two years. Another district is contemplating joining the Milligan district next spring.

Spoeneman Ruled Sheriff Nominee

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — District Judge I. J. Nisley of North Platte, ruled that former sheriff S. A. Spoeneman is the Keith County Republican nominee for sheriff.

Spoeneman led by four votes in the canvassing board count. Then incumbent Sheriff Boyd Harris challenged 11 disabled voters ballots cast for Spoeneman and County Judge W. I. Tillinghast held the 11 votes should not have been counted.

His decision gave Harris the lead.

Spoeneman appealed and later asked a writ of error. Judge Nisley held that two of the 11 ballots cast for Spoeneman were illegal, leaving nine legal, and that Spoeneman was the legal nominee.

Spoeneman had acted as agent for the disabled voters.

Build-Up Of Lake Starts

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — After a constant lowering of its water level since April 20, the annual build-up of Lake McConaughy is in progress.

The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District, which owns and operates the big storage lake on the North Platte River, said it reached its lowest 1954 point of 1,038,700 acre feet on Oct. 2. It is the lowest the lake has beeen since 1946.

What's more, said officials, it will take a lot of rainfall and heavy snow pack in the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming this winter to bring McConaughy's storage back to the 1,592,700 acre feet level reached last April.

Wednesday it stood at 1,050,000 acre feet.

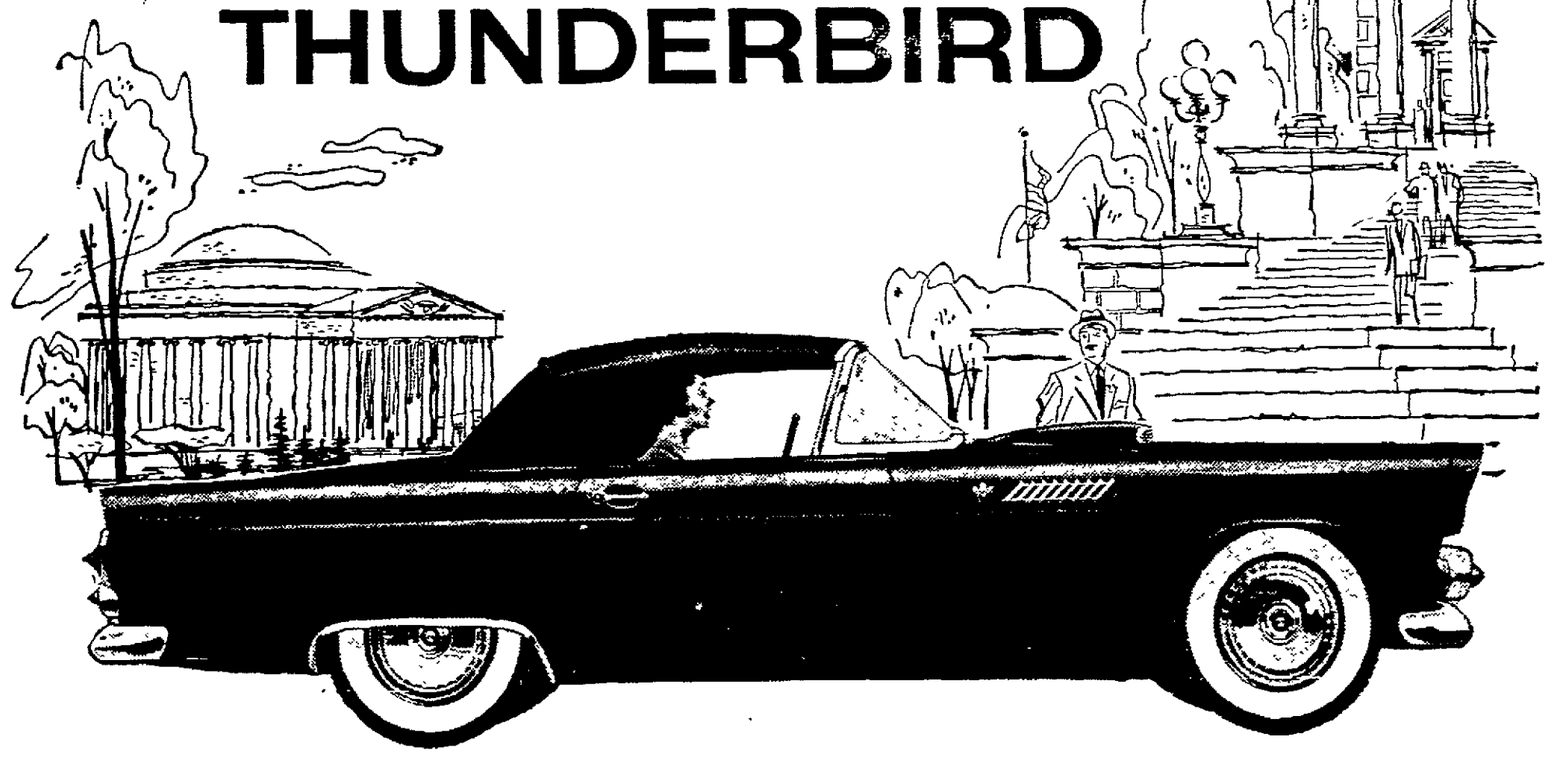
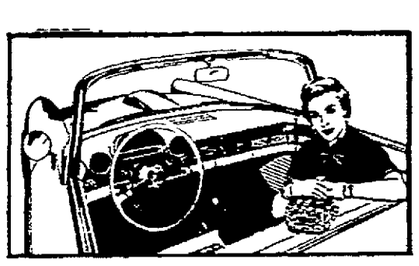
New FORD THUNDERBIRD



A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance



No matter what you have come to expect in a car, you'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. The baggage compartment is ample. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here — a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. For here is a car you can drive with assurance and pleasure . . . for business or for recreation.

In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand.

Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8 — a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And to enhance the performance characteristics of this brilliant V-8 engine, the Thunderbird provides special rear axle ratios to match the transmission of your choice — Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Then, in the ride department, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really works wonders. It not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease — to corner with greatest stability. And when it comes to stopping, brakes are big and powerful.

But, more important is the way the Thunderbird is engineered, designed . . . and built! For it is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL RACE—

Laird Vs. Miller--A Closeup Look

Today The Lincoln Star swings its political spotlight to the Fourth Nebraska Congressional District, where Carlton W. Laird, Scottsbluff Democrat, and Dr. A. L. Miller, Kimball Republican, are vying for a seat in the House of Representatives.

In an effort to acquaint the voter with their views, The Star asked them 14 questions.

Laird, 36, is manager of a steel products company and president of the Scotts Bluff County Young Democrats. He is a native of Shiocton, Wis., and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Miller, 62, has represented the district since 1942. A physician, he was state health director in 1941 and 1942 and served in the Legislature from 1937 to 1941. A native of Pierce County, he is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the Loyola University School of Medicine.

The questions and answers:

1. As a member of Congress, what do you think is the most important thing you could do to aid Nebraska's farm economy?

Laird: "Raise farm subsidy to at least 90 per cent, and greatly cut back the severe acreage controls. Unless the farm costs can be reduced we cannot expect the farmer to be the whipping boy for false economy and, single-handed, stand as the only one unwilling to take government supported free-enterprise. Parity is only assuring the farmer of an equality with the balance of the economy. Ninety per cent of equal is not high, and it is not rigid, since it varies with his other costs."

Miller: I favor more exports and research and urge the use of more milk, eggs, etc. I believe in 80 to 100 per cent parity and soil conservation.

2. What are your basic views regarding a farm program? Do you believe in a fixed or flexible system of price supports? What parity percentages do you favor?

Laird: "For the time being, and until the bulk of our economy ceases to be a war or defense for war economy, I would be in favor of at least 90 per cent. This is a stand for fixed supports. I believe that a better plan can be developed but the farmer cannot be penalized during this plan of development. The plan must include the farmer, and the Department of Agriculture must be a spokesman for the farmer, not a bureau of businessmen, processors and speculators."

Miller: I believe in a flexible system, and it will not solve any problem.

3. How would you deal with the farm surplus problem?

Laird: "To deal with a surplus of anything one must work on consumption and storage. The increased consumption cannot be created by rebuilding protective tariffs and restricting the reciprocal trade agreements. Big business interests are selfish to such a degree that they try to kill trade and cause their own funeral. Restrictive tariffs hurt the farmer who is business's best customer, resulting in unemployment and the spiral is started. The trade, not aid, promise is just another of the many broken promises of the present administration.

"The increased tariffs on Swiss watches cut off one of our farm markets. Is the watch industry of greater concern for defense than a prosperous and modern producer of food for defense and war?"

Miller: I believe in more exports

Laird

and keeping at least one to two years supply on hand. I believe in bushel, instead of acreage, allotment on wheat.

4. Do you believe there is too much disparity between the prices farmers receive for some of their products and the prices the consumer pays for these products? If yes is your answer, what would you do to remedy the situation?

Laird: "Yes. The decreasing parity program has worked the opposite of its advocates. Farm prices have decreased without a decrease to consumer and with a decrease of the farmers' per cent of the consumer dollar. Now they use the ancient theory of bleeding the carcass when the body is ill, or the theory to the farmer, that if he will take even lower prices he is bound to feel better.

"Give the farmer 90 per cent of parity and reduce the subsidy to the terminal elevators. Encourage storage with the farmer and small local elevator, so that they will be out from the price control of the speculator and processor. Under the Democratic administrations, the farmers' per cent of the consumer dollar was about eight per cent higher."

Miller: "Yes. There are too many middle men. We need more markets by farmers."

5. Do you favor private or public development of the nation's natural resources? Are you for or against the present administration's resources program?

Laird: "Anyone that is alert to the demands of this nation's growing population and our diminishing resources would have to be for public development of water resources. Power is one great issue. Soil conservation and protection of the nation's underground water levels are another. Some of the resources, such as oil, are in sufficient supply to permit private development. There is only one Hell's Canyon, however, and I haven't heard of a plan to dig another to provide competition. The President's statement that local interests can develop power better is either naive or a misrepresentation. Wall Street is not local interests. How many existing power developments are owned by local people in the respective area?"

"There is only a fixed amount of power that can be developed from any one river. Only so much water for irrigation. If we are concerned with the future we will develop these limited resources for the greatest good.

"Why is it that irrigation water in the ditch is not socialistic, but run it through a turbine and down a wire and it is socialism? Government support of highways to the tune of 60 per cent is not socialistic, etc. I am opposed to this administration's resource program for it favors the few."

Miller: Both. I want no more longterm contracts for sale of public power to private groups as executed by Chapman and Straus. Keep the preference clause.

6. Do you favor private or public development of atomic energy or both? Are you for or against the present administration's atomic energy development policies?

Laird: "I see nothing wrong with the development of both, but I am opposed to the present atomic energy plan that will give away the billions of taxpayers money in research for the monopolistic control of power. Power is an essential to thriving small businesses. The farmer is the largest user and only started. Thousands of small businessmen must have this guarantee of low cost power if they are to compete and not end up as a merger with some controlling interest.

"The present policy is also designed to cripple the effectiveness of TVA and to reduce its ability to sell low cost power. This plays into the hands of control."

Miller: "Private enterprise made this country great. Let government be an umpire guaranteeing fair play only."

7. Do you favor increased appropriations for Missouri Basin developments? Are you satisfied with the so-called Pick-Sloan plan?

Laird: "Yes. I believe that a Missouri Valley Authority could be worked out that would give more state autonomy that seems to be desired. The Pick-Sloan plan is workable also."

Miller: No. I do not favor increased appropriations for Missouri Basin developments.

8. Do you believe revisions of the Taft-Hartley law are necessary? If so, what revisions would you favor?

Laird: "The Taft-Hartley law was apparently not conceived in the good interest of labor as is visible now. Working under two administrations it is capable of many separate interpretations and can be decided at will in many ways. It will take years of legal battles to interpert its real effects by courts. In the meantime, we will have continued unrest and labor and management will both have much expense. I see no reason why the original Wagner Act could not have been amended to accomplish the desired results for both labor and management if there had been a sincere desire. We must have vast revisions of the Taft-Hartley law, or else scrap it and start over.

Miller: Yes. I favor the revisions as agreed upon last year by labor and industry, but then killed in the Senate by the Democrats.

9. Do you believe the small taxpayer is entitled to more relief than he has thus far received? Are you satisfied with the tax bill rewritten by the 83rd Congress as a permanent tax program for the American people?

Laird: "The small taxpayer is entitled to a higher base exemption rather than a lot of special provisions that require him to have adverse circumstances in order to qualify. It is a mistake to grant 80 per cent of the tax exemption to 20 per cent of the people. Those earning less than $5,000 per year will have no increased purchasing power and this is the largest group. If it is the permanent tax program for this nation, the economy will not be long standing."

Miller: It is an excellent program.

10. Are you for an increase or a decrease in expenditures for the nation's defenses?

Laird: "This is difficult to answer specifically without knowing the future a little better than most can forsee. I am inclined to think we are spending too much for a defensive program and that we are tending toward offensive action. We are triggering ourselves into action without good thought because of our productive capacity. It is not reaping returns with friends won or increasing the popularity of democracy. I think we can sell the idea of democracy, develop it as a working idea, with a lot less money spent."

Miller: I believe in less money and less waste. It's being done now. "More bangs for fewer bucks."

11. Do you believe Sen. McCarthy has been a hindrance or help in fighting Communism?

Laird: "He has been a hindrance for the most part, at least in the last year. McCarthy has adopted the practices of his adversary, and one form of immorality is not the correct substitute for another immorality. Clear, cool thinking is necessary to plan any strategy. It has been used as a plan to regiment and control thought, which is opposed to the basic principle of democracy."

Miller: He has been a great help.

12. Do you favor statehood for Hawaii? Do you favor statehood for Alaska? Should statehood for each be considered separately or together?

Laird: "I favor statehood for both, and I see no reason why they should be considered separately unless one wants to play politics."

Miller: Yes, for Hawaii. Yes, for Alaska if the northern part is cut out.

13. Do you believe that it is necessary to protect American industry by use of a high tariff? Briefly explain your position on reciprocal trade agreements.

Laird: "I do not favor high tariffs. The greatest asset to our economy is to have many other countries with strong economies. We cannot exist in an artificial prosperity at the expense of our neighbors. This is the best breeding ground for Communism. The development of mass production and high consumption, competitively produced is essential. We should encourage trade with reciprocal trade agreements wherever necessary to help our own export trade and increase the economy of other nations. This will assist to a greater extent than the cost in the long run, and will develop new markets and the expansion of capital into new markets. It will prove less expensive than an arms race, and, if viewed as a long range program, will give us our best returns and the most secure world economy."

Miller: We cannot export American jobs and be strong at home

14. What is your position on foreign aid? Do you favor cutting off foreign aid to countries trading with Communist countries? Or trading with neutral countries?

Laird: "I believe that our foreign aid should be toward the development of a nation's economy, or its own production program as rapidly as possible. What the Democrats used as stop gap measures to help war-weary nations for a temporary measure, have now been adopted by the Republicans as permanent measures. Our aid should be directed as rapidly as possible to self-help measures.

"I do not know how we can absolutely draw the line of no aid to countries trading with Communist countries unless we are willing to support them under a world WPA program indefinitely. In many areas the natural trade is with Communist-controlled nations or neutrals. We will not accept all of their products and we refuse to let them trade with markets that we have determined are beyond the line drawn. Without trade, there will be economic unrest and inroads to greater Communistic control. If a nation's productive capacity can be built into a sound economy, this will be the best weapon against dictatorial control. We cannot draw a hard and fast rule on this."

Miller: I favor less foreign aid. I am in favor of cutting off foreign aid to countries trading with Communist countries. We should help only those who will fight when the chips are down.

City Vote Registration Drive Is Launched

A Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce committee has launched a drive to stimulate voting registration before the Friday deadline.

The "Get Out The Vote" committee headed by Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke is distributing "Certificate of Lazy Citizenship" cards saying:

"This is to certify that the person who holds this card at 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 22, 1954, has displayed lazy citizenship by failing to be registered to vote on election day, Nov. 2, 1954."

If the person who receives the card is already registered, he is to pass it on to the first person he meets.

"Don't you be the one stuck with this certificate. If you are not registered, hold it until you have gone to the office of the Lancaster County election commissioner and registered. You may pass it on 15 minutes after you have registered," the instructions conclude.

Registration of voters is required by state law in cities of 7,000 population or over. There are 13 registration cities.

New Gymnasium Proposed For Milligan

MILLIGAN, Neb.—A special election will be held here Nov. 16 to decide for or against the issuance of $85,000 in school bonds to finance construction of a new gymnasium and two classrooms east of the present school building.

The new gymnasium, Supt. Alfred Jensen said, would replace the present small basketball court in the basement of the school. The old gym has no spectator room, he added.

Milligaan has played no home basketball games since about 1944, the superintendent said. However, despite this handicap, he added, Milligan basketball teams have had unusual success, winning their district championships for the past three years.

Plans for the proposed new building call for a basketball court 42 by 72 feet and bleacher seating capacity of about 800 persons. Locker rooms for both boys and girls would be built under the long east side bleacher section.

No stage is planned since Milligan has a downtown auditorium of ample size.

The two classrooms which are planned as part of the new building would be put up between the new gymnasium and the present building. They would be used for home economics and science classes. At the prseent time, the Milligan school has no home economics department.

Redistricting has increased the enrollment in the Milligan schools in the past two years. Another district is contemplating joining the Milligan district next spring.

Over 1,200 Musicians To Take Part In Band Day At Kearney

Lincoln Star Special

KEARNEY, Neb. — A record number of bands will participate in band day activities at Nebraska State Teachers College in Kearney Saturday. More than 1,200 band members representing 27 bands will march in the homecoming-band day parade, and mass on the football field at half-time to play two marches.

KSTC Band Director Robert House said five high school bands plus Kearney's junior high and grade school bands have been added to the original list of participants. The junior high and grade bands will march in the parade, but will not take part in half-time activities.

Wauneta, Elm Creek, Blue Hill, Bladen and Ravenna are the additions in the high school division, raising the number of high school bands to 24. The 70-piece college band and the younger Kearney groups boost the total to 27.

Band directors and members will eat an early lunch provided by the college, then form downtown for the parade, scheduled to begin at 12:30. The parade route leads to the football field, where Kearney meets Doane College in the traditional homecoming game.

General Says Guam Red's Top Target In Pacific

GUAM (INS)—A top American Air Force general said Wednesday that Guam would be Communism's No. 1 American target in the Pacific in the event of an all-out war.

The opinion was voiced by Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Caldera, who explained that the Reds would have to knock out Guam early because B-36 intercontinental bombers stationed on the island provides the U. S. with an air striking potential greater than it has ever had before in the Pacific.

Caldera commands the Strategic Air Command's Third Air Division stationed at Andersen Air Force Base on Guam.

Red Targets

Caldera said that the B-36s which are now flying daily "orientation" missions all over the western Pacific could take off from Guam, hit every important Russian target, and land in England.

There is also a strong belief among SAC pilots stationed on the island that some type of nuclear weapons are stored on Guam.

Caldera himself, when asked, said he did not know if America is storing atomic bombs on Guam and wouldn't say so even if he did know.

But SAC pilots in their billets and clubs on the island freely reply to questions by saying "a shotgun without shells is of little use."

Entire Wing

Guam jumped into the strategic planning spotlight when a flight of B-3 bombers—powered by six conventional and four jet motors each—flew to Andersen Air Base for a 90-day training period.

Guam then became the only American overseas base with an entire B-36 wing based on it.

The 92nd Heavy Bombardment Wing—known in SAC as a "hot wing"—flew non-stop from Fairchild Air Force Base near Spokane, Wash., to Guam. A heavy wing usually consists of 30 planes —each carrying a 16-man crew and necessary ground crew personnel.

Caldera, however, would not say how many B-36s made the flight with the 92nd.

Sneak Attack

Reports float around the island that the Air Force also has been asked to station interceptor jets at the island to protect it from the possibility of a sneak air attack.

Caldera said the B-36s during their 90-day stay would fly regularly from Guam to Japan and Okinawa on "routine training missions" to provide crews with what SAC calls "area orientation."

Eventually, B-52 all jet heavy bombers will replace the B-36s.

Caldera revealed that an intensive reconstruction job has been carried out on Guam since early this year to prepare the base to receive the B-36s. Two aviation engineer battalions were shipped to Guam where they extended runway and taxi strips and reinforced the overall air base area to accommodate the extra-heavy planes.

Ships Forced Back

WINNIPEG (AP)—The British dock strike has forced some ships to return to Canada without unloading small cargoes of wheat, Transport Minister R. W. Milner said. He added that the tieup is likely to slow the fall movement of grain.

THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL RACE—

Laird Vs. Miller--A Closeup Look

Today The Lincoln Star swings its political spotlight to the Fourth Nebraska Congressional District, where Carlton W. Laird, Scottsbluff Democrat, and Dr. A. L. Miller, Kimball Republican, are vying for a seat in the House of Representatives.

In an effort to acquaint the voter with their views, The Star asked them 14 questions.

Laird, 36, is manager of a steel products company and president of the Scotts Bluff County Young Democrats. He is a native of Shiocton, Wis., and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Miller, 62, has represented the district since 1942. A physician, he was state health director in 1941 and 1942 and served in the Legislature from 1937 to 1941. A native of Pierce County, he is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the Loyola University School of Medicine.

The questions and answers:

1. As a member of Congress, what do you think is the most important thing you could do to aid Nebraska's farm economy?

Laird: "Raise farm subsidy to at least 90 per cent, and greatly cut back the severe acreage controls. Unless the farm costs can be reduced we cannot expect the farmer to be the whipping boy for false economy and, single-handed, stand as the only one unwilling to take government supported free-enterprise. Parity is only assuring the farmer of an equality with the balance of the economy. Ninety per cent of equal is not high, and it is not rigid, since it varies with his other costs."

Miller: I favor more exports and research and urge the use of more milk, eggs, etc. I believe in 80 to 100 per cent parity and soil conservation.

2. What are your basic views regarding a farm program? Do you believe in a fixed or flexible system of price supports? What parity percentages do you favor?

Laird: "For the time being, and until the bulk of our economy ceases to be a war or defense for war economy, I would be in favor of at least 90 per cent. This is a stand for fixed supports. I believe that a better plan can be developed but the farmer cannot be penalized during this plan of development. The plan must include the farmer, and the Department of Agriculture must be a spokesman for the farmer, not a bureau of businessmen, processors and speculators."

Miller: I believe in a flexible system, and it will not solve any problem.

3. How would you deal with the farm surplus problem?

Laird: "To deal with a surplus of anything one must work on consumption and storage. The increased consumption cannot be created by rebuilding protective tariffs and restricting the reciprocal trade agreements. Big business interests are selfish to such a degree that they try to kill trade and cause their own funeral. Restrictive tariffs hurt the farmer who is business's best customer, resulting in unemployment and the spiral is started. The trade, not aid, promise is just another of the many broken promises of the present administration.

"The increased tariffs on Swiss watches cut off one of our farm markets. Is the watch industry of greater concern for defense than a prosperous and modern producer of food for defense and war?"

Miller: I believe in more exports

Laird

and keeping at least one to two years supply on hand. I believe in bushel, instead of acreage, allotment on wheat.

4. Do you believe there is too much disparity between the prices farmers receive for some of their products and the prices the consumer pays for these products? If yes is your answer, what would you do to remedy the situation?

Laird: "Yes. The decreasing parity program has worked the opposite of its advocates. Farm prices have decreased without a decrease to consumer and with a decrease of the farmers' per cent of the consumer dollar. Now they use the ancient theory of bleeding the carcass when the body is ill, or the theory to the farmer, that if he will take even lower prices he is bound to feel better.

"Give the farmer 90 per cent of parity and reduce the subsidy to the terminal elevators. Encourage storage with the farmer and small local elevator, so that they will be out from the price control of the speculator and processor. Under the Democratic administrations, the farmers' per cent of the consumer dollar was about eight per cent higher."

Miller: "Yes. There are too many middle men. We need more markets by farmers."

5. Do you favor private or public development of the nation's natural resources? Are you for or against the present administration's resources program?

Laird: "Anyone that is alert to the demands of this nation's growing population and our diminishing resources would have to be for public development of water resources. Power is one great issue. Soil conservation and protection of the nation's underground water levels are another. Some of the resources, such as oil, are in sufficient supply to permit private development. There is only one Hell's Canyon, however, and I haven't heard of a plan to dig another to provide competition. The President's statement that local interests can develop power better is either naive or a misrepresentation. Wall Street is not local interests. How many existing power developments are owned by local people in the respective area?"

"There is only a fixed amount of power that can be developed from any one river. Only so much water for irrigation. If we are concerned with the future we will develop these limited resources for the greatest good.

"Why is it that irrigation water in the ditch is not socialistic, but run it through a turbine and down a wire and it is socialism? Government support of highways to the tune of 60 per cent is not socialistic, etc. I am opposed to this administration's resource program for it favors the few."

Miller: Both. I want no more longterm contracts for sale of public power to private groups as executed by Chapman and Straus. Keep the preference clause.

6. Do you favor private or public development of atomic energy or both? Are you for or against the present administration's atomic energy development policies?

Laird: "I see nothing wrong with the development of both, but I am opposed to the present atomic energy plan that will give away the billions of taxpayers money in research for the monopolistic control of power. Power is an essential to thriving small businesses. The farmer is the largest user and only started. Thousands of small businessmen must have this guarantee of low cost power if they are to compete and not end up as a merger with some controlling interest.

"The present policy is also designed to cripple the effectiveness of TVA and to reduce its ability to sell low cost power. This plays into the hands of control."

Miller: "Private enterprise made this country great. Let government be an umpire guaranteeing fair play only."

7. Do you favor increased appropriations for Missouri Basin developments? Are you satisfied with the so-called Pick-Sloan plan?

Laird: "Yes. I believe that a Missouri Valley Authority could be worked out that would give more state autonomy that seems to be desired. The Pick-Sloan plan is workable also."

Miller: No. I do not favor increased appropriations for Missouri Basin developments.

8. Do you believe revisions of the Taft-Hartley law are necessary? If so, what revisions would you favor?

Laird: "The Taft-Hartley law was apparently not conceived in the good interest of labor as is visible now. Working under two administrations it is capable of many separate interpretations and can be decided at will in many ways. It will take years of legal battles to interpert its real effects by courts. In the meantime, we will have continued unrest and labor and management will both have much expense. I see no reason why the original Wagner Act could not have been amended to accomplish the desired results for both labor and management if there had been a sincere desire. We must have vast revisions of the Taft-Hartley law, or else scrap it and start over.

Miller: Yes. I favor the revisions as agreed upon last year by labor and industry, but then killed in the Senate by the Democrats.

9. Do you believe the small taxpayer is entitled to more relief than he has thus far received? Are you satisfied with the tax bill rewritten by the 83rd Congress as a permanent tax program for the American people?

Laird: "The small taxpayer is entitled to a higher base exemption rather than a lot of special provisions that require him to have adverse circumstances in order to qualify. It is a mistake to grant 80 per cent of the tax exemption to 20 per cent of the people. Those earning less than $5,000 per year will have no increased purchasing power and this is the largest group. If it is the permanent tax program for this nation, the economy will not be long standing."

Miller: It is an excellent program.

10. Are you for an increase or a decrease in expenditures for the nation's defenses?

Laird: "This is difficult to answer specifically without knowing the future a little better than most can forsee. I am inclined to think we are spending too much for a defensive program and that we are tending toward offensive action. We are triggering ourselves into action without good thought because of our productive capacity. It is not reaping returns with friends won or increasing the popularity of democracy. I think we can sell the idea of democracy, develop it as a working idea, with a lot less money spent."

Miller: I believe in less money and less waste. It's being done now. "More bangs for fewer bucks."

11. Do you believe Sen. McCarthy has been a hindrance or help in fighting Communism?

Laird: "He has been a hindrance for the most part, at least in the last year. McCarthy has adopted the practices of his adversary, and one form of immorality is not the correct substitute for another immorality. Clear, cool thinking is necessary to plan any strategy. It has been used as a plan to regiment and control thought, which is opposed to the basic principle of democracy."

Miller: He has been a great help.

12. Do you favor statehood for Hawaii? Do you favor statehood for Alaska? Should statehood for each be considered separately or together?

Laird: "I favor statehood for both, and I see no reason why they should be considered separately unless one wants to play politics."

Miller: Yes, for Hawaii. Yes, for Alaska if the northern part is cut out.

13. Do you believe that it is necessary to protect American industry by use of a high tariff? Briefly explain your position on reciprocal trade agreements.

Laird: "I do not favor high tariffs. The greatest asset to our economy is to have many other countries with strong economies. We cannot exist in an artificial prosperity at the expense of our neighbors. This is the best breeding ground for Communism. The development of mass production and high consumption, competitively produced is essential. We should encourage trade with reciprocal trade agreements wherever necessary to help our own export trade and increase the economy of other nations. This will assist to a greater extent than the cost in the long run, and will develop new markets and the expansion of capital into new markets. It will prove less expensive than an arms race, and, if viewed as a long range program, will give us our best returns and the most secure world economy."

Miller: We cannot export American jobs and be strong at home

14. What is your position on foreign aid? Do you favor cutting off foreign aid to countries trading with Communist countries? Or trading with neutral countries?

Laird: "I believe that our foreign aid should be toward the development of a nation's economy, or its own production program as rapidly as possible. What the Democrats used as stop gap measures to help war-weary nations for a temporary measure, have now been adopted by the Republicans as permanent measures. Our aid should be directed as rapidly as possible to self-help measures.

"I do not know how we can absolutely draw the line of no aid to countries trading with Communist countries unless we are willing to support them under a world WPA program indefinitely. In many areas the natural trade is with Communist-controlled nations or neutrals. We will not accept all of their products and we refuse to let them trade with markets that we have determined are beyond the line drawn. Without trade, there will be economic unrest and inroads to greater Communistic control. If a nation's productive capacity can be built into a sound economy, this will be the best weapon against dictatorial control. We cannot draw a hard and fast rule on this."

Miller: I favor less foreign aid. I am in favor of cutting off foreign aid to countries trading with Communist countries. We should help only those who will fight when the chips are down.

City Vote Registration Drive Is Launched

A Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce committee has launched a drive to stimulate voting registration before the Friday deadline.

The "Get Out The Vote" committee headed by Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke is distributing "Certificate of Lazy Citizenship" cards saying:

"This is to certify that the person who holds this card at 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 22, 1954, has displayed lazy citizenship by failing to be registered to vote on election day, Nov. 2, 1954."

If the person who receives the card is already registered, he is to pass it on to the first person he meets.

"Don't you be the one stuck with this certificate. If you are not registered, hold it until you have gone to the office of the Lancaster County election commissioner and registered. You may pass it on 15 minutes after you have registered," the instructions conclude.

Registration of voters is required by state law in cities of 7,000 population or over. There are 13 registration cities.

General Says Guam Red's Top Target In Pacific

GUAM (INS)—A top American Air Force general said Wednesday that Guam would be Communism's No. 1 American target in the Pacific in the event of an all-out war.

The opinion was voiced by Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Caldera, who explained that the Reds would have to knock out Guam early because B-36 intercontinental bombers stationed on the island provides the U. S. with an air striking potential greater than it has ever had before in the Pacific.

Caldera commands the Strategic Air Command's Third Air Division stationed at Andersen Air Force Base on Guam.

Red Targets

Caldera said that the B-36s which are now flying daily "orientation" missions all over the western Pacific could take off from Guam, hit every important Russian target, and land in England.

There is also a strong belief among SAC pilots stationed on the island that some type of nuclear weapons are stored on Guam.

Caldera himself, when asked, said he did not know if America is storing atomic bombs on Guam and wouldn't say so even if he did know.

But SAC pilots in their billets and clubs on the island freely reply to questions by saying "a shotgun without shells is of little use."

Entire Wing

Guam jumped into the strategic planning spotlight when a flight of B-3 bombers—powered by six conventional and four jet motors each—flew to Andersen Air Base for a 90-day training period.

Guam then became the only American overseas base with an entire B-36 wing based on it.

The 92nd Heavy Bombardment Wing—known in SAC as a "hot wing"—flew non-stop from Fairchild Air Force Base near Spokane, Wash., to Guam. A heavy wing usually consists of 30 planes—each carrying a 16-man crew and necessary ground crew personnel.

Caldera, however, would not say how many B-36s made the flight with the 92nd.

Sneak Attack

Reports float around the island that the Air Force also has been asked to station interceptor jets at the island to protect it from the possibility of a sneak air attack.

Caldera said the B-36s during their 90-day stay would fly regularly from Guam to Japan and Okinawa on "routine training missions" to provide crews with what SAC calls "area orientation."

Eventually, B-52 all jet heavy bombers will replace the B-36s.

Caldera revealed that an intensive reconstruction job has been carried out on Guam since early this year to prepare the base to receive the B-36s. Two aviation engineer battalions were shipped to Guam where they extended runway and taxi strips and reinforced the overall air base area to accommodate the extra-heavy planes.

Ships Forced Back

WINNIPEG (AP)—The British dock strike has forced some ships to return to Canada without unloading small cargoes of wheat, Transport Minister R. W. Milner said. He added that the tieup is likely to slow the fall movement of grain.

Reported missing were two new tires, a combination radio and phonograph record player and some oil and anti-freeze.

Five-Hour Flight

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP) — A Pan American DC6B flew here from Gander, Newfoundland—2,120 miles—in five hours and five minutes, an average speed of 416 miles an hour. The plane piloted by Capt. Charles Stenber completed its run from Detroit, a distance of 3,750 miles, in 10 hours and 40 minutes.

STAN DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD

In this shaky world, I am happy to state that the American manufacturer retains a bright, golden confidence in me.

Come unemployment, the trembling franc, excursions and alarums. The printed page assures me each lovely day that I am a bottomless pot of gold.

Heavy on the ready. Loaded with the Oscar Ash.

The daily appeals to my purse are not only constant. They are positively flattering. Also a triumph of democratic spirit.

Where else in the world will you find a consumer who buys his car on account of a four-color advertisement of a lady in a bathing suit?

Well, that is beside the point. What I was going to say is that the lady in the bathing suit seems on the decline these days. And more's the pity, I say.

Was a time when you could sell me a cold drink without implying that the gorgeous thing on the beach went with every bottle.

A new sales technique has come to pass. And I am not sure I am sold.

I am advised to buy a shirt by a gentleman with a patch over his eye.

I do not wear a patch on my eye. I am not sure the shirt would go with my personality.

Used to be that shirts were sold by bathing suit ladies. The ladies stood around admirably. While Johnny-on-the-town stood around giving them the old profile and the buttoned-down collar.

I am advised to drink tonic water by a gent with a beaver. The muff stands around at polo games and such. They admire the beard and he admires his tonic water.

Vodka is recommended to me by Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Canadian joy juice is hustled by climbers of Mount Everest and lion hunters.

My cigarettes are pushed by famous cartoonists.

My airline trips are advised by a business type in a pin stripe sult and a brief case.

What on earth has happened to the pretty stewardess, for heaven's sake?

I truly do not know why Madison Avenue has given the boot to the lady in the bathing suit. The lady so round, so firm, so fully packed. So free and easy on the drawing board.

I followed them down tobacco road and along superduper highways with everymatic drive.

They ushered me down many a primrose path of shirts, retreaded tires and Jersey lightning.

My flying was done with stewardesses who stood in full four-color bloom at the bottom of a painted gangway. What did I care whether they had engines.

Now I am asked to go riding with an executive with a brief case. Filled with bearded tonic water and wearing a patch over my eye.

All of this has mighty little appeal to a man of my distinct tastes. And I so advise the advertising people.

Back to the bathing suit, boys. This is a fast ride but the scenery is getting mighty dull.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

In this shaky world, I am happy to state that the American manufacturer retains a bright, golden confidence in me.

Come unemployment, the trembling franc, excursions and alarums. The printed page assures me each lovely day that I am a bottomless pot of gold.

Heavy on the ready. Loaded with the Oscar Ash.

The daily appeals to my purse are not only constant. They are positively flattering. Also a triumph of democratic spirit.

Where else in the world will you find a consumer who buys his car on account of a four-color advertisement of a lady in a bathing suit?

Well, that is beside the point. What I was going to say is that the lady in the bathing suit seems on the decline these days. And more's the pity, I say.

Was a time when you could sell me a cold drink without implying that the gorgeous thing on the beach went with every bottle.

A new sales technique has come to pass And I am not sure I am sold

I am advised to buy a shirt by a gentleman with a patch over his eye.

I do not wear a patch on my eye I am not sure the shirt would go with my personality.

Used to be that shirts were sold by bathing suit ladies. The ladies stood around admirably. While Johnny-on-the-town stood around giving them the old profile and the buttoned-down collar.

I am advised to drink tonic water by a gent with a beaver. The muff stands around at polo games and such. They admire the beard and he admires his tonic water

Vodka is recommended to me by Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Canadian joy juice is hustled by climbers of Mount Everest and lion hunters.

My cigarettes are pushed by famous cartoonists.

My airline trips are advised by a business type in a pin stripe suit and a brief case.

What on earth has happened to the pretty stewardess, for heaven's sake?

I truly do not know why Madison Avenue has given the boot to the lady in the bathing suit. The lady so round, so firm, so fully packed. So free and easy on the drawing board.

I followed them down tobacco road and along superduper highways with everymatic drive.

They ushered me down many a primrose path of shirts, retreaded tires and Jersey lightning.

My flying was done with stewardesses who stood in full four-color bloom at the bottom of a painted gangway. What did I care whether they had engines.

Now I am asked to go riding with an executive with a brief case. Filled with bearded tonic water and wearing a patch over my eye.

All of this has mighty little appeal to a man of my distinct tastes. And I so advise the advertising people.

Back to the bathing suit, boys. This is a fast ride but the scenery is getting mighty dull.

FOOTLIGHTS AND HIGHLIGHTS

HAVE SOME news from the world of the theater and playwrights this morning that we believe you will find as interesting as did we— The playwright is Nebraska's William McCleery whose "Good Housekeeping" actress Helen Hayes found enticing enough to buy— Now comes news that "Good Housekeeping" is to be revamped for TV — has a new name, "Fifth Wheel" — and a new leading lady, Faye Emerson. The performance will be next Tuesday evening—

We heard, also, that Mr. McCleery has a new play, "The Lady Chooses," which Miss Emerson tried out in summer stock the past season, and liked it so much that she will star in the production when it opens on Broadway later this season under the title, "Running Mate."

AWAY FROM the footlights and back to the highlights of the home town — This is the morning that Mrs. Dillworth Woolley arrives from Salt Lake City to spend some time as the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. H. H. Harley. We were told that Mr. Woolley will be coming early next week to join Mrs. Wooley for the remainder of her Lincoln visit.

MENTION of the Harley family reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. J. Burks Harley have not yet closed their summer home at Pelican Lake — but we hear that they plan to do so within a few days, and that they will be returning home some time next week.

A FEMININE threesome took off early this morning for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will spend a long week-end — The trio of travelers included Mrs. Harold Morgan, Mrs. W. W. Carveth — who will visit their daughters, Miss Cynthia Morgan and Miss Sarah Carveth, both students at the University of Michigan — and Mrs. William Orwig. For Mrs. Orwig the trip will be devoted to visiting old friends, for Ann Arbor is her former home.

MEANT TO tell you the other day that the Wilsons — Mr. and Mrs. Walter — are home again after a two or three weeks stay in New Orleans where they visited their son in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Yetter and their family.

THE CRIB crowd sent us a contribution this morning by way of news of a brand new arrival —Elroy Stewart Munson, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Stewart Munson, Jr., who put in an appearance at Lincoln General hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 19.

The young man, who, according to rumor, is to be known as Stewart rather than Elroy, has four doting grandparents in Lincoln — Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Munson, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory K. Peterson — His mother is the former Shirley Peterson.

JUST had some news that will be of interest to Lincoln — It has to do with the marriage of Miss Bette Bonn, formerly of Kansas City, to Charles Ledwith which took place on Friday, Oct. 15, in Omaha.

Mrs. Ledwith, who has established a number of schools for models in the midwest, is a former instructor at the University of Kansas, and also in the Kansas City public schools.

Upon their return from a plane trip to Mexico City and to Havana, Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Ledwith will reside at 831 Robert Rd.

Early Fall Wedding

Miss Sara Elizabeth Boulier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Boulier of Cedar Bluffs, became the bride of Ralph A. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson of Ceresco on Sunday evening, Oct. 3. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Bullock at the Cedar Bluffs Presbyterian Church before an altar lighted by white candles and appointed with arrangements of autumn blossoms.

Preceding the service, a prelude of organ music was presented by Mrs. Erma Ranslem who also played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Eula Royer, the vocal soloist.

Miss Lori Eklund of Council Bluffs, Ia., was the maid of honor and wore a waltz-length frock of crystalette in the shrimp tone. Wearing identical costumes were the bridesmaid, Miss Auryl Erickson of Omaha, in crimson, and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Bud Vacha of Schuyler, in emerald green. They carried nosegays of chrysanthemums and roses in frock tones.

Serving Mr. Olson as best man was Chesley S. Baker of Lincoln, and the ushers were Clark Jenson of Newman Grove, Dr. Walter Bennett of Omaha, James Flemming and Bob Wiegend, Cedar Bluffs.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white lace over satin in the period mode. Long sleeves and a Peter Pan collar accented the fitted bodice, which was patterned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and the widely flaring skirt extended into a train. Her veil of illusion was held by a cap of satin and lace, and she carried a white prayer book marked with a single white orchid.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Olson will reside in Lincoln.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesies

Board Okays One-Way Street System

No Park On O St. Vetoed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Traffic Commission has turned down a plan for the elimination of parking on O between 9th and 17th but approved a one-way street system for the city.

The no parking proposal had been submitted by the Police Department traffic division as a temporary answer to evening rush hour traffic congestion. Particularly, the restriction on parking was aimed at creating a third lane for right hand turns which now back up traffic on O for blocks from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

The sentiments of the Commission were best expressed by Fred Wells, O Street businessman and the major force behind the recently defeated charter amendment to provide city owned off-street parking lots. Wells stated, "As a member of the Commission, I am very sympathetic to this problem. But as a businessman, I am very opposed to it.

Peak Business Time

"I believe 90 per cent of the businessmen along O feel the same way. The suggested parking restriction comes at the peak of retail business.

"Also, there is not adequate off-street parking in the downtown area to permit abolishment of any curb parking now."

The one-way system, covering streets from K to R and 10th to 17th inclusive, is expected to cost about $28,000 for signals, signs, etc., according to Capt. Paul Shively of the traffic division.

The plan hinges on the opening of P Street over the Rock Island tracks at 20th. P is planned as one-way toward the west with east bound traffic only on O from 9th to 27th.

The main one-way pairs north and south are 16th and 17th from Holdrege to Euclid and 12th and 13th from R to South.

The one-way system could not possibly be installed before next summer or fall. Funds for this work, said Mayor Clark Jeary, will have to be appropriated in next year's budget as no money is available now.

The Commission also approved the following projects:

Cutting back the southwest corner of 21st and G and changing from angle to parallel parking.

Widening of No. 48th on the west side, north of Holdrege for a distance of 300 feet.

Cutting back the southeast corner of 40th and Randolph and changing from angle to parallel parking.

Prohibiting parking on the north side of R, 16th to 17th from 7 to 9 a.m.

Prohibiting parking at all times on the south side of Lake, 17th to 22nd.

Prohibiting parking at all times on the south side of Adams, 48th to Cotner.

Full Reciprocity To Be Extended Kansas Vehicles

Effective Thursday, full reciprocity will be extended to all properly registered Kansas pickup and panel trucks entering Nebraska, regardless of the commodity being hauled.

The policy has been outlined in a letter to Kansas officials from the Nebraska Motor Vehicle Department.

Reciprocity also will be extended to Kansas-licensed "straight" trucks hauling raw farm products, livestock and machinery, according to Dale Rogers, administrative assistant in the Nebraska department. But straight trucks from Kansas hauling other than the listed items, and all truck-trailer outfits, must have mileage trip permits to enter Nebraska.

Nebraska levies a ton-mile tax on certain Kansas trucks entering Nebraska because Kansas levies a similar tax on Nebraska trucks.

Rogers said the new statement of policy would be more easily interpreted by enforcement officers.

Kansas motor vehicle officials met with the Nebraska officials, Owen Boyles, chief of the Nebraska division, said and admitted that they are unable to make reciprocity agreements because of an injunction in Kansas courts.

They expressed the opinion that efforts will be made at the next session of the Kansas Legislature to repeal the ton-mile tax law which they said is too expensive to administer. As a result of the meeting, Nebraska will lessen requirements on certain Kansas trucks.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said he has received letters, telegrams and telephone calls from chambers of Commerce and merchants in Nebraska asking that restrictions be reduced because merchants in this state are losing business of Kansas farmers.

School Oil Lease Policy Is Scored

William Grubbs, Scottsbluff, Democratic nominee for attorney general, said here Wednesday a state policy on auctioning oil leases on school lands is losing money for the state school fund.

Grubbs criticized the ruling that the amount bid must be the yearly rental.

Grubbs said common oil leasing procedure permits a bonus bid to obtain the lease, with a smaller amount annually thereafter as "delayed rental."

He explained that the initial amount might be $2.50 per acre, and 59 cents an acre yearly thereafter.

But the state board of educational lands and funds has adopted a policy that the initial bid and succeeding yearly payments must be the same, Grubbs charged.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Robert Nelson, who wrote the legal opinion on which the rule is based, said the initial payment counts as the first year's rent and cannot be larger than later payments.

Nelson said the state gets more bidders this way, and the big companies are not able to freeze out competition with big bonus offers.

FOOTLIGHTS AND HIGHLIGHTS

HAVE SOME news from the world of the theater and playwrights this morning that we believe you will find as interesting as did we— The playwright is Nebraska's William McCleery whose "Good Housekeeping" actress Helen Hayes found enticing enough to buy— Now comes news that "Good Housekeeping" is to be revamped for TV — has a new name, "Fifth Wheel" — and a new leading lady, Faye Emerson. The performance will be next Tuesday evening—

We heard, also, that Mr. McCleery has a new play, "The Lady Chooses," which Miss Emerson tried out in summer stock the past season, and liked it so much that she will star in the production when it opens on Broadway later this season under the title, "Running Mate."

AWAY FROM the footlights and back to the highlights of the home town — This is the morning that Mrs. Dillworth Woolley arrives from Salt Lake City to spend some time as the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. H. H. Harley. We were told that Mr. Woolley will be coming early next week to join Mrs. Wooley for the remainder of her Lincoln visit.

MENTION of the Harley family reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. J. Burks Harley have not yet closed their summer home at Pelican Lake — but we hear that they plan to do so within a few days, and that they will be returning home some time next week.

A FEMININE threesome took off early this morning for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will spend a long week-end — The trio of travelers included Mrs. Harold Morgan, Mrs. W. W. Carveth — who will visit their daughters, Miss Cynthia Morgan and Miss Sarah Carveth, both students at the University of Michigan — and Mrs. William Orwig. For Mrs. Orwig the trip will be devoted to visiting old friends, for Ann Arbor is her former home.

MEANT TO tell you the other day that the Wilsons — Mr. and Mrs. Walter — are home again after a two or three weeks stay in New Orleans where they visited their son in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Yetter and their family.

THE CRIB crowd sent us a contribution this morning by way of news of a brand new arrival —Elroy Stewart Munson, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Stewart Munson, Jr., who put in an appearance at Lincoln General hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 19.

The young man, who, according to rumor, is to be known as Stewart rather than Elroy, has four doting grandparents in Lincoln — Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Munson, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory K. Peterson — His mother is the former Shirley Peterson.

JUST had some news that will be of interest to Lincoln — It has to do with the marriage of Miss Bette Bonn, formerly of Kansas City, to Charles Ledwith which took place on Friday, Oct. 15, in Omaha.

Mrs. Ledwith, who has established a number of schools for models in the midwest, is a former instructor at the University of Kansas, and also in the Kansas City public schools.

Upon their return from a plane trip to Mexico City and to Havana, Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Ledwith will reside at 831 Robert Rd.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Angelo and their son, Michael, left Wednesday to return home to Santa Ana, Calif., after spending several weeks in Lincoln as the guests of Mr. Angelo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Angelo, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 10. Also coming from out of town for the occasion were Mrs. Angelo's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White of East Portal, Colo.

Early Fall Wedding

Miss Sara Elizabeth Boulier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Boulier of Cedar Bluffs, became the bride of Ralph A. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson of Ceresco on Sunday evening, Oct. 3. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Bullock at the Cedar Bluffs Presbyterian Church before an altar lighted by white candles and appointed with arrangements of autumn blossoms.

Preceding the service, a prelude of organ music was presented by Mrs. Erma Ranslem who also played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Eula Royer, the vocal soloist.

Miss Lori Eklund of Council Bluffs, Ia., was the maid of honor and wore a waltz-length frock of crystalette in the shrimp tone. Wearing identical costumes were the bridesmaid, Miss Auryl Erickson of Omaha, in crimson, and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Bud Vacha of Schuyler, in emerald green. They carried nosegays of chrysanthemums and roses in frock tones.

Serving Mr. Olson as best man was Chesley S. Baker of Lincoln, and the ushers were Clark Jenson of Newman Grove, Dr. Walter Bennett of Omaha, James Flemming and Bob Wiegend, Cedar Bluffs.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white lace over satin in the period mode. Long sleeves and a Peter Pan collar accented the fitted bodice, which was patterned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and the widely flaring skirt extended into a train. Her veil of illusion was held by a cap of satin and lace, and she carried a white prayer book marked with a single white orchid.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Olson will reside in Lincoln.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Board Okays One-Way Street System

No Park On O St. Vetoed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Traffic Commission has turned down a plan for the elimination of parking on O between 9th and 17th but approved a one-way street system for the city.

The no parking proposal had been submitted by the Police Department traffic division as a temporary answer to evening rush hour traffic congestion. Particularly, the restriction on parking was aimed at creating a third lane for right hand turns which now back up traffic on O for blocks from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

The sentiments of the Commission were best expressed by Fred Wells, O Street businessman and the major force behind the recently defeated charter amendment to provide city owned off-street parking lots. Wells stated, "As a member of the Commission, I am very sympathetic to this problem. But as a businessman, I am very opposed to it.

Peak Business Time

"I believe 90 per cent of the businessmen along O feel the same way. The suggested parking restriction comes at the peak of retail business.

"Also, there is not adequate off-street parking in the downtown area to permit abolishment of any curb parking now."

The one-way system, covering streets from K to R and 10th to 17th inclusive, is expected to cost about $28,000 for signals, signs, etc., according to Capt. Paul Shively of the traffic division.

The plan hinges on the opening of P Street over the Rock Island tracks at 20th. P is planned as one-way toward the west with east bound traffic only on O from 9th to 27th.

The main one-way pairs north and south are 16th and 17th from Holdrege to Euclid and 12th and 13th from R to South.

The one-way system could not possibly be installed before next summer or fall. Funds for this work, said Mayor Clark Jeary, will have to be appropriated in next year's budget as no money is available now.

The Commission also approved the following projects:

Cutting back the southwest corner of 21st and G and changing from angle to parallel parking.

Widening of No. 48th on the west side, north of Holdrege for a distance of 300 feet

Cutting back the southeast corner of 40th and Randolph and changing from angle to parallel parking

Prohibiting parking on the north side of O, 16th to 17th from 7 to 9 a.m.

Prohibiting parking at all times on the south side of Lake, 17th to 22nd.

Prohibiting parking at all times on the south side of Adams, 48th to Comer.

Full Reciprocity To Be Extended Kansas Vehicles

Effective Thursday, full reciprocity will be extended to all properly registered Kansas pickup and panel trucks entering Nebraska, regardless of the commodity being hauled.

The policy has been outlined in a letter to Kansas officials from the Nebraska Motor Vehicle Department.

Reciprocity also will be extended to Kansas-licensed "straight" trucks hauling raw farm products, livestock and machinery, according to Dale Rogers, administrative assistant in the Nebraska department. But straight trucks from Kansas hauling other than the listed items, and all truck-trailer outfits, must have mileage trip permits to enter Nebraska.

Nebraska levies a ton-mile tax on certain Kansas trucks entering Nebraska because Kansas levies a similar tax on Nebraska trucks.

Rogers said the new statement of policy would be more easily interpreted by enforcement officers.

Kansas motor vehicle officials met with the Nebraska officials, Owen Boyles, chief of the Nebraska division, said and admitted that they are unable to make reciprocity agreements because of an injunction in Kansas courts.

They expressed the opinion that efforts will be made at the next session of the Kansas Legislature to repeal the ton-mile tax law which they said is too expensive to administer. As a result of the meeting, Nebraska will lessen requirements on certain Kansas trucks.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said he has received letters, telegrams and telephone calls from chambers of Commerce and merchants in Nebraska asking that restrictions be reduced because merchants in this state are losing business of Kansas farmers.

School Oil Lease Policy Is Scored

William Grubbs, Scottsbluff, Democratic nominee for attorney general, said here Wednesday a state policy on auctioning oil leases on school lands is losing money for the state school fund.

Grubbs criticized the ruling that the amount bid must be the yearly rental.

Grubbs said common oil leasing procedure permits a bonus bid to obtain the lease, with a smaller amount annually thereafter as "delayed rental."

He explained that the initial amount might be $2.50 per acre, and 59 cents an acre yearly thereafter.

But the state board of educational lands and funds has adopted a policy that the initial bid and succeeding yearly payments must be the same, Grubbs charged.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Robert Nelson, who wrote the legal opinion on which the rule is based, said the initial payment counts as the first year's rent and cannot be larger than later payments.

Nelson said the state gets more bidders this way, and the big companies are not able to freeze out competition with big bonus offers.

Heavy Drill Completed By Huskers

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

It was another rough afternoon at the University of Nebraska football proving grounds Wednesday as Coach Bill Glassford scrimmaged his legions offensively and defensively.

The Tuesday drill ended the heavy preparations for the Colorado game at Boulder Saturday. Thursday the troops will taper off and Friday they'll fly to Denver for a short workout on the South High gridiron.

Guard Jim Murphy, who has been out of action for a week with an aggravated charley horse, engaged in the scrimmage Wednesday and indications are that he will be ready for the Buffs. He'll take his usual spot on the No. 2 unit, last week filled by Tom Kripal.

Rex Fischer also continued working and his leg is apparently holding up all right, so he may get to see some action Saturday, though not full time with either the first or second unit.

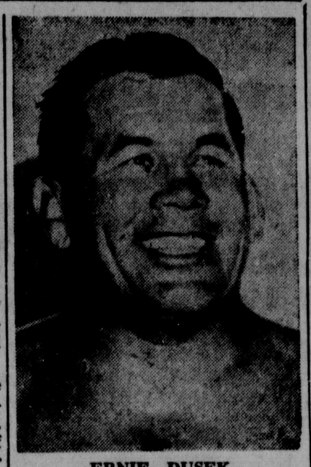
Pass defense also got a thorough going over Wednesday, in addition to the emphasis on the Husker Split T attack and the alterations on the defense, designed to halt the swift and effective Colorado Single Wing offenses.

Wrigley Comeback Award Established

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America Tuesday established an annual William Wrigley Jr award for baseball's Comeback of the Year.

The new award, named for the father of present Chicago Cub President P. K. Wrigley, is a companion trophy to the J. Louis Comiskey award for long and meritorious service to baseball.

Both awards will be presented at the 15th annual Diamond Dinner of the group next Jan. 16.



ERNIE DUSEK

Pesek, Cowboy To Try Duseks

Professor Adam Krieger, a man of many moods, was the laughing, joyful, expansive Krieger of successful wrestling promotions Wednesday afternoon when he announced the signing of Cowboy Carlson as a partner of big Jack Pesek for Tuesday's tag team match at the Fairgrounds.

The Prof., an advocate of "the more the merrier" party philosophy, said he preferred a crowded ring for the Tuesday main event because such a program breaks the recent local trend toward individual grapples.

Carlson, the big man from Miles City, Mont., will team with Smiling Jack in an affair against Ernie and Emil Dusek of Omaha in two-out-of-three falls with a 60-minute time limit.

The semifinal match pits two Lincoln newcomers, Dick Brown of Kansas City and Dave Simms of Minneapolis.

Lincoln's Howard Pierce will clutch with Kansas City's Frank Altman in the opener.

Missouri Scout

Ray Prochaska, Nebraska end coach, will scout the Missouri Tigers Saturday at Columbia when they entertain the Iowa State Cyclones. Missouri comes to Lincoln next Saturday.

Gavilan Loses 'Lousy Fight'; Vote Unanimous

By JACK HAND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sturdy Johnny Saxton, fighting a cautious counter-punching battle, stripped listless Kid Gavilan of his world welterweight title Wednesday night on a unanimous decision in a dull 15-round bout at Convention Hall.

The 24-year-old new champion, a New York Golden Gloves grad, won the votes of all three officials after a battle marred by much holding, wrestling, tugging and shoving. At times it looked more like a wrestling match than a fight.

"It was a lousy fight," said Chairman Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission. "But I guess they did as well as they could."

The disappointing crowd of 7,909, paying a gross gate of $57,121 to see the nationally televised bout (Philadelphia area blacked out) cheered the upset victory by a boy who has done most of his main bout fighting in Philadelphia.

From time to time through the dull battle, boos rang out as the fans reacted by stomping on the floor, trying to stimulate a little more action.

Only Outburst at End

Only in the closing minutes, when the Cuban Keed staged his only real Gavilan-style burst of action did the customers warm up. The final burst had them cheering at the end, the only real outburst of the scrap.

Saxton fought a counter-punching scrap, moving inside and trying to batter Gavilan when he surged in. Sometimes he succeeded, but often he did nothing more than tie up his man for a prolonged wrestling session. Hans Schmidt and Antonino Rocca would have done much better.

The decision seemed to strike a receptive chord with the crowd, but it didn't agree with the cards of the working press, many of whom had disagreed with another Philadelphia decision against Ezzard Charles by Jersey Joe Walcott two years back.

Referee Pete Pantaleo scored it 9-6, Judge Jimmy Mina 7-6-2 and Judge Nat Lopinson 8-6-1, all for Saxton. The Associated Press scoreboard was 8-4-3 for Gavilan.

A quick check of the boxing writers at ringside showed 12 of the first 13 contacted thought Gavilan had won.

Gavilan Slow

Gavilan, who had held the title since he defeated Bratton in New York, May 18, 1951, did not show his customary speed of hand or foot, except for brief flashes. Perhaps he was weak at 145½ pounds, 2½ pounds under the welter class limit. Saxton seemed strong at 146¼.

The champ had gone into the match a 7-5 favorite after a reported late surge for the challenger. Earlier in the week he had been 2-1 favorite.

Sobbing hysterically in his dressing room, Gavilan claimed "I knew I couldn't win before the fight started unless I knocked him out. All he had to do is stay the 15. I don't want anything, I don't deserve, but I win at least nine rounds. From the very start, the referee gave him everything his way from the first round on."

There was little zip and dash in Gavilan tonight, but Saxton didn't do enough fighting to deserve the decision in this book. Time after time, he stood facing The Keed with hands down, each waiting for the other guy to throw a punch.

Gavilan, at least, kept pawing away with his left jab and driving an occasional hook to the body.

'Will Follow Rules' Says Miami Prexy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The President of the University of Miami which was placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Executive Council Wednesday, said the school "will attempt to live up to the rules in the future."

Dr. Jay S. W. Pearson said the school had paid transportation costs of prospective football players visiting the campus.

"We did and we got the penalty," he said. "We had been partly ignorant of the rules, but now we will attempt to live up to the spirit as well as the letter of the rules."

Dr. Pearson said he understood the probation to mean that athletic teams from the University of Miami could not participate in any NCAA events or association-approved invitational events after the regular season.

Kid Says Fight 'Fixed'

. . . Hearing Slated

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Kid Gavilan, sobbing in his dressing room, claimed his fight with Johnny Saxton at Convention Hall Wednesday night was "fixed" and he didn't have a chance unless he scored a knockout.

Gavilan lost a unanimous 15-round decision and his welterweight title to the 24-year-old Saxton of Brooklyn before 7,909 fans.

"People don't talk for nothing," said the Cuban Kid in his broken English. "I know from the first round on that I cannot win. The referee he gives Saxton everything his way.

"I don't want nothing that I don't deserve, but I win at least nine rounds. I no want a return bout. I no want to fight any more," said the broken-hearted Cuban who had been welterweight champion since 1951.

Gavilan could hardly speak to reporters who jammed his dressing room and bombarded the former champion with questions.

Mundito Medina, Gavilan's trainer, shouted that "the referee had failed to penalize Saxton for low blows and allowed him to get away with holding, pushing, and everything but fighting."

Commissioner Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission went to Saxton's dressing room and told the new champion and his manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, "It was a lousy fight. If the champion fought like I've seen him fight in the past, you wouldn't have won."

Then the commissioner engaged in an argument with Palermo and James B. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, as to the merits of the fight. Palermo insisted his boy had fought a planned battle and Norris commented that he thought it wasn't a bad fight.

Wiener said at first that although he thought "the fight was lousy" he didn't intend to do anything about it. But when he learned that the fight experts at ringside had voted 15-1 in favor of Gavilan the commissioner ordered a hearing at 9 a.m. (CST) today. He said he would order both fighters and handlers to be present. He did not say what action he planned to take.

In Saxton's dressing room, the new champion said his first move would be to appear in traffic court in New York today where he faces a 15-day jail sentence for numerous traffic violations.

Highest Paid Giant In History:

Alvin Dark Signs For '55; Gets $36,500

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Alvin Dark Wednesday signed a New York Giant contract that made him the highest paid player in the history of the club.

The soft-spoken and highly efficient shortstop, called by Manager Leo Durocher the "heart and guts" of the ball club, affixed his signature to a two-year contract calling for $36,500 a year.

Although no terms were announced, it was reliably learned that the scrappy team captain was given a raise of $5,000 over his $31,500 earnings of 1953 and 1954.

Dark's contract thus exceeds by $500 the previous high of $36,000 given to pitcher Sal Maglie in 1952.

Bill Terry and Mel Ott both made more money but only when they doubled as player and manager.

Top salary ever made by Carl Hubbell, the Giants' great southpaw pitcher and Johnny Mize, their great slugger, was $30,000. Rogers Hornsby was paid $27,500 in 1927 after the Giants had acquired him from the St. Louis Cardinals in 1927 in exchange for Frankie Frisch.

Although no remarks accompanied Dark's returned contract, it was obvious he must have been pleased since he was the first to sign with the world champions for 1955. Alvin's last signing was in somewhat different atmosphere. That one ended the only holdout problem confronted by the Giants last season. The club and Dark didn't reach an agreement until March 3, after the start of spring training.

The 5-11 all-around athlete wound up a superb season with an individual performance that matched the team showing this year. He played in every game, batted .293 and had a fielding average of .956. His 189 hits included 20 home runs and 70 runs batted in.

A quiet, unassuming performer, Dark was not in the spotlight as often as his more spectacular teammate, Willie Mays, for instance, but to those who followed the Giants' fortunes closely, he was recognized as the "heart and guts" of the club. A real take-charge guy, the article assumed Eddie S[illegible]e driving for[illegible] to manage the Cardinals in 1952.

NCAA Reprimands Miami U, CCNY

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Wednesday slapped one-year probations on the University of Miami Fla., and City College of New York.

The NCAA's 18-member council also reprimanded the University of Portland Ore.) and Western Illinois State College at Macomb, Ill.

Wednesday's probation bars CCNY from playing in the 1955 basketball tournament at Kansas City and makes Miami ineligible to "enter athletes or teams in the National Collegiate championship events sponsored by the NCAA for the college year 1954-55.

But, the rub for Miami, whose football team has won four straight games this year, may come at the year's end. Mentioned as a likely candidate for the Sugar Bowl, Miami may find itself on the sidelines for the big post-season game.

Walter Byers, executive director for the NCAA, said earlier in the three-day meetings here that the Sugar Bowl, along with the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference and the Drake Relays, had agreed to bar any team censured or put on a probationary basis by the NCAA.

The University of Portland allegedly violated NCAA regulations by conducting tryouts for 11 prospective basketball players last April under the direction of Head Coach Art McLarney.

The action against CCNY came as an outgrowth of the basketball scandals which shocked the sports world in 1950 and led to the suspension of Head Coach Nat Holman. A complete overhauling of the athletic setup at the New York school followed the scandals.

The report of the NCAA Committee on Rules Infractions said that the "high school records of 14 or more athletes admitted to City College of New York during the years 1945 to 1951 were sufficiently and fraudulently changed to establish for admission to the college.

Miami was given the one-year probationary period for allegedly violating NCAA regulations by providing "transportation costs of prospective athletes to visit the campus during at least the past four years" and for conducting "tryouts for prospective football players."

The Sharper Is Going Up

Prediction: A name to watch in Nebraska prep sports is Jim Sharp, former strong-arm outfielder of the U. of N. and currently coach of a winning team for Omaha Central High in the city reserve football league.

The 28-year-old Sharp took Beaver City from the bottom of the Republican Valley Conference to a challenging position in three seasons and last year coached the backfield at a larger town, Norton, Kan.

He was all-everything in sports at Omaha North and went to the University of Illinois under Ray Eliot in 1943 before a knee injury beat him and cost the Illini an adept quarterback.

As a passer he rates in Omaha prep memory with San Vacanti of Tech and that contemporary marvel, Mike Dugan of Prep.

A Nebraska Independent League baseball player during recent summers, the Sharper finally is back home but is bucking the staid Omaha prep circuit where coaching changes are uncommon.

Look for one of the down Omaha schools to sign Sharp in the near years and then to head for the top in that league.

Coach Jesse Sell is putting reality into that musty crack about coaches building character during the seasons when they have little success on the gridiron.

Talented Jesse, a freshman in the world of wins and losses and laborious days and sleepless nights, has won no games at Edgar where he is rebuilding in his first season with the Huskies.

But recently he opened a teen-age canteen for the Edgar kids and paid the first monthly rent bill out of the Sell bank account.

Jesse held four jobs at one time while a senior at Nebraska in 1951 and was rated the best hamburger maker ever to work over the grill of Brick Willis, the Lincoln golfer and bowler who ran an eat-shop on 13th street near the campus.

Brick is the sharp guy who loaded his walls with pix of Husker athletes and always found a spot in his cafe for a boy who needed a job during school months.

They say Charley Mulvaney, an envelope salesman by trade but an athlete at heart and a Nebraska basketball player in 1945, is one of the rising young high school sports officials in the eastern part of the state.

Tall Charley works a lot with Cornie Collin, the Omaha South cage boss who has directed the Packers to two state titles during his years in South Omaha.

Mulvaney was all-state with the Omaha Benson team which lost to Lincoln High in the state finals in the Coliseum in 1943 when Don McArthur was the irresistable force of the Red and Black.

Johnson To Sue Owners

CHICAGO (AP) — Arnold Johnson, Chicago industrialist who wants to move the Philadelphia Athletics franchise to Kansas City, said Wednesday night that he is considering a suit for "substantial" damages against the Philadelphia syndicate that bought the A's.

"I feel that I have been wronged by the Philadelphia group who so suddenly appeared on the scene, and propose to get my legal remedy," Johnson said in a statement.

"Mr. Charles J. Biddle of the Philadelphia firm of Drinker, Biddle and Reath, has been engaged for the purpose of studying the advisability of filing suit against the Philadelphia individuals now in the picture, not only for the cash damages sustained by me, but also on the grounds that this group joined together to induce a breach of the contract which I made in good faith for the purchase of the A's.

"In view of the indicated advance ticket sale (in Kansas City) of almost two million dollars, the measure of my damages should be substantial."

"I must emphasize," Johnson continued, "that this action is not directed in any manner against the American League or any of the club owners, all of whom in my opinion have acted in the best of faith, as have I, throughout this entire transaction.

"This is apt to be a long and expensive litigation, but with the amount I have invested in this matter I am willing to go the limit. I am going to be just as persistent and tenacious in this litigation as I have previously been in reaching an agreement for the purchase of the A's. A further statement will be made after receiving a full opinion from my Philadelphia lawyers. Prompt action will follow such opinion."

Campy Undergoes Second Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella underwent surgery on his left hand Wednesday with high hopes the operation would restore the devastating batting power that was reduced to a minimum this past season.

The stocky Brooklyn Dodger catcher, undergoing his second operation in less than six months, was under the knife for four hours as doctors first had to remove stubborn scar tissues before the actual operation.

The first operation was performed last May for the removal of bone chips caused by an injury in spring training. After a four-week layoff, Campanella returned to action but his effectiveness both at bat and behind the plate had been considerably reduced.

The second surgery, which released adhesions that had captivated the ulnar nerve causing partial paralysis, was performed by neuro-surgeon Dr. Samuel Schenkman with Dr. Lyndon Hill assisting.

Arizona's Luppino On Way To Greatest Scoring Season Ever

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Luppino, hunky Arizona sophomore, the nation's leading major college ball carrier, is on his way to one of the greatest scoring seasons of all time, official NCAA Service Bureau statistics revealed Wednesday.

Luppino already has scored 79 points in only four games. With still six more games to go, the tailback from La Jolla, Calif., has an excellent chance to take his place among the top 10 scorers of all time in major competition. He also has a chance for the all-time touchdown record.

Luppino has scored 12 touchdowns and has added 7 extra points. He owns a 27-point lead over runner-up Rusty Fairly of Denver, who has 7 touchdowns and 10 extra points for 52 points. Last year's winner, incidentally, scored only 81 points.

If Luppino maintains his present pace—he's averaging 19.8 points a game—he'll wind up tied with Jim Thorpe for the all-time second place. He scored 22 last Saturday.

Three players are tied for third with 48 points. They are Jon Arnett, USC; Allen Muirhead, Mississippi and Joe Miller, Cincinnati. Four others, Colorado's John Bayuk, Princeton's Royce Flippin, UCLA's Bob Davenport and Oregon's Dick James are tied for sixth with 42 points. Joe Terrasi of Boston University rounds out the top 10 with 39 points.

Luppino's scoring is the product of tremendous yardage. He has accumulated 607 yards on the ground 356 yards on nine kick-off returns and an overall 1,087 yards including runbacks. He leads the country in each of these categories.

George Marinkov of North Carolina State is second in the kick-off department with 267 yards. Arizona State's Dick Mackey is third with 207, Villanova's Al Ciarrochi is fourth with 203 and Drake's Gene Hendrix is fifth with 194.

Tere are other department leaders besides Luppino. Jim Hanifan of California caught seven passes Saturday to wrest the pass receiving lead from Oregon's Dick James. Hanifan has caught 22 passes to James' 19. John Stewart of Stanford is third with 17 and Drake's Jerry Mertens and Columbia's George Seitz are tied for fourth with 16 apiece. Mertens is the yardage leader with 351.

Top one-day performance of the season was turned in by Dartmouth senior Dick Flagg, who caught 11 passes against Colgate. He had caught only two before that. The best one-team combination of receivers is Hanifan and Jim Carmichael of California. They've caught 34.

A's Contest In 9th Frame

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics franchise contest was in the ninth inning Wednesday with American League President Will Harridge apparently at bat.

Arthur Rosenberg, spokesman for a group of nine Philadelphia businessmen who combined capital to buy the franchise, said Roy Mack had been asked to contact Harridge immediately concerning league approval of the sale.

Rosenberg indicated that all the legal technicalities with regard to the sale of the A's to the Philadelphia syndicate have been ironed out over the conference table in the last two days, but that from here on in, the nine would-be owners will bide their time until Harridge announced league approval of the deal.

Earl Hilligan, league public relations director, said Tuesday that Harridge was waiting for complete details of the transaction before taking any action. Presumably Roy Mack, present executive vice president of the A's and leader of the fight to keep the club here, has those details to give Harridge.

Nebraska's football squad may get some help next fall from returning Servicemen, according to Bill Glassford.

Liska Looks Again, Likes Wisconsin Over Ohio State

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The old Midwest Swami, who missed on Northwestern and Indiana last weekend on bad breaks, cautiously conjures for the coming Saturday:

WISCONSIN 19, OHIO STATE 14—This looms a blue chip showdown for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid. The Buckeyes can match Wisconsin's Alan (The Horse) Ameche, with Bobby Watkins and Howie Cassady, but the Badgers have a passing edge. The unsung guys in front can settle this one as the Big Ten's two best lines lock horns.

MINNESOTA 21, MICHIGAN 7—The Little Brown Jug battle finds the unbeaten Gophers a visiting favorite for the first time since the Bernie Bierman era. Murray Warmath has done a brilliant job of waking the sleeping giants of the Northland. Michigan "lucked" to a 7-0 victory over Northwestern, trimmed earlier by Minnesota, 26-7. The game is at Ann Arbor which may extend the Gophers, who scored three of their four victories at home.

IOWA 20, INDIANA 7 — The Hawkeyes finished strong in their 20-14 loss to Ohio State. They'll be ready for the Hoosiers, who may prove stubborn hosts. Despite the loss to Missouri, Bernie Crimmins' Indiana team is no pushover.

PURDUE 14, MICHIGAN STATE 13—The Spartans can move that ball as they proved against Notre Dame, but Purdue still has a good line and Len Dawson. The Boilermakers just couldn't overcome penalties and Billy Lowe's record-tying 98-yard scoring run on an interception against Wisconsin. MSC should brush up on its place-kicking.

ILLINOIS 21, SYRACUSE 12—The Illini finally find somebody their own size and should win their first victory in five starts.

NORTHWESTERN 20, PITT 13—Despite Pitt's upset of Navy, we think Northwestern will prove too much a desperate Wildcat for the satisfied Panthers.

Probation For Spartans Ends

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Executive Council said Wednesday Michigan State College, placed on probation a year ago for holding tryout sessions for prospective athletes, has been removed from the probationary list and restored to all "the rights and privileges of an NCAA member."

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, issued a statement saying Michigan State has been "reprimanded for the tryouts of five prospective football players and was given probationary status Aug. 17, 1953, for the activities of the Spartan Foundation."

The Spartan Foundation is composed of Michigan State alumni.

Heavy Drill Completed By Huskers

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

It was another rough afternoon at the University of Nebraska football proving grounds Wednesday as Coach Bill Glassford scrimmaged his legions offensively and defensively.

The Tuesday drill ended the heavy preparations for the Colorado game at Boulder Saturday. Thursday the troops will taper off and Friday they'll fly to Denver for a short workout on the South High gridiron.

Guard Jim Murphy, who has been out of action for a week with an aggravated charley horse, engaged in the scrimmage Wednesday and indications are that he will be ready for the Buffs. He'll take his usual spot on the No. 2 unit, last week filled by Tom Kripal.

Rex Fischer also continued working and his leg is apparently holding up all right, so he may get to see some action Saturday, though not full time with either the first or second unit.

Pass defense also got a thorough going over Wednesday, in addition to the emphasis on the Husker Split T attack and the alterations on the defense, designed to halt the swift and effective Colorado Single Wing offenses.

Wrigley Comeback Award Established

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America Tuesday established an annual William Wrigley Jr. award for baseball's Comeback of the Year.

The new award, named for the father of present Chicago Cub President P. K. Wrigley, is a companion trophy to the J. Louis Comiskey award for long and meritorious service to baseball.

Both awards will be presented at the 15th annual Diamond Dinner of the group next Jan. 16.

Pesek, Cowboy To Try Duseks

Professor Adam Krieger, a man of many moods, was the laughing, joyful, expansive Krieger of successful wrestling promotions Wednesday afternoon when he announced the signing of Cowboy Carlson as a partner of big Jack Pesek for Tuesday's tag team match at the Fairgrounds.

The Prof., an advocate of "the more the merrier" party philosophy, said he preferred a crowded ring for the Tuesday main event because such a program breaks the recent local trend toward individual grapples.

Carlson, the big man from Miles City, Mont., will team with Smiling Jack in an affair against Ernie and Emil Dusek of Omaha in two-out-of-three falls with a 60-minute time limit.

The semifinal match pits two Lincoln newcomers, Dick Brown of Kansas City and Dave Simms of Minneapolis.

Lincoln's Howard Pierce will clutch with Kansas City's Frank Altman in the opener.

Ray Prochaska, Nebraska end coach, will scout the Missouri Tigers Saturday at Columbia when they entertain the Iowa State Cyclones. Missouri comes to Lincoln next Saturday.

Gavilan Loses 'Lousy Fight'; Vote Unanimous

By JACK HAND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sturdy Johnny Saxton, fighting a cautious counter-punching battle, stripped listless Kid Gavilan of his world welterweight title Wednesday night on a unanimous decision in a dull 15-round bout at Convention Hall.

The 24-year-old new champion, a New York Golden Gloves grad, won the votes of all three officials after a battle marred by much holding, wrestling, tugging and shoving. At times it looked more like a wrestling match than a fight.

"It was a lousy fight," said Chairman Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission. "But I guess they did as well as they could."

The disappointing crowd of 7,909, paying a gross gate of $57,121 to see the nationally televised bout (Philadelphia area blacked out) cheered the upset victory by a boy who has done most of his main bout fighting in Philadelphia.

From time to time through the dull battle, boos rang out as the fans reacted by stomping on the floor, trying to stimulate a little more action.

Only Outburst at End

Only in the closing minutes, when the Cuban Keed staged his only real Gavilan-style burst of action did the customers warm up. The final burst had them cheering at the end, the only real outburst of the scrap.

Saxton fought a counter-punching scrap, moving inside and trying to batter Gavilan when he surged in. Sometimes he succeeded, but often he did nothing more than tie up his man for a prolonged wrestling session. Hans Schmidt and Antonino Rocca would have done much better.

The decision seemed to strike a receptive chord with the crowd, but it didn't agree with the cards of the working press, many of whom had disagreed with another Philadelphia decision against Ezzard Charles by Jersey Joe Walcott two years back.

Referee Pete Pantaleo scored it 9-6, Judge Jimmy Mina 7-6-2 and Judge Nat Lopinson 8-6-1, all for Saxton. The Associated Press scoreboard was 8-4-3 for Gavilan.

A quick check of the boxing writers at ringside showed 12 of the first 13 contacted thought Gavilan had won.

Gavilan Slow

Gavilan, who had held the title since he defeated Bratton in New York, May 18, 1951, did not show his customary speed of hand or foot, except for brief flashes. Perhaps he was weak at 145½ pounds, 2½ pounds under the welter class limit. Saxton seemed strong at 146¼.

The champ had gone into the match a 7-5 favorite after a reported late surge for the challenger. Earlier in the week he had been 2-1 favorite.

Sobbing hysterically in his dressing room, Gavilan claimed "I knew I couldn't win before the fight started unless I knocked him out. All he had to do is stay the 15. I don't want anything, I don't deserve, but I win at least nine rounds. From the very start, the referee gave him everything his way from the first round on."

There was little zip and dash in Gavilan tonight, but Saxton didn't do enough fighting to deserve the decision in this book. Time after time, he stood facing The Keed with hands down, each waiting for the other guy to throw a punch.

Gavilan, at least, kept pawing away with his left jab and driving an occasional hook to the body.

Center—Bob Lyall (200) of Lincoln.
Right guard—Lester Kampe (180) of Red Oak, Ia., or Joe Sadowski (190) of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

'Will Follow Rules' Says Miami Prexy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The President of the University of Miami which was placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Executive Council Wednesday, said the school "will attempt to live up to the rules in the future."

Dr. Jay S. W. Pearson said the school had paid transportation costs of prospective football players visiting the campus.

"We did and we got the penalty," he said. "We had been partly ignorant of the rules, but now we will attempt to live up to the spirit as well as the letter of the rules."

Dr. Pearson said he understood the probation to mean that athletic teams from the University of Miami could not participate in any NCAA events or association-approved invitational events after the regular season.

Kid Says Fight 'Fixed'

... Hearing Slated

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Kid Gavilan, sobbing in his dressing room, claimed his fight with Johnny Saxton at Convention Hall Wednesday night was "fixed" and he didn't have a chance unless he scored a knockout.

Gavilan lost a unanimous 15-round decision and his welterweight title to the 24-year-old Saxton of Brooklyn before 7,909 fans.

"People don't talk for nothing," said the Cuban Kid in his broken English. "I know from the first round on that I cannot win. The referee he gives Saxton everything his way.

"I don't want nothing that I don't deserve, but I win at least nine rounds. I no want a return bout. I no want to fight any more," said the broken-hearted Cuban who had been welterweight champion since 1951.

Gavilan could hardly speak to reporters who jammed his dressing room and bombarded the former champion with questions.

Mundito Medina, Gavilan's trainer, shouted that "the referee had failed to penalize Saxton for low blows and allowed him to get away with holding, pushing, and everything but fighting."

Commissioner Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission went to Saxton's dressing room and told the new champion and his manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, "It was a lousy fight. If the champion fought like I've seen him fight in the past, you wouldn't have won."

Then the commissioner engaged in an argument with Palermo and James B. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, as to the merits of the fight. Palermo insisted his boy had fought a planned battle and Norris commented that he thought it wasn't a bad fight.

Wiener said at first that although he thought "the fight was lousy" he didn't intend to do anything about it. But when he learned that the fight experts at ringside had voted 15-1 in favor of Gavilan the commissioner ordered a hearing at 9 a.m. (CST) today. He said he would order both fighters and handlers to be present. He did not say what action he planned to take.

In Saxton's dressing room, the new champion said his first move would be to appear in traffic court in New York today where he faces a 15-day jail sentence for numerous traffic violations.

Highest Paid Giant In History:

Alvin Dark Signs For '55; Gets $36,500

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Alvin Dark Wednesday signed a New York Giant contract that made him the highest paid player in the history of the club.

The soft-spoken and highly efficient shortstop, called by Manager Leo Durocher the "heart and guts" of the ball club, affixed his signature to a two-year contract calling for $36,500 a year.

Although no terms were announced, it was reliably learned that the scrappy team captain was given a raise of $5,000 over his $31,500 earnings of 1953 and 1954.

Dark's contract thus exceeds by $500 the previous high of $36,000 given to pitcher Sal Maglie in 1952.

Bill Terry and Mel Ott both made more money but only when they doubled as player and manager.

Top salary ever made by Carl Hubbell, the Giants' great southpaw pitcher and Johnny Mize, their great slugger, was $30,000. Rogers Hornsby was paid $27,500 in 1927 after the Giants had acquired him from the St. Louis Cardinals in 1927 in exchange for Frankie Frisch.

Although no remarks accompanied Dark's returned contract, it was obvious he must have been pleased since he was the first to sign with the world champions for 1955. Alvin's last signing was in somewhat different atmosphere. That one ended the only holdout problem confronted by the Giants last season. The club and Dark didn't reach an agreement until March 3, after the start of spring training.

The 5-11 all-around athlete wound up a superb season with an individual performance that matched the team showing this year. He played in every game, batted .293 and had a fielding average of .956. His 189 hits included 20 home runs and 70 runs batted in.

A quiet, unassuming performer, Dark was not in the spotlight as often as his more spectacular teammate, Willie Mays, for instance, but to those who followed the Giants' fortunes closely, he was recognized as the "heart and guts" of the club. A real take-charge guy, the articu[late] assumed Eddie [Stanky] the driving force to manage the Cardinals in 1952.

NCAA Reprimands Miami U, CCNY

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Wednesday slapped one-year probations on the University of Miami Fla., and City College of New York.

The NCAA's 18-member council also reprimanded the University of Portland Ore.) and Western Illinois State College at Macomb, Ill.

Wednesday's probation bars CCNY from playing in the 1955 basketball tournament at Kansas City and makes Miami ineligible to "enter athletes or teams in the National Collegiate championship events sponsored by the NCAA for the college year 1954-55.

But, the rub for Miami, whose football team has won four straight games this year, may come at the year's end. Mentioned as a likely candidate for the Sugar Bowl, Miami may find itself on the sidelines for the big post-season game.

Walter Byers, executive director for the NCAA, said earlier in the three-day meetings here that the Sugar Bowl, along with the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference and the Drake Relays, had agreed to bar any team censured or put on a probationary basis by the NCAA.

The University of Portland allegedly violated NCAA regulations by conducting tryouts for 11 prospective basketball players last April under the direction of Head Coach Art McLarney.

The action against CCNY came as an outgrowth of the basketball scandals which shocked the sports world in 1950 and led to the suspension of Head Coach Nat Holman. A complete overhauling of the athletic setup at the New York school followed the scandals.

The report of the NCAA Committee on Rules Infractions said that the "high school records of 14 or more athletes admitted to City College of New York during the years 1945 to 1951 were sufficiently and fraudulently changed to establish for admission to the college.

Miami was given the one-year probationary period for allegedly violating NCAA regulations by providing "transportation costs of prospective athletes to visit the campus during at least the past four years" and for conducting "tryouts for prospective football players."

Giving Them Fitz

The Sharper Is Going Up

Prediction: A name to watch in Nebraska prep sports is Jim Sharp, former strong-arm outfielder of the U. of N. and currently coach of a winning team for Omaha Central High in the city reserve football league.

The 28-year-old Sharp took Beaver City from the bottom of the Republican Valley Conference to a challenging position in three seasons and last year coached the backfield at a larger town, Norton, Kan.

He was all-everything in sports at Omaha North and went to the University of Illinois under Ray Eliot in 1943 before a knee injury beat him and cost the Illini an adept quarterback.

As a passer he rates in Omaha prep memory with San Vacanti of Tech and that contemporary marvel, Mike Dugan of Prep.

A Nebraska Independent League baseball player during recent summers, the Sharper finally is back home but is bucking the staid Omaha prep circuit where coaching changes are uncommon.

Look for one of the down Omaha schools to sign Sharp in the near years and then to head for the top in that league.

Coach Jesse Sell is putting reality into that musty crack about coaches building character during the seasons when they have little success on the gridiron.

Talented Jesse, a freshman in the world of wins and losses and laborious days and sleepless nights, has won no games at Edgar where he is rebuilding in his first season with the Huskies.

But recently he opened a teenage canteen for the Edgar kids and paid the first monthly rent bill out of the Sell bank account.

Jesse held four jobs at one time while a senior at Nebraska in 1951 and was rated the best hamburger maker ever to work over the grill of Brick Willis, the Lincoln golfer and bowler who ran an eat-shop on 13th street near the campus.

Brick is the sharp guy who loaded his walls with pix of Husker athletes and always found a spot in his cafe for a boy who needed a job during school months.

They say Charley Mulvaney, an envelope salesman by trade but an athlete at heart and a Nebraska basketball player in 1945, is one of the rising young high school sports officials in the eastern part of the state.

Tall Charley works a lot with Cornie Collin, the Omaha South cage boss who has directed the Packers to two state titles during his years in South Omaha.

Mulvaney was all-state with the Omaha Benson team which lost to Lincoln High in the state finals in the Coliseum in 1943 when Don McArthur was the irresistable force of the Red and Black.

Three Workhorses Top Wesleyan Ball-Carriers

Three veteran backfield stars continued to dominate the Nebraska Wesleyan University statistical columns today.

Halfbacks Cliff Kahl and Bob Starr and Fullback Sanford Nelson have been the most potent forces in the strong Wesleyan offense with the timid scoring punch.

Kahl (50.0), Starr (45.0) and Nelson (42.3) are accounting for an average rushing gain of 137.3 yards per game between themselves. Each has scored a pair of touchdowns to account for all of the six-point efforts. And Nelson has been the team's top kicker, booting 30 times for a total of 1034 and a game average of 34.4.

The Plainsmen have a team rushing average of 160.6.

The Wesleyan defense which ranked fourth in the nation among smaller schools last week, continues to limit foes to 114.1 yards per game in the rushing department and is giving up an average of 38.3 through the air.

At the same time the Lincoln crew is averaging 196.6 yards per game in the total offense department, while foes are gaining an average of 152.5.

The Plainsmen have failed to score through the air and have completed only 17 of 66 passes. But opponents too have been able to hit on but 17 aerial efforts, although four of these have been taken in the end zone for touchdowns.

Ohio Prep Coach Admits Drug Given To Basketballers

ASHLAND, O. (AP) — For admittedly giving a drug to key players "to pep them up" before "important games," Cloyce E. Taylor was out of his job today as basketball coach at Ashland High School.

The 45-year-old Taylor, winner of 157 games against 33 losses in his nine years at Ashland, conceded to a board of education open meeting Tuesday he had engaged in the practice for several years.

The board asked for — and got —his resignation, despite Taylor's protest that he was being "railroaded."

Taylor told Board President Richard Bear the drug he gave a few starting players was called dexedrine sulphate. The drug, which comes in tablets, is defined as a central nervous system stimulant.

The board said boys they questioned who had taken the drug said it gave them a "high pitched" sensation.

Extra Points Save Three Top Ten Football Teams

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three teams in the college football top ten this week possibly are there because an official's arms went up like this () instead of waving back and forth horizontally like this - - on each point attempts.

UCLA, Notre Dame and Arkansas, Nos. 3, 6 and 7, respectively in the select list, all escaped ties because they had guys who could split the uprights, make a perfect placement, or whatever a fellow does when he placekicks the extra point. We forgot to say calmly. He's always calm, isn't he?

Anyway, a tie, or even a defeat if it's a team with the awesome reputation of Notre Dame, doesn't necessarily keep a team out of the top ten at this stage of the season, but the voters would be less than human if they weren't influenced to some degree by a stalemate.

Notre Dame, for instance, has remained up there despite a quite convincing whomping at the hands of a subsequently deflated Purdue eleven. It hardly is probable the voters would have overlooked both a defeat and a tie, which the Irish would have got with Michigan State were it not for greater success in tries for points after touchdowns. It is interesting to note that Purdue, with a defeat and a tie now on its record, dropped to 13th place.

UCLA came through with a one-point victory over Washington, 21-20, and Arkansas escaped a tie with Baylor by the same margin.

Incidentally, no teams which have been tied are in the top ten, although Army, which has joined the select group, is in the same category as Notre Dame, with a defeat marring its record.

Johnson To Sue Owners

CHICAGO (AP) — Arnold Johnson, Chicago industrialist who wants to move the Philadelphia Athletics franchise to Kansas City, said Wednesday night that he is considering a suit for "substantial" damages against the Philadelphia syndicate that bought the A's.

"I feel that I have been wronged by the Philadelphia group who so suddenly appeared on the scene, and propose to get my legal remedy," Johnson said in a statement.

"Mr. Charles J. Biddle of the Philadelphia firm of Drinker, Biddle and Reath, has been engaged for the purpose of studying the advisability of filing suit against the Philadelphia individuals now in the picture, not only for the cash damages sustained by me, but also on the grounds that this group joined together to induce a breach of the contract which I made in good faith for the purchase of the A's.

"In view of the indicated advance ticket sale (in Kansas City) of almost two million dollars, the measure of my damages should be substantial."

"I must emphasize," Johnson continued, "that this action is not directed in any manner against the American League or any of the club owners, all of whom in my opinion have acted in the best of faith, as have I, throughout this entire transaction.

"This is apt to be a long and expensive litigation, but with the amount I have invested in this matter I am willing to go the limit. I am going to be just as persistent and tenacious in this litigation as I have previously been in reaching an agreement for the purchase of the A's. A further statement will be made after receiving a full opinion from my Philadelphia lawyers. Prompt action will follow such opinion."

Campy Undergoes Second Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella underwent surgery on his left hand Wednesday with high hopes the operation would restore the devastating batting power that was reduced to a minimum this past season.

The stocky Brooklyn Dodger catcher, undergoing his second operation in less than six months, was under the knife for four hours as doctors first had to remove stubborn scar tissues before the actual operation.

The first operation was performed last May for the removal of bone chips caused by an injury in spring training. After a four-week layoff, Campanella returned to action but his effectiveness both at bat and behind the plate had been considerably reduced.

The second surgery, which released adhesions that had captivated the ulnar nerve causing partial paralysis, was performed by neuro-surgeon Dr. Samuel Schenkman with Dr. Lyndon Hill assisting.

Candidates For Queen

Arizona's Luppino On Way To Greatest Scoring Season Ever

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Luppino, hunky Arizona sophomore, the nation's leading major college ball carrier, is on his way to one of the greatest scoring seasons of all time, official NCAA Service Bureau statistics revealed Wednesday.

Luppino already has scored 79 points in only four games. With still six more games to go, the tailback from La Jolla, Calif., has an excellent chance to take his place among the top 10 scorers of all time in major competition. He also has a chance for the all-time touchdown record.

Luppino has scored 12 touchdowns and has added 7 extra points. He owns a 27-point lead over runner-up Rusty Fairly of Denver, who has 7 touchdowns and 10 extra points for 52 points. Last year's winner, incidentally, scored only 81 points.

If Luppino maintains his present pace—he's averaging 19.8 points a game—he'll wind up tied with Jim Thorpe for the all-time second place. He scored 22 last Saturday.

Three players are tied for third with 48 points. They are Jon Arnett, USC; Allen Muirhead, Mississippi and Joe Miller, Cincinnati. Four others, Colorado's John Bayuk, Princeton's Royce Flippin, UCLA's Bob Davenport and Oregon's Dick James are tied for sixth with 42 points. Joe Terrasi of Boston University rounds out the top 10 with 39 points.

Luppino's scoring is the product of tremendous yardage. He has accumulated 607 yards on the ground 356 yards on nine kick-off returns and an overall 1,087 yards including runbacks. He leads the country in each of these categories.

George Marinkov of North Carolina State is second in the kick-off department with 267 yards. Arizona State's Dick Mackey is third with 207, Villanova's Al Ciarrochi is fourth with 203 and Drake's Gene Hendrix is fifth with 194.

There are other department leaders besides Luppino. Jim Hanifan of California caught seven passes Saturday to wrest the pass receiving lead from Oregon's Dick James. Hanifan has caught 22 passes to James' 19. John Stewart of Stanford is third with 17 and Drake's Jerry Mertens and Columbia's George Seitz are tied for fourth with 16 apiece. Mertens is the yardage leader with 351.

Top one-day performance of the season was turned in by Dartmouth senior Dick Flagg, who caught 11 passes against Colgate. He had caught only two before that. The best one-team combination of receivers is Hanifan and Jim Carmichael of California. They've caught 34.

A's Contest In 9th Frame

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics franchise contest was in the ninth inning Wednesday with American League President Will Harridge apparently at bat.

Arthur Rosenberg, spokesman for a group of nine Philadelphia businessmen who combined capital to buy the franchise, said Roy Mack had been asked to contact Harridge immediately concerning league approval of the sale.

Rosenberg indicated that all the legal technicalities with regard to the sale of the A's to the Philadelphia syndicate have been ironed out over the conference table in the last two days, but that from here on in, the nine would-be owners will bide their time until Harridge announced league approval of the deal.

Earl Hilligan, league public relations director, said Tuesday that Harridge was waiting for complete details of the transaction before taking any action. Presumably Roy Mack, present executive vice president of the A's and leader of the fight to keep the club here, has those details to give Harridge.

Future Bright

Nebraska's football squad may get some help next fall from returning Servicemen, according to Bill Glassford.

Expected back in time for next season are George Cifra of Turtle Creek, Pa., a bruising fullback with two years eligibility remaining; Dick Reese, Omaha center who has played Service ball for three seasons; and Bill Thayer, Rapid City, S.D., halfback.

Liska Looks Again, Likes Wisconsin Over Ohio State

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The old Midwest Swami, who missed on Northwestern and Indiana last weekend on bad breaks, cautiously conjures for the coming Saturday:

WISCONSIN 19, OHIO STATE 14—This looms a blue chip showdown for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid. The Buckeyes can match Wisconsin's Alan (The Horse) Ameche, with Bobby Watkins and Howie Cassady, but the Badgers have a passing edge. The unsung guys in front can settle this one as the Big Ten's two best lines lock horns.

MINNESOTA 21, MICHIGAN 7—The Little Brown Jug battle finds the unbeaten Gophers a visiting favorite for the first time since the Bernie Bierman era. Murray Warmath has done a brilliant job of waking the sleeping giants of the Northland. Michigan "lucked" to a 7-0 victory over Northwestern, trimmed earlier by Minnesota, 26-7. The game is at Ann Arbor which may extend the Gophers, who scored three of their four victories at home.

IOWA 20, INDIANA 7 — The Hawkeyes finished strong in their 20-14 loss to Ohio State. They'll be ready for the Hoosiers, who may prove stubborn hosts. Despite the loss to Missouri, Bernie Crimmins' Indiana team is no pushover.

PURDUE 14, MICHIGAN STATE 13—The Spartans can move that ball as they proved against Notre Dame, but Purdue still has a good line and Len Dawson. The Boilermakers just couldn't overcome penalties and Billy Lowe's record-tying 98-yard scoring run on an interception against Wisconsin. MSC should brush up on its place-kicking.

ILLINOIS 21, SYRACUSE 12—The Illini finally find somebody their own size and should win their first victory in five starts.

NORTHWESTERN 20, PITT 13—Despite Pitt's upset of Navy, we think Northwestern will prove too much a desperate Wildcat for the satisfied Panthers.

Probation For Spartans Ends

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Executive Council said Wednesday Michigan State College, placed on probation a year ago for holding tryout sessions for prospective athletes, has been removed from the probationary list and restored to all "the rights and privileges of an NCAA member."

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, issued a statement saying Michigan State has been "reprimanded for the tryouts of five prospective football players and was given probationary status Aug. 17, 1953, for the activities of the Spartan Foundation."

The Spartan Foundation is composed of Michigan State alumni.

Manslaughter Trial Of Actress Baggett Near End

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The trial of Blonde Actress Lynne Baggett on manslaughter and hit-run driving charges was in recess Wednesday to give attorneys time to prepare final arguments, to be presented Thursday.

Miss Baggett was the final witness before a jury in Superior Judge Mildred L. Lillie's court Tuesday. She told of "hours of nightmare" that followed the auto crash in which 9-year-old Joel Watnick was killed last July 7.

She testified she left the scene in a mental blackout and "got down on my knees and prayed—prayed that the little boy wasn't dead" when she finally got home.

'American' Is Liberia's President

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Vacanarat Shadrach Tubman bustled around town Wednesday, a fast moving reminder of a one-time American dream that never came true.

Tubman—"Cousin Shad" to his friends—is President of Liberia. He probably is the only elected head of a foreign state who descended from American stock on both sides of his family.

His father's folks left Augusta, Ga., in 1934. His mother emigrated from Atlanta in 1872.

They and those who went with them represented what was once thought to be a solution to one of this nation's toughest problems. For a time even Abraham Lincoln believed the answer to the Negro question was to send the Negroes back to Africa.

Relatively few went, but if Tubman is a fair sample of what happened, those who did made out all right.

Liberia's public relations counselors, Schaler, Butler & Associates, have been pouring out literature at what appears to be an unprecedented rate for the president's three-weeks visit to this country.

As a result, your correspondent now is in a position to discuss everything from a Liberian handshake (only the first two fingers and thumb are used) to how to make Susan muffins (easy, if you have a cup of grated eddo handy).

Liberia's history is particularly interesting since Americans, both white and black, have played such a part in its past.

In 1821 the American colonization society set up its first settlement. A year later Jehudi Ashmun was sent across to aid the infant colony. In 1824 he was joined by another white American, the Rev. Robert Gurley, who invented the word "Liberia."

The country now has around 2,500,000 people in an area roughly the size of Ohio. It produces rubber, iron ore, timber, piassava (a coarse brown fibre used in making mats and brushes), cocoa, palm kernels and seven varieties of poisonous snakes.

Oddly, it has a race problem of its own. The descendants of American slaves have become known as the "civilized" group; the tribesmen "uncivilized."

Tubman has tried to break down the barrier by traveling extensively in the back country and by taking the "uncivilized" leaders into his government.

As a politician, Tubman must be the envy of all office seekers. He has been President since 1943, and although his present term has two years to run, he already has been offered, and has accepted, the candidacy for a third term.

His supporters are quoted, too, in a way that make our own political statements seem pallid and half hearted.

Such as former President C.D.B. King, who said: "If you love President Tubman, keep his commandments."

Or Paramount Chief Gbassee Kparngba: "We want you to be President until you die."

Or Clan Chief Himie Langfor. "I am a true follower," he said, "of the spirit of Tubmanism."

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Three Workhorses Top Wesleyan Ball-Carriers

Three veteran backfield stars continued to dominate the Nebraska Wesleyan University statistical columns today.

Halfbacks Cliff Kahl and Bob Starr and Fullback Sanford Nelson have been the most potent forces in the strong Wesleyan offense with the timid scoring punch.

Kahl (50.0), Starr (45.0) and Nelson (42.3) are accounting for an average rushing gain of 137.3 yards per game between themselves. Each has scored a pair of touchdowns to account for all of the six-point efforts. And Nelson has been the team's top kicker, booting 30 times for a total of 1034 and a game average of 34.4.

The Plainsmen have a team rushing average of 160.6.

The Wesleyan defense which ranked fourth in the nation among smaller schools last week, continues to limit foes to 114.1 yards per game in the rushing department and is giving up an average of 38.3 through the air.

At the same time the Lincoln crew is averaging 196.6 yards per game in the total offense department, while foes are gaining an average of 152.5.

The Plainsmen have failed to score through the air and have completed only 17 of 66 passes. But opponents too have been able to hit on but 17 aerial efforts, although four of these have been taken in the end zone for touchdowns.

Ohio Prep Coach Admits Drug Given To Basketballers

ASHLAND, O. (AP) — For admittedly giving a drug to key players "to pep them up" before "important games," Cloyce E. Taylor was out of his job today as basketball coach at Ashland High School.

The 45-year-old Taylor, winner of 157 games against 33 losses in his nine years at Ashland, conceded to a board of education open meeting Tuesday he had engaged in the practice for several years.

The board asked for — and got —his resignation, despite Taylor's protest that he was being "railroaded."

Taylor told Board President Richard Bear the drug he gave a few starting players was called dexedrine sulphate. The drug, which comes in tablets, is defined as a central nervous system stimulant.

The board said boys they questioned who had taken the drug said it gave them a "high pitched" sensation.

Frosh Regular For Broncos

Larry Van Boening, although a freshman, is a mainstay in the strong Hastings College line and will boost Bronco hopes when Hastings collides with Peru Saturday in a game which may decide the NCC championship. Van Boening is from Grand Island. (Photo Special to The Star.)

Midland Eyes First Division With Wesleyan Tilt Upcoming

FREMONT—Don Starmer, Midland freshman who starred last year for Fremont High School, leads the Warrior football team in rushing to date with 144 yards. He has carried 22 times.

Don Winter has picked up 113 yards in 28 carries to capture the second spot in rushing.

Quarterback Ronnie Donahue, another ex-Fremont ace, has passed for 256 yards with 15 completions in 33 tries. Harold Hawkins, substitute signal caller, has hit seven of 22 passes for 89 yards.

Woody Greeno's squad squares off against Nebraska Wesleyan in a homecoming tilt at Midland Saturday afternoon. Game time is 2 p.m. The Warriors will be battling for a first division berth in the Nebraska College Conference after taking two wallopings from Hastings and Peru the last two weeks.

Midland now is tied with Doane for fourth place in the NCC.

In their long series, Wesleyan holds a big edge, having won 19 while losing seven to Midland. Five games have been tied. Last year Midland won, 19-13.

Extra Points Save Three Top Ten Football Teams

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three teams in the college football top ten this week possibly are there because an official's arms went up like this () instead of waving back and forth horizontally like this - - on each point attempts.

UCLA, Notre Dame and Arkansas, Nos. 3, 6 and 7, respectively in the select list, all escaped ties because they had guys who could split the uprights, make a perfect placement, or whatever a fellow does when he placekicks the extra point. We forgot to say calmly. He's always calm, isn't he?

Anyway, a tie, or even a defeat if it's a team with the awesome reputation of Notre Dame, doesn't necessarily keep a team out of the top ten at this stage of the season, but the voters would be less than human if they weren't influenced to some degree by a stalemate.

Notre Dame, for instance, has remained up there despite a quite convincing whomping at the hands of a subsequently deflated Purdue eleven. It hardly is probable the voters would have overlooked both a defeat and a tie, which the Irish would have got with Michigan State were it not for greater success in tries for points after touchdowns. It is interesting to note that Purdue, with a defeat and a tie now on its record, dropped to 13th place.

UCLA came through with a one-point victory over Washington, 21-20, and Arkansas escaped a tie with Baylor by the same margin.

Incidentally, no teams which have been tied are in the top ten, although Army, which has joined the select group, is in the same category as Notre Dame, with a defeat marring its record.

Security Story Lid Stays On

Inside Report Won't Come Until Vote Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — An inside story of how the government's security-loyalty program has been handled probably will not become available to the public until after the elections.

The report, from the Civil Service Commission, is to tell in considerable detail how various phases of the program have applied to individuals. It was asked by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee as a basis for hearings that could lead to a new law.

However, chairman Rees (R-Kan) of the committee said Wednesday at Emporia, Kan., that he did not plan to make the report public immediately upon its receipt. He said:

"Not knowing the exact contents of the report, I do not propose to release it until I have had an opportunity to review it. Also, before it can be released it must be printed and in the hands of members of our committee.

"Just the mechanics of getting these things done will mean that it will be some time after the report is received before it could be released."

Wants Detailed Law

Rees favors administering the federal employe security program through a detailed law, rather than president handled by the executive branch of the government.

For one thing, he would have the law clearly define differences between subversives and other types of security risks, such as employees who drink too much. Rees also would have the law require that borderline cases be resolved in favor of the government rather than the employe.

The security program has been argued vigorously during the congressional election campaigns, with Republican claims of success in ridding the government of risks being challenged as phony by the Democrats.

On Oct. 11 the Civil Service Commission reported, giving no names, that there had been 6,926 separations from the government payroll in the last nine months under the security program. It said that the total of firings and resignations under it included 1,743 persons with subversive information in their files.

Manslaughter Trial Of Actress Baggett Near End

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The trial of Blonde Actress Lynne Baggett on manslaughter and hit-run driving charges was in recess Wednesday to give attorneys time to prepare final arguments, to be presented Thursday.

Miss Baggett was the final witness before a jury in Superior Judge Mildred L. Lillie's court Tuesday. She told of "hours of nightmare" that followed the auto crash in which 9-year-old Joel Watnick was killed last July 7.

She testified she left the scene in a mental blackout and "got down on my knees and prayed—prayed that the little boy wasn't dead" when she finally got home.

'American' Is Liberia's President

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Vacanarat Shadrach Tubman bustled around town Wednesday, a fast moving reminder of a one-time American dream that never came true.

Tubman—"Cousin Shad" to his friends—is President of Liberia. He probably is the only elected head of a foreign state who descended from American stock on both sides of his family.

His father's folks left Augusta, Ga., in 1934. His mother emigrated from Atlanta in 1872.

They and those who went with them represented what was once thought to be a solution to one of this nation's toughest problems. For a time even Abraham Lincoln believed the answer to the Negro question was to send the Negroes back to Africa.

Relatively few went, but if Tubman is a fair sample of what happened, those who did made out all right.

Liberia's public relations counselors, Schaler, Butler & Associates, have been pouring out literature at what appears to be an unprecedented rate for the president's three-weeks visit to this country.

As a result, your correspondent now is in a position to discuss everything from a Liberian handshake (only the first two fingers and thumb are used) to how to make Susan muffins (easy, if you have a cup of grated eddo handy).

Liberia's history is particularly interesting since Americans, both white and black, have played such a part in its past.

In 1821 the American colonization society set up its first settlement. A year later Jehudi Ashmun was sent across to aid the infant colony. In 1824 he was joined by another white American, the Rev. Robert Gurley, who invented the word "Liberia."

The country now has around 2,500,000 people in an area roughly the size of Ohio. It produces rubber, iron ore, timber, piassava (a coarse brown fibre used in making mats and brushes), cocoa, palm kernels and seven varieties of poisonous snakes.

Oddly, it has a race problem of its own. The descendants of American slaves have become known as the "civilized" group; the tribesmen "uncivilized."

Tubman has tried to break down the barrier by traveling extensively in the back country and by taking the "uncivilized" leaders into his government.

As a politician, Tubman must be the envy of all office seekers. He has been President since 1943, and although his present term has two years to run, he already has been offered, and has accepted, the candidacy for a third term.

His supporters are quoted, too, in a way that make our own political statements seem pallid and half hearted.

Such as former President C.D.B. King, who said: "If you love President Tubman, keep his commandments."

Or Paramount Chief Gbassee Kparngba: "We want you to be President until you die."

Or Clan Chief Himie Langfor. "I am a true follower," he said, "of the spirit of Tubmanism."

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Skelly Asks Complaint Dismissal

Skelly Oil Co. Wednesday asked the Railway Commission to dismiss a complaint filed Sept. 28 by five producers in the Barada field who charge that the Skelly company has been operating as a carrier for hire without authority from the commission.

The Skelly company asserts in its answer that it "is not now and has not been a common carrier engaged in business in Nebraska."

The complaint alleges that Skelly laid a pipeline from the Barada field to Falls City about 1940 and some time after that began transporting oil for hire for 12 cents a barrel, as well as transporting its own.

In denying this complaint, Skelly contends it is not subject to the Railway Commission's jurisdiction.

The complainants are Ahepa Oil Co., Mitchell Oil Co., Western Central Petroleums, Inc., J. E. Palensky and Sons, and Charles L. Hustead.

Canada Chief Of Staff To Visit U.S. For Week

Cheaper Target Devised By Navy

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy said Wednesday its scientists have devised a rocket-carried parachute to provide a low-cost substitute for drone planes as high-altitude targets for guided missiles.

The parachute has a diameter of 20 feet, and is packed into a small rocket which ejects the chute at the desired altitude.

The Navy said that the ceiling for the parachute target is secret, but indicated it is well over 40,000 feet.

Navy Sets Major Fleet Exercise

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy said Wednesday that 212 Atlantic fleet ships will engage in a major exercise, directed principally against "enemy submarines," from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20.

Marine ground and air units will join in the maneuvers in which the "enemy" subs will make simulated attacks on harbors, convoys and attempt to disrupt amphibious landings.

The exercise will include cold weather amphibious operation by the Marines at Hamilton Inlet, Labrador, for which the Canadian government has given permission.

The climax of the maneuvers will be amphibious assault landing by 20,000 Marines at Onslow Beach, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Security Story Lid Stays On

Inside Report Won't Come Until Vote Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — An inside story of how the government's security-loyalty program has been handled probably will not become available to the public until after the elections.

The report, from the Civil Service Commission, is to tell in considerable detail how various phases of the program have applied to individuals. It was asked by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee as a basis for hearings that could lead to a new law.

However, chairman Rees (R-Kan) of the committee said Wednesday at Emporia, Kan., that he did not plan to make the report public immediately upon its receipt. He said:

"Not knowing the exact contents of the report, I do not propose to release it until I have had an opportunity to review it. Also, before it can be released it must be printed and in the hands of members of our committee.

"Just the mechanics of getting these things done will mean that it will be some time after the report is received before it could be released."

Wants Detailed Law

Rees favors administering the federal employe security program through a detailed law, rather than present handled by the executive branch of the government.

For one thing, he would have the law clearly define differences between subversives and other types of security risks, such as employees who drink too much. Rees also would have the law require that borderline cases be resolved in favor of the government rather than the employe.

The security program has been argued vigorously during the congressional election campaigns, with Republican claims of success in ridding the government of risks being challenged as phony by the Democrats.

On Oct. 11 the Civil Service Commission reported, giving no names, that there had been 6,926 separations from the government payroll in the last nine months under the security program. It said that the total of firings and resignations under it included 1,743 persons with subversive information in their files.

Petersen Indicted For Getting Secrets To Harm U.S.

ALEXANDRIA (AP) — A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted Joseph S. Petersen Jr., on charges of obtaining defense secrets "with intent or reason to believe" they would be used to injure this country and aid another.

The tall, bespectacled former trusted employe of the supersecret National Security Agency answered the indictment with a firm "not guilty."

Continued at liberty under $10,000 bond, Petersen told reporters: "I plead not guilty and I am not guilty."

Netherlands Involved

The indictment did not mention the Netherlands, disclosed only Tuesday as the foreign country involved in the case.

U. S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan, before whom the three-count indictment was returned, did not set a date for Petersen's trial. The judge said he will hear arguments on defense motions next Tuesday and set the trial date after they are disposed of.

Petersen had waited around the courtroom for three days while the grand jury deliberated his case. The first count of the indictment alleged Petersen "did copy, make and obtain certain documents, writings and notes connected with the national defense, to wit: documents, writings and notes relating to communications intelligence."

Used To Hurt U. S.

He did this, the grand jury charged, "with intent or reason to believe" the information was to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation.

The second count said Petersen "knowingly and wilfully used in a manner prejudicial to the safety and interest of the United States classified information concerning the communications activities of the United States and of a foreign government."

The third count charged Petersen "did wilfully and unlawfully conceal and remove" certain documents.

10 Years

Each of the first two counts carries a penalty, upon conviction, of up to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. The maximum penalty for the third count is three years and $2,000.

The State Department said it has no reason to question the good faith of the Netherlands government's role in the case.

The Netherlands Embassy said its government had "exchanged" information with Petersen and "could not but assume" that continuation of an exchange started in World War II "was known to and authorized by superiors of Mr. Petersen."

Skelly Asks Complaint Dismissal

Skelly Oil Co. Wednesday asked the Railway Commission to dismiss a complaint filed Sept. 28 by five producers in the Barada field who charge that the Skelly company has been operating as a carrier for hire without authority from the commission.

The Skelly company asserts in its answer that it "is not now and has not been a common carrier engaged in business in Nebraska."

The complaint alleges that Skelly laid a pipeline from the Barada field to Falls City about 1940 and some time after that began transporting oil for hire for 12 cents a barrel, as well as transporting its own.

In denying this complaint, Skelly contends it is not subject to the Railway Commission's jurisdiction.

The complainants are Ahepa Oil Co., Mitchell Oil Co., Western Central Petroleums, Inc., J. E. Palensky and Sons, and Charles L. Hustead.

Canada Chief Of Staff To Visit U.S. For Week

Cheaper Target Devised By Navy

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy said Wednesday its scientists have devised a rocket-carried parachute to provide a low-cost substitute for drone planes as high-altitude targets for guided missiles.

The parachute has a diameter of 20 feet, and is packed into a small rocket which ejects the chute at the desired altitude.

The Navy said that the ceiling for the parachute target is secret, but indicated it is well over 40,000 feet.

Navy Sets Major Fleet Exercise

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy said Wednesday that 212 Atlantic fleet ships will engage in a major exercise, directed principally against "enemy submarines," from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20.

Marine ground and air units will join in the maneuvers in which the "enemy" subs will make simulated attacks on harbors, convoys and attempt to disrupt amphibious landings.

The exercise will include cold weather amphibious operation by the Marines at Hamilton Inlet, Labrador, for which the Canadian government has given permission.

The climax of the maneuvers will be amphibious assault landing by 20,000 Marines at Onslow Beach, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Eden Becomes Knight Of The Garter

Eden

"Arise, Sir Anthony," Elizabeth said.

The 15-minute surprise ceremony at Buckingham Palace delighted both Eden's colleagues in Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government and the opposition Laborites.

Seventh Commoner

A short time later Eden flew in a Royal Air Force transport plane to Paris for talks aimed to restore West Germany's sovereignty and add German units to the West's defenses.

Eden is only the seventh commoner to be made a Knight of the Garter since 1700. He and Churchill, knighted April 24, 1953, are the only living commoner members of the order.

The new honor brings Eden nothing substantial except the title of "Sir" and the right to walk ahead of plain ministers and knights of lesser rank on formal occasions. He also is entitled to a stall in St. George's chapel at Windsor, the order's religious home, and to hang his banner there. This is reminiscent of the days when knights wore armor and went forth with banners flying to battle for their sovereign.

The order was founded in 1348, so the story goes, because a dancing partner of King Edward III dropped a garter.

France, West Germany Discussing Plans For Joint Chamber Of Commerce

. . . Peaceful A-Energy Talked

PARIS (INS)—France and West Germany were understood to be planning creation of a joint supreme council to direct a sweeping economic expansion program, including development of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

Authoritative informants said the plan calls for inclusion of government, parliamentary and industrial leaders in the supreme council. The plan still under discussion would try to bury traditional French-German rivalries in the economic field, much as the London conference plan being worked out in Paris aims at ending old military fears and conflicts.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France was understood to have suggested the economic development scheme to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at a meeting Tuesday. A delegation of leading West German industrialists arrived in Paris to continue the talks. Mendes-France and Adenauer also resumed discussion Wednesday night on general economic problems which are related to a settlement of the Saar dispute.

The French proposals, it is understood, envisage the use of German capital and technicians for joint development of atomic energy projects, preferably in French North Africa.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, it was learned, at a recent meeting with Mendes-France urged the premier to propose the atomic energy program to Adenauer.

Under terms of the London agreement, West Germany is banned from producing atomic weapons, but may engage in nuclear research for peaceful purposes.

Meanwhile it was learned the Germans are extremely eager to see a Franco-German chamber of commerce set up.

The functions of such an organization until now have been carried out by a private organization, with limited scope.

The Germans also would like to get the French to permit them to appoint freely German trade agents for German firms in France, in return for similar rights granted the French.

Eden Becomes Knight Of The Garter

Eden

"Arise, Sir Anthony," Elizabeth said.

The 15-minute surprise ceremony at Buckingham Palace delighted both Eden's colleagues in Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government and the opposition Laborites.

Seventh Commoner

A short time later Eden flew in a Royal Air Force transport plane to Paris for talks aimed to restore West Germany's sovereignty and add German units to the West's defenses.

Eden is only the seventh commoner to be made a Knight of the Garter since 1700. He and Churchill, knighted April 24, 1953, are the only living commoner members of the order.

The new honor brings Eden nothing substantial except the title of "Sir" and the right to walk ahead of plain ministers and knights of lesser rank on formal occasions. He also is entitled to a stall in St. George's chapel at Windsor, the order's religious home, and to hang his banner there. This is reminiscent of the days when knights wore armor and went forth with banners flying to battle for their sovereign.

The order was founded in 1348, so the story goes, because a dancing partner of King Edward III dropped a garter.

18 NU Educators To Visit Grand Island High School

Eighteen staff members of the University of Nebraska's department of secondary education will visit the classrooms of the Grand Island High School Thursday to confer with teachers in an evaluation of the pre-service and in-service programs of teacher education.

Galen Saylor, chairman, said that the educators' primary purpose is "not to go to Grand Island as consultants, but rather as learners."

He said the members of the Teachers College staff will attempt to learn through discussions and conferences with Grand Island High School teachers "what they regard as the strengths and weaknesses of their pre-service and in-service programs of teacher education."

"From this visit," Saylor said, "we hope to obtain a clear understanding of any changes we should endeavor to make in our undergraduate program and give us some insight into any weaknesses that we have in our program, as well as things we are doing particularly well."

France, West Germany Discussing Plans For Joint Chamber Of Commerce

. . . Peaceful A-Energy Talked

PARIS (INS)—France and West Germany were understood to be planning creation of a joint supreme council to direct a sweeping economic expansion program, including development of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

Authoritative informants said the plan calls for inclusion of government, parliamentary and industrial leaders in the supreme council. The plan still under discussion would try to bury traditional French-German rivalries in the economic field, much as the London conference plan being worked out in Paris aims at ending old military fears and conflicts.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France was understood to have suggested the economic development scheme to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at a meeting Tuesday. A delegation of leading West German industrialists arrived in Paris to continue the talks. Mendes-France and Adenauer also resumed discussion Wednesday night on general economic problems which are related to a settlement of the Saar dispute.

The French proposals, it is understood, envisage the use of German capital and technicians for joint development of atomic energy projects, preferably in French North Africa.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, it was learned, at a recent meeting with Mendes-France urged the premier to propose the atomic energy program to Adenauer.

Under terms of the London agreement, West Germany is banned from producing atomic weapons, but may engage in nuclear research for peaceful purposes.

Meanwhile it was learned the Germans are extremely eager to see a Franco-German chamber of commerce set up.

The functions of such an organization until now have been carried out by a private organization, with limited scope.

The Germans also would like to get the French to permit them to appoint freely German trade agents for German firms in France, in return for similar rights granted the French.

18 NU Educators To Visit Grand Island High School

Eighteen staff members of the University of Nebraska's department of secondary education will visit the classrooms of the Grand Island High School Thursday to confer with teachers in an evaluation of the pre-service and in-service programs of teacher education.

Galen Saylor, chairman, said that the educators' primary purpose is "not to go to Grand Island as consultants, but rather as learners."

He said the members of the Teachers College staff will attempt to learn through discussions and conferences with Grand Island High School teachers "what they regard as the strengths and weaknesses of their pre-service and in-service programs of teacher education."

"From this visit," Saylor said, "we hope to obtain a clear understanding of any changes we should endeavor to make in our undergraduate program and give us some insight into any weaknesses that we have in our program, as well as things we are doing particularly well."

Plans Are Presented For Sprague Watershed Dam

Lancaster County commissioners are expected to take action next week on a proposed watershed dam near Sprague, plans for which were presented to the commissioners at its regular meeting.

The County Board received the plans for the conservation dam Tuesday as a tentative agreement between the county and the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District.

Directly concerned is the Linn Subdivision in the Upper Salt Watershed. The Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association has stipulated it would provide assistance as it becomes necessary.

The dam, 1,000 feet long and 40 feet high, would replace a county bridge over Linn Creek a mile east and a mile south of Sprague. The existing county road would be routed over the top of the dam when it's completed.

In the tentative approval, the county will assume responsibility for performing and financing normal operational maintenance. The county would not, however, be obliged to replace a structure that was severely damaged in a storm or that failed because of inadequacies.

Under the present tentative agreement, the county would have responsibility to dispose of the present bridge. Permission would have to be granted the Soil Conservation District for construction of the dam on the county road right-of-way and for placement of guard rails for the dam if found necessary.

The dam would be constructed by the Soil Conservation District.

Court Receives Appeal Papers

The Supreme Court Wednesday received the record of District Court proceedings in the appeal of the George Ewert Implement Co. of Columbus from its 1953 personal property assessment.

The company filed a personal property return for $71,000 in 1953.

After the State Board of equalization ordered a 25 per cent increase in assessments, the Platte County Board of Equalization raised the implement company's assessment $75,020, the petition alleges.

The district court found the county board had authority to make the increase, and the company appealed.

The county board made the increase in September, 1953.

City Charter Change Is Invoked; Tax Funds Invested In Federal Securities

The city will soon invoke another of the recent charter changes by investing tax funds now pouring into the city treasurer.

Under the amended city charter, authority is granted to invest current tax funds. The City Council has passed a resolution authorizing such investments in U.S. government securities.

Much of the city's tax collections come in during October and November. Since some of this money is not needed until later in the year it has previously been held by the treasurer and earned nothing.

Mayor Clark Jeary has estimated that the investments could net the city about $5,000 or more a year.

The Council also approved a resolution setting up an earned interest fund for proceeds from the investments. This fund will be divided up at the end of the year among the various departments where it will then be appropriated at the beginning of the new fiscal year as a balance on hand.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

We'll do all correct in international dib-dabs just as soon as we fit the action to the deed, the wish to the thought and the shoe to the bunion.

We have knocked off coups de grease and strokes of state in a monotonous string of victorious stalemates. But we never fit the label to the bottle.

We got a Mexican stand-off in Korea, made a Dutch book in Indochina and took French leave in Italian Trieste.

We walked Spanish in Egypt, we were Indian givers in Spain, talked Turkey in France and ost in Baden-Baden in Worsen-Worsen.

Our long views never did see what was around the corner. Our snap judgment lacked a bite.

Therefore, after mature ignorance and well-ripened judgment, we congratulate our man Dulles on the nine-power treaty. The committee reports progress and will sue.

Plans Are Presented For Sprague Watershed Dam

Lancaster County commissioners are expected to take action next week on a proposed watershed dam near Sprague, plans for which were presented to the commissioners at its regular meeting.

The County Board received the plans for the conservation dam Tuesday as a tentative agreement between the county and the Lancaster County Soil Conservation District.

Directly concerned is the Linn Subdivision in the Upper Salt Watershed. The Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association has stipulated it would provide assistance as it becomes necessary.

The dam, 1,000 feet long and 40 feet high, would replace a county bridge over Linn Creek a mile east and a mile south of Sprague. The existing county road would be routed over the top of the dam when it's completed.

In the tentative approval, the county will assume responsibility for performing and financing normal operational maintenance. The county would not, however, be obliged to replace a structure that was severely damaged in a storm or that failed because of inadequacies.

Under the present tentative agreement, the county would have responsibility to dispose of the present bridge. Permission would have to be granted the Soil Conservation District for construction of the dam on the county road right-of-way and for placement of guard rails for the dam if found necessary.

The dam would be constructed by the Soil Conservation District.

City Charter Change Is Invoked; Tax Funds Invested In Federal Securities

The city will soon invoke another of the recent charter changes by investing tax funds now pouring into the city treasurer.

Under the amended city charter, authority is granted to invest current tax funds. The City Council has passed a resolution authorizing such investments in U.S. government securities.

Much of the city's tax collections come in during October and November. Since some of this money is not needed until later in the year it has previously been held by the treasurer and earned nothing.

Mayor Clark Jeary has estimated that the investments could net the city about $5,000 or more a year.

The Council also approved a resolution setting up an earned interest fund for proceeds from the investments. This fund will be divided up at the end of the year among the various departments where it will then be appropriated at the beginning of the new fiscal year as a balance on hand.

Court Receives Appeal Papers

The Supreme Court Wednesday received the record of District Court proceedings in the appeal of the George Ewert Implement Co. of Columbus from its 1953 personal property assessment.

The company filed a personal property return for $71,000 in 1953.

After the State Board of equalization ordered a 25 per cent increase in assessments, the Platte County Board of Equalization raised the implement company's assessment $75,020, the petition alleges.

The district court found the county board had authority to make the increase, and the company appealed.

The county board made the increase in September, 1953.

Stocks Stage Rally, Best Gain In Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Share prices rallied as much as four points Wednesday as the stock market staged its best advance in more than a month.

Spirited bidding brought good-sized gains in the steel, motor, oil, rail, airline and television groups. A long list of specialities also posted sharp advances.

Helping the market along was a good quota of favorable earnings reports and dividend increases. Concern over the forthcoming election appeared to have been forgotten.

Brokers were inclined to attribute much of the market's strength to the recent advance in the railroad group.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.10 to $136.70, the best gain since Sept. 13. The rail component was up 70 cents to a new high for the year of $102.20. The industrials added $1.80 and the utilities 30 cents.

Bullish forces found additional comfort in the volume figure. Transactions totaled 2,380,000 shares against 1,900,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices also rose. In the plus column were American Republics, Colonial Airlines, Fairchild Camera, Hazeltine Corp., Humble Oil, Pittsburgh Metallurgical and St. Lawrence Corp. Volume was 640,000 share, the same as it was Tuesday.

Corporate and foreign dollar bonds were strong but U.S. Treasury issues dipped.

Feed Grain, Beans List Top Advances

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans advanced, feed grains held about steady and wheat and rye declined on the Board of Trade Wednesday. Losses in rye were fairly sharp.

The market reversed the pattern of earlier days this week, during which wheat advanced and soybeans and corn fell back under rather severe selling pressure.

Prices generally were higher at the start in all pits, wheat and rye scoring fair sized gains. It wasn't long, however, before buying power waned. These two cereals were at the day's lows at the finish.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1 cent lower; corn ⅛-⅝ higher; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher; rye 2⅛-3½ lower; soybeans 2 to 3 cents higher, and lard 10 cents lower to $1.10 a hundred pounds higher.

The big gain in lard came in the October future. This was the last day for trading in that month and there was quite a rush upon the part of previous short sellers to get out. Loose lard advanced ¼ to sell at 15½ cents a pound, best price since Sept. 20.

Failure of a single carload of soybeans to arrive on track at Chicago was a factor in the demnd for beans. Beans also were aided by a firmer tone in cash and oil and cash meal.

There appeared to be quite a bit of export demand stirring for soybeans. Denmark took 80,000 bushels. Export circles reported receiving inquiries from East Germany, Holland, Japan and Formosa. Portugal is scheduled to buy 350,000 bushels Oct. 26.

Corn started out lower. Cash dealers reported bookings of 63,000 bushels on a to-arrive basis overnight. However, there were no bookings reported during the day. Cash corn receipts were quite large at 158 cars but the market held up better than Tuesday, losing only 1 cent.

Wheat's slump appeared to be mainly a technical matter coming after its advance in the two previous sessions. A slight pick up in hedging pressure was reported.

The drop in rye was attributed to selling upon the part of those who have become discouraged at the failure of the long talked about business with West Germany to develop. Rye also was lower at Winnipeg.

Lincoln Chamber Backs All Constitutional Amendments

Lincoln's Chamber of Commerce directors have recommended the passage of all eight proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 2 ballot.

"The directors point out that backing the passage of these amendments does not commit the Chamber to supporting any legislation which might be proposed later under their permissive powers. We simply feel that it is in the best interests of Nebraska to modernize the constitution in this way, depending upon the Legislature and the checks and balances of citizen interest to see that the right course is followed thereafter," President John E. Curtiss explained.

Five of the proposed amendments deal with taxation. Four of these provide that the Legislature be permitted to prescribe standards and methods for determining equitable values for tangible property; to authorize appointment, rather than election, of county assessors and boards of equalization; to exempt household goods and personal effects from taxation; and to authorize appointment of a tax commission or commissioner.

Replacement Tax

The fifth provides that if ever either state sales tax or income tax, or a combination of both, is enacted, the state then shall be prohibited from levying any property tax for state purposes.

The other three amendments provide for the following:

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Stocks Stage Rally, Best Gain In Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Share prices rallied as much as four points Wednesday as the stock market staged its best advance in more than a month.

Spirited bidding brought good-sized gains in the steel, motor, oil, rail, airline and television groups. A long list of specialities also posted sharp advances.

Helping the market along was a good quota of favorable earnings reports and dividend increases. Concern over the forthcoming election appeared to have been forgotten.

Brokers were inclined to attribute much of the market's strength to the recent advance in the railroad group.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.10 to $136.70, the best gain since Sept. 13. The rail component was up 70 cents to a new high for the year of $102.20. The industrials added $1.80 and the utilities 30 cents.

Bullish forces found additional comfort in the volume figure. Transactions totaled 2,380,000 shares against 1,900,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices also rose. In the plus column were American Republics, Colonial Airlines, Fairchild Camera, Hazeltine Corp., Humble Oil, Pittsburgh Metallurgical and St. Lawrence Corp. Volume was 640,000 share, the same as it was Tuesday.

Corporate and foreign dollar bonds were strong but U.S. Treasury issues dipped.

Feed Grain, Beans List Top Advances

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans advanced, feed grains held about steady and wheat and rye declined on the Board of Trade Wednesday. Losses in rye were fairly sharp.

The market reversed the pattern of earlier days this week, during which wheat advanced and soybeans and corn fell back under rather severe selling pressure.

Prices generally were higher at the start in all pits, wheat and rye scoring fair sized gains. It wasn't long, however, before buying power waned. These two cereals were at the day's lows at the finish.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1 cent lower; corn 1¼-⅝ higher; oats unchanged to ⅝ higher; rye 2¾-3½ lower; soybeans 2 to 3 cents higher, and lard 10 cents lower to $1.10 a hundred pounds higher.

The big gain in lard came in the October future. This was the last day for trading in that month and there was quite a rush upon the part of previous short sellers to get out. Loose lard advanced ¼ to sell at 15½ cents a pound, best price since Sept. 20.

Failure of a single carload of soybeans to arrive on track at Chicago was a factor in the demnd for beans. Beans also were aided by a firmer tone in cash and oil and cash meal.

There appeared to be quite a bit of export demand stirring for soybeans. Denmark took 80,000 bushels. Export circles reported receiving inquiries from East Germany, Holland, Japan and Formosa. Portugal is scheduled to buy 350,000 bushels Oct. 26.

Corn started out lower. Cash dealers reported bookings of 63,000 bushels on a to-arrive basis, overnight. However, there were no bookings reported during the day. Cash corn receipts were quite large at 158 cars but the market held up better than Tuesday, losing only 1 cent.

Wheat's slump appeared to be mainly a technical matter coming after its advance in the two previous sessions. A slight pick up in hedging pressure was reported.

The drop in rye was attributed to selling upon the part of those who have become discouraged at the failure of the long talked about business with West Germany to develop. Rye also was lower at Winnipeg.

c. the existing traveled roadway at the corner in question where there is no curb or pavement, on property at any corner formed by intersecting streets, within that triangular area between the property line and a diagonal line joining points on the property lines 25 feet from the point of intersection in the case of streets having a width of more than sixty feet, and 30 feet from the point of intersection in case of streets having a width of sixty feet or less, or in the case of rounded corners, the triangular area between the tangents to the curve and a diagonal line joining points of tangents on streets more than sixty feet in width shall be twenty-five feet from the point of their intersection, and on streets sixty feet or less in width, thirty feet from the point of their intersection. The tangents referred to are those at the beginning and at the end of the curve at the corner. Any obstruction maintained or existing in violation of this ordinance shall be deemed a public nuisance.

Section 2. EXCEPTIONS. The foregoing provision shall not apply to permanent buildings, public utility poles, young saplings or trees trimmed to the trunk so as to permit unobstructed cross visibility to a line at least six feet above the level of the reference point as defined in Section 1 hereof, official traffic signs as defined by Ordinance No. 5699, and amendments thereto, or to places where the contour of the ground is such that there can be no cross-visibility at the intersection.

Section 3. ENFORCEMENT. The enforcement of this ordinance shall be under the direction of the Director of Public Welfare and Safety. Whenever the Chief of Police shall receive knowledge that an obstruction exists on property at any corner formed by intersecting streets, which in his opinion constitutes a violation of this ordinance, he shall make complete and detailed report thereof to the Director of Public Welfare and Safety, with his recommendations thereon. Upon review of said report and recommendations, the Director of Public Welfare and Safety shall, if he concurs in such report and recommendations, forthwith report said condition to the City Council with his recommendation that said obstruction be declared a public nuisance and that the same be abated; or, he shall notify the Chief of Police, in writing, that no abatement is necessary.

Section 4. NOTICE TO REMOVE. In the event the Director of Public Welfare and Safety reports such obstruction to the City Council, upon receipt of such report the City Council shall fix a day upon which said report shall be considered and direct the Chief of Police to give the owner of the premises upon which the obstruction exists not less than five days notice, in writing, to appear at said hearing, to show cause, if any he has, why said obstruction should not be removed and the nuisance abated; provided, that if written notice cannot be personally served upon said owner, then the same shall be published once in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city, not less than five days prior to said hearing. In addition thereto a sign shall be posted in the sidewalk space adjacent to the premises in question, stating that said obstruction is deemed a public nuisance and should be removed, and that a hearing thereon will be had before the City Council. If at said hearing the City Council shall adopt the written report of the Director of Public Welfare and Safety and declare such obstruction to be a public nuisance, it shall, by resolution, direct that the same be removed or abated by the owner and shall fix a time within which said removal or abatement shall be completed. Notice of the findings of the City Council with respect thereto and of the time within which said nuisance shall be removed or abated shall be served upon said owner forthwith by the Chief of Police or a police officer designated by said Chief by delivering a certified copy of said resolution to said owner in person, or if personal service cannot be had, by publication of a notice for five consecutive days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city.

Section 5. REMOVAL AND ASSESSMENT OF COST. In the event such owner shall fail or refuse to comply with the direction of the City Council for the removal or abatement of said nuisance as hereinbefore provided, then and in that event at the expiration of the date so fixed, the City Council may direct the Director of Public Welfare and Safety to cause the removal or abatement of said public nuisance, either by day labor or contract at the expense and cost of such owner. The cost and expense of removal or abatement of said nuisance shall be determined and equalized at a regular meeting of the city council by resolution, and assessed as a special assessment against the real estate upon which nuisance existed. Notice of the time and purpose of such meeting of the city council for the making of such assessment shall be published once in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the city at least five days before said meeting of the Council is held, or in lieu thereof notice may be given such owner by personal service not less than five days before such meeting.

Section 6. COLLECTION. Such assessment, when assessed as provided in the preceding sections of this ordinance, shall be certified by the City Clerk and delivered to the city treasurer and shall be collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of general real estate taxes. Such assessment shall be a lien upon such real estate from the date of assessment, shall be due immediately upon being certified to the city treasurer, and shall become delinquent December first after the date of assessment, and shall draw interest at the rate of one per cent per month from date of delinquency until paid. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer to collect said tax in the same manner and at the same time as general taxes, and the items of said tax shall be receipted for on the same receipt blanks as general real estate taxes.

Section 7. PENALTY. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00 and shall stand committed to the city jail until such fine and costs of prosecution are paid. Each day that a violation of this ordinance continues shall constitute a separate and distinct offense and shall be punishable as such. The penalty herein provided shall be cumulative with and in addition to the removal or abatement of the nuisance as in this ordinance provided.

Section 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Ordinance No. 5887

AN ORDINANCE providing for the protection and preservation of the public welfare and safety by regulating the planting, installing, placing, maintaining and existence of trees, shrubbery, hedges, plantings, natural growth, signs or other obstructions on the property at any corner formed by intersecting streets; declaring such obstructions to be a public nuisance and providing for the removal or abatement thereof; providing that upon failure of the owner of said lot to remove or abate such nuisance the City Council may, after due notice, cause same to be removed and assess the cost thereof against said lot as a special assessment; and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this ordinance.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Section 1. OBSTRUCTIONS. In order to protect and preserve the public welfare and safety, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, to install, plant, place, set out or maintain, or to allow to be installed, planted, placed, set out or maintained, or to permit to exist any hedge, shrubbery, natural growth, sign or other obstruction to the view which is higher than two feet six inches above either:

a. the top of the curb return at the applicable corner of the intersection, or

b. the nearest pavement surface, where there is no curb, or

c. the existing traveled roadway at the corner in question where there is no curb or pavement,

on property at any corner formed by intersecting streets, within that triangular area between the property line and a diagonal line joining points on the property lines 25 feet from the point of intersection in the case of streets having a width of more than sixty feet, and 30 feet from the point of intersection in case of streets having a width of sixty feet or less, or in the case of rounded corners, the triangular area between the tangents to the curve and a diagonal line joining points of tangents on streets more than sixty feet in width shall be twenty-five feet from the point of their intersection, and on streets sixty feet or less in width, thirty feet from the point of their intersection. The tangents referred to are those at the beginning and at the end of the curve at the corner. Any obstruction maintained or existing in violation of this ordinance shall be deemed a public nuisance.

Section 2. EXCEPTIONS. The foregoing provision shall not apply to permanent buildings, public utility poles, young saplings or trees trimmed to the trunk so as to permit unobstructed cross visibility to a line at least six feet above the level of the reference point as defined in Section 1 hereof, official traffic signs as defined by Ordinance No. 5699, and amendments thereto, or to places where the contour of the ground is such that there can be no cross-visibility at the intersection.

Section 3. ENFORCEMENT. The enforcement of this ordinance shall be under the direction of the Director of Public Welfare and Safety. Whenever the Chief of Police shall receive knowledge that an obstruction exists on property at any corner formed by intersecting streets, which in his opinion constitutes a violation of this ordinance, he shall make complete and detailed report thereof to the Director of Public Welfare and Safety, with his recommendations thereon. Upon review of said report and recommendations, the Director of Public Welfare and Safety shall, if he concurs in such report and recommendations, forthwith report said condition to the City Council with his recommendation that said obstruction be declared a public nuisance and that the same be abated; or he shall notify the Chief of Police, in writing, that no abatement is necessary.

Section 4. NOTICE TO REMOVE. In the event the Director of Public Welfare and Safety reports such obstruction to the City Council, upon receipt of such report the City Council shall fix a day upon which said report shall be considered and direct the Chief of Police to give the owner of the premises upon which the obstruction exists not less than five days notice, in writing, to appear at said hearing, to show cause, if any he has, why said obstruction should not be removed and the nuisance abated; provided, that if written notice cannot be personally served upon said owner, then the same shall be published once in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city, not less than five days prior to said hearing. In addition thereto a sign shall be posted in the sidewalk space adjacent to the premises in question, stating that said obstruction is deemed a public nuisance and should be removed, and that a hearing thereon will be had before the City Council. If at said hearing the City Council shall adopt the written report of the Director of Public Welfare and Safety and declare such obstruction to be a public nuisance, it shall, by resolution, direct that the same be removed or abated by the owner and shall fix a time within which said removal or abatement shall be completed. Notice of the findings of the City Council with respect thereto and of the time within which said nuisance shall be removed or abated shall be served upon said owner forthwith by the Chief of Police or a police officer designated by said Chief by delivering a certified copy of said resolution to said owner in person, or if personal service cannot be had, by publication of a notice for five consecutive days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city.

Section 5. REMOVAL AND ASSESSMENT OF COST. In the event such owner shall fail or refuse to comply with the direction of the City Council for the removal or abatement of said nuisance as hereinbefore provided, then and in that event at the expiration of the date so fixed, the City Council may direct the Director of Public Welfare and Safety to cause the removal or abatement of said public nuisance, either by day labor or contract at the expense and cost of such owner. The cost and expense of removal or abatement of said nuisance shall be determined and equalized at a regular meeting of the city council by resolution, and assessed as a special assessment against the real estate upon which nuisance existed. Notice of the time and purpose of such meeting of the city council for the making of such assessment shall be published once in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the city at least five days before said meeting of the Council is held, or in lieu thereof notice may be given such owner by personal service not less than five days before such meeting.

Section 6. COLLECTION. Such assessment, when assessed as provided in the preceding sections of this ordinance, shall be certified by the City Clerk and delivered to the city treasurer and shall be collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of general real estate taxes. Such assessment shall be a lien upon such real estate from the date of assessment, shall be due immediately upon being certified to the city treasurer, and shall become delinquent December first after the date of assessment, and shall draw interest at the rate of one per cent per month from date of delinquency until paid. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer to collect said tax in the same manner and at the same time as general taxes, and the items of said tax shall be receipted for on the same receipt blanks as general real estate taxes.

Section 7. PENALTY. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00 and shall stand committed to the city jail until such fine and costs of prosecution are paid. Each day that a violation of this ordinance continues shall constitute a separate and distinct offense and shall be punishable as such. The penalty herein provided shall be cumulative with and in addition to the removal or abatement of the nuisance as in this ordinance provided.

Section 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.
